Eisenhower, Macmillan Open Talks

Leaders Visit Dulles In Hospital, Then Go To Camp David, Md.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Macmillan began their important talks on Berlin and German problems during a visit today with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles at Walter Reed Army Hospital.

The two leaders and British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd paid a call on the ailing Dulles en route to Camp David in the Maryland mountains where the talks will start in earnest later in the day.

The White House said the visit with Dulles was more than a courtesy call. Presidential Press Secretary James Hagerty said he assumed the half hour or so stop at Walter Reed involved "some preliminary discussions" of the desire for a firm Allied stand in the Berlin crisis.

At the rustic retreat in the Catoctin Mountains, about 65 miles from Washington, Eisenhower and Macmillan will plunge into detailed discussions which will keep them occupied through Sunday. Final talks probably will be held at the White House on Monday.

Working with each man were four advisers, including Acting Secretary of State Christian Herter and British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd.

During the conferences, they will seek to reconcile conflicting views and develop a unified allied viewpoint for negotiating with the U.S.S.R.

Macmillan, arriving from Ottawa, called for the development of "common policies that combine firmness and reasonableness."

Among the chief Allied leaders — Macmillan, Eisenhower, German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and French President Charles de Gaulle—there was no evidence of any disagreement on the need for firmness in facing up to the Soviet challenger over Berlin. The governments of all four have proclaimed their intention to preserve their rights and their access to West Berlin under the threat of Communist blockade and the danger of war.

The split among the Allies appears to be caused rather by the question of what constitutes "reasonableness" in the preparation of proposals which they may present to the Soviet Union in a foreign ministers meeting in May.

One of the points at issue is a possibility of following up the foreign ministers session with a summit conference.

City Motorist Fined, Jailed

Highway Patrol Files Drunk Driving Case

James H. Martin, 62, of 1108 Riverview St. was fined $300 and costs, sentenced to 10 days in jail and his operator's permit was suspended for 6 months when he pleaded guilty today in Municipal Court on a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol.

Martin was arrested at 2:55 this morning on Route 30 by the State Highway Patrol. Although he pleaded guilty, he told Judge George L. Brokaw he had consumed only "a few beers."

Meanwhile, William T. Young, 59, of Box 12, Hammondsville, was fined $10 and costs when he pleaded guilty to ignoring a red light that had been switched on this morning on W. 8th St. to permit youngsters to use a crosswalk to Westgate School. Young was cited at 8:05, police said.

A hearing is scheduled March 31 at 10 a. m. for Robert G. Spratley, 807 McKinnon Ave. He was cited March 11 by the State Highway Patrol on a charge of driving left of center on St. Clair Ave. Ext.

Susan Kay Long, an eighth-grade student at Daw Junior High School, outlasted 42 other students to become "City Champion" of Wellsville public schools in a spelldown Thursday afternoon at MacDonald School.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Long, 1906 Nevada St.

The youngsters are looking over their awards above.

Senate-House Hit Balanced Budget Hopes

Monetary Fund And Airport Aid Actions Upset Ike's Plans

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower was experiencing a series of budgetary ups and downs on Capitol Hill today, with more bumps in the immediate offing.

In separate actions, the Senate and the House Thursday further upset the President's program for a balanced budget for the fiscal year starting next July 1.

The House, by roll-call vote of 262-134, passed a 297-million-dollar four-year airport aid program which exceeded the President's recommendations by 97 millions.

Concurrently, the Senate voted to charge against the new budget $1,375,000,000 of new United States subscriptions to the International Monetary Fund. The President had counted on charging this item against this year's budget, already heavily unbalanced, instead of against the 1960 ledger.

By counting on higher gasoline taxes, postal rates and other tax gains which Congress appears to be shunning, Eisenhower had submitted a 1960 budget precariously balanced at about 77 billion dollars. He has repeatedly urged Congress to keep spending down to that figure.

But the Senate, which also has passed a housing bill far exceeding Eisenhower's estimates, is debating a 389½-million-dollar bill for area redevelopment, compared with a 53-million-dollar program Eisenhower asked.

The airport bill goes to a Senate-House conference committee for adjustment of differences between measures passed by the two chambers.

Ex-Officer Gets Delay In Bid For New Trial

Judge Joel H. Sharp Thursday granted a postponement of a hearing on a motion for a new trial for Ira Cunningham, former city policeman convicted March 11 of attempting to bribe a prospective juror. The hearing was to have been held at Lisbon yesterday.

Judge Sharp rescheduled the hearing for Monday at the request of Atty. Hugo Alexander of Steubenville, counsel for the ex-officer who reported he was at a Jefferson County court case.

Cunningham, convicted last year of a hardware story burglary, was found guilty of offering to make up the difference in jury pay and the salary of a city drugstore clerk who had been called as a juror in the burglary trial.

Firm To Begin Work Monday On Water Job

Relay Station Will Be Erected On Laura At Cost Of $38,530

The Bigler Construction Co. of Trafford, Pa., contractor, is scheduled to start work Monday on the first phase of a new water department relay station that will be erected on Laura Ave. at a total cost of $38,530.

Bigler's contract for the station proper is $32,886. The Firestone Electric Co. of Salem holds a $5,644 contract for electrical work.

The new pumping station, a small brick structure sitting atop an 8 - foot reinforced concrete "well," will be used to relay water from the low service reservoir on Thompson Ave. to the high service reservoir on Huston Ave. In the new arrangement, the department also will be able to relay water from the Huston Ave. reservoir to the twin standpipes on Henry Ave. via the existing booster station in Beechwood.

Mains already are in place from the Thompson Ave. reservoir to the relay station site and from that point to the high service reservoir. That's because a similar relay station stood on the same site many years ago. Bigler will install new valves on the mains and relocate the lines near the site of the booster station in order to connect them with the pumps.

Contracts for the work were awarded by the Board of Public Utilities, which administers the water department. The general contractor indicated the relay station building will be erected under a sub-contract with a local concern. Bigler, however, will build the 8-foot-deep "well" of reinforced concrete into which water will flow from one reservoir to be pumped out to the other basin.

Shifts in the city's population made the relay station necessary. When the water system originally was built, the biggest drain was out of the low service reservoir to customers in the downtown area. The low service basin has a capacity about 2½ times that of the high service reservoir.

In recent years, changes in the population have thrown the heaviest drain onto the high service reservoir and the Henry Ave. standpipes, which serve North Side, Maplewood, Pleasant Heights and other fast - growing residential areas.

The project is scheduled for completion in 120 days. Bigler has moved in a clamshell power shovel, pipe and other equipment, preparing to begin excavation Monday morning.

SUB Will Go Into Effect On June 19

DiSalle Signs Law For Benefits Without Jobless Deductions

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—In 90 days, Ohio's jobless workers can start collecting supplemental unemployment benefits (SUB) without those payments being deducted from state jobless compensation.

That's what the State Supreme Court said couldn't be done under previously existing statutes.

The SUB law will go into effect June 19, unless, in the meantime, foes carry through a threat to put it to a vote of the people.

Gov. Michael V. DiSalle signed the law Thursday a few hours after the Legislature completed action on the measure and adjourned for the weekend.

The bill lacks an emergency clause to make it effective upon the governor's signature. Hence the 90-day wait.

DiSalle acted even though the law's release of 25 million dollars in back SUB payments admittedly might violate the Ohio constitution.

In a prepared statement, DiSalle said of the law:

"Under its provisions, labor and management may legally bargain and enter freely into contracts providing for the payment of funds specifically set aside for the unfortunate eventuality of unemployment.

"This money is a trust provided by labor and again leads to a solution of problems without the interference of government. Actions of this kind must be encouraged. . .

"Although the question of the possible unconstitutionality of the retroactive provision of the bill has been raised, this question . . . is not one that the chief executive must necessarily consider in the approval of the legislation.

"The savings clause of the act would still make effective the legality of the affected contracts, even though the one provision might be deemed to be questionable. It is with all these considerations in mind that I affix my signature to this long-delayed measure."

Election Board Extends Hours For Registration

Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk of the Columbiana County Election Board, issued a reminder today that the board's office on W. 6th St., opposite City Hall, will be open on a continuous 12 - hour schedule next week for the last three days of a registration campaign for the May primaries.

To give unqualified voters every opportunity to register, the board's office will be open from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. Monday through Wednesday, O'Hanlon said. The office staff's lunch and dinner hours will be staggered in order to keep the doors open continuously, he explained. O'Hanlon said he expects the usual last-minute rush.

The city's registration total stands today at 10,423. The board has signed 59 electors since Jan. 1, but the names off 11 have been removed because of death, leaving a net gain of 48.

MOTHER, CHILDREN FREED. Mrs. Elma Baldwin, 29, telephones her husband from State Police headquarters in Logan, W. Va. after she and her three children were rescued from ex-convict Richard Payne. The children, left to right, are Richard, 7; Kenneth, 10, and Susan, 5. They were kidnapped Wednesday from their home in South Charleston by Payne who offered to barter their lives in exchange for surrender of a former prison cellmate. He was captured when Mrs. Baldwin grabbed the steering wheel and slammed on the brakes as Payne turned to fire at pursuing officers. (UPI Telephoto)

'Horrible Experience,' Woman Says

Abductor Shot Twice At Troopers' Auto Before Surrendering

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP) — Mrs. Elma Baldwin and her three youngsters were back in their bungalow today, unharmed but exhausted. Their kidnaper was back behind bars just eight days after he got out of prison.

Sallow, heavy-lidded Richard Arlen Payne, 23, was booked for kidnaping at Kanawha County Jail shortly after midnight. That was six hours after Payne, with his four hostages still in the car, was captured at a state police roadblock at Logan, 70 miles south of here.

Payne shot twice at a trailing police car before surrendering.

In jail, Payne stuck to his story of why he kidnapped the 29-year-old mother and her children from their home in nearby South Charleston Wednesday night.

He said he wanted them as hostages to force the release of his one-time cellmate, Burton Junior Post, 31, from the penitentiary so that he could kill Post.

Payne said he had planned the kidnapping for about two weeks but didn't select the Baldwins as his victims until he went to their home—three doors away from his house—and gained admittance on the pretext of wanting to use the telephone.

"I regret only that I was caught before I got Post," Payne said.

"I was going to get his head and sort of preserve it. He's an enemy of my existence, and I hate him." He described his feeling toward Post as "hatred at first sight."

Payne gave that motive for the kidnapping in a weird note addressed to Gov. Cecil H. Underwood of West Virginia. The note threatened torture and death to the children if Payne's demand for Post's release was not met.

Payne left the note in the Baldwin home when he drove off in the family car with Mrs. Baldwin and Susan, 5; Danny, 7, and Kenneth, 10. The husband and father, John H. Baldwin, 30, was left behind, tied and gagged.

Despite the threats in his macabre note, Payne did not harm his captives. "I couldn't have killed them after I got to know them," he said later.

"It was the most horrible experience I ever had," Mrs. Baldwin said. "I guess it could have been worse though. After all, he was nice to all of us and never tried to hurt us."

Funeral Set Saturday For Crash Victims

Burial Due For 7; Rites For 2 Sunday In Car-Train Wreck

XENIA, Ohio (AP) — Funeral services will be held tomorrow for seven victims of the worst auto-train collision in Ohio's history.

Eight Girl Scouts and two mothers were killed Wednesday when a Pennsylvania Railroad freight train rammed their station wagon at a crossing 3½ miles west of here. The crossing was unprotected by flasher lights.

The Ohio Highway Patrol said the driver, Mrs. Lucille White, 44, was at fault for failing to yield the right-of-way.

Funeral arrangements for Mrs. White and her daughter, Sharon, 12, are incomplete.

Saturday's services will be combined for each of the following pairs of victims:: Mrs. Jeannette Randall, 39, and her daughter, Paulmetta, 11; Patricia Lapinski, 12, and Connie Laprise, 11; Anna Wilvert, 11, and Winda Ward, 12. Services will be held separately for Cindy Moorman, 11.

Sunday services are planned for the other victim, Anne North, 11.

All the victims lived in Beavercreek Twp., a rural, commuter-type suburb between Xenia and Dayton.

The Pennsylvania Railroad said its investigation confirmed the engineer's estimate of the train's 50 m.p.h. speed when the crash occurred. The railroad said 50 m.p.h. is the legal limit for that area.

The Ohio Department of Highway Safety reported the accident exacted the highest death toll in any collision between an auto and train in the state's history.

Manslaughter Charge Faces Crash Driver

Second degree manslaughter charges were filed late Thursday afternoon in Municipal Court against Bernard J. Icenhower, 40 of 305 E. 2nd St., identified as the driver of an auto in which a man was injured fatally March 8 in a collision with a parked tractor trailer rig on E. 3rd St.

Patrolman William A. Devon signed the affidavit naming Icenhower, who was released from City Hospital Saturday, taken to jail to await a hearing on a drunken driving charge in connection with the same mishap, then returned to the hospital Wednesday on the advice of his physician.

Murl Oney, 37, of E. 2nd St. died March 9 in City Hospital of injuries police said were suffered when Icenhower's auto struck the parked rig. Icenhower and another passenger, Homer Rose, 50, of Clark Ave., also were hurt.

Assistant Solicitor Richard J. Clark said the warrant on the manslaughter charge probably will be served on Icenhower in the hospital. The date for his hearing will be set later by the assistant solicitor and Atty. John B. McDonald, counsel for Icenhower. Both the prosecution and the defense expect to summon several witnesses, the solicitor said.

The charge against Icenhower alleges that he "did unlawfully and unintentionally, while engaged in the violation of a law of this state applying to the use or regulation of traffic, kill one Murl Oney . . . ."

The drunk driving charge also is still pending against Icenhower. Police said the fatal mishap occurred only 11 days after Icenhower had his driver's license returned from a previous conviction for drunk driving.

Thieves Take Rectory Cash, Garage Tools

Chester Parish Loses $150; Hobbs Auto Loss Set At $1,200

Thieves took $150 in cash from the Catholic rectory and some $1,200 worth of auto tools and equipment from the Hobbs Lincoln garage in burglaries in Chester Thursday night or this morning.

Latent fingerprints were found by Chester police at the 4th St. rectory of the Sacred Heart Catholic Church from which $125 in currency and $25 in change was stolen from a filing cabinet last night.

Thieves pushed open a rear door at the rectory and pried open two lower drawers of the cabinet while Fr. Alphonsus Domnick, pastor, was out for supper between 5:30 and 8 p. m.

The door of the basement area of the 2nd St. car agency and garage was forced open sometime late last night or early today, and a number of tools and other items taken.

The garage loss included three tool boxes and tools, an electric sander, two electric drills and two new wheels with tires. John Hobbs of the garage estimated the loss at over $1,200. The burglary was discovered at 8 a. m. by Harry Furbee, a mechanic, when he reported for work.

Patrolmen Harold Davis and Hancock County sheriff's deputies were investigating.

At the church rectory, three other drawers in the filing cabinet resisted prying attempts by the intruders, who also ransacked a clothes closet in an apparent search for more money. Fr. Domnick said the rear door has a lock, but the door can be pushed open.

Special Officer A. T. Campbell, along with Patrolman Davis and Deputy Sheriff W. B. King, investigated and checked for fingerprints.

The money taken belonged to the church, and was wrapped for banking.

Ware Arbiter Due March 27

He'll Be Given Facts In Laughlin Dispute

March 27 has been set tentatively for opening of hearings by a federal arbiter into the issues that precipitated a two-week walkout in February at the Homer Laughlin China Co., the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters announced today.

The arbiter, A. J. Houghton of Detroit, was agreed upon late last week by representatives of the dinnerware firm and the IBOP. The selection was made from a list of 12 furnished by the mediation and conciliation service of the U. S. Labor Department.

Laughlin's operations were suspended from Feb. 5 to Feb. 19, except for intermittent breaks, by picket lines established by women employes. The dispute revolves around operation of a new underglaze stamping machine and whether it should be operated by underglaze decorators or gold stampers.

After several meetings failed to produce agreement in the involved dispute, the union and the U.S. Potters Association agreed to submit the issues to federal arbitration, seeking a finding that would be binding on all parties.

"The savings clause of the act would still make effective the legality of the affected contracts, even though the one provision might be deemed to be questionable. It is with all these considerations in mind that I affix my signature to this long-delayed measure."

Election Board Extends Hours For Registration

Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk of the Columbiana County Election Board, issued a reminder today that the board's office on W. 6th St., opposite City Hall, will be open on a continuous 12-hour schedule next week for the last three days of a registration campaign for the May primaries.

To give unqualified voters every opportunity to register, the board's office will be open from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. Monday through Wednesday, O'Hanlon said. The office staff's lunch and dinner hours will be staggered in order to keep the doors open continuously, he explained. O'Hanlon said he expects the usual last-minute rush.

The city's registration total stands today at 10,423. The board has signed 59 electors since Jan. 1, but the names off 11 have been removed because of death, leaving a net gain of 48.

MOTHER, CHILDREN FREED. Mrs. Elma Baldwin, 29, telephones her husband from State Police headquarters in Logan, W. Va. after she and her three children were rescued from ex-convict Richard Payne. The children, left to right, are Richard, 7; Kenneth, 10, and Susan, 5. They were kidnapped Wednesday from their home in South Charleston by Payne who offered to barter their lives in exchange for surrender of a former prison cellmate. He was captured when Mrs. Baldwin grabbed the steering wheel and slammed on the brakes as Payne turned to fire at pursuing officers. (UPI Telephoto)

'Horrible Experience,' Woman Says

Abductor Shot Twice At Troopers' Auto Before Surrendering

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP) — Mrs. Elma Baldwin and her three youngsters were back in their bungalow today, unharmed but exhausted. Their kidnaper was back behind bars just eight days after he got out of prison.

Sallow, heavy-lidded Richard Arlen Payne, 23, was booked for kidnaping at Kanawha County Jail shortly after midnight. That was six hours after Payne, with his four hostages still in the car, was captured at a state police roadblock at Logan, 70 miles south of here.

Payne shot twice at a trailing police car before surrendering.

In jail, Payne stuck to his story of why he kidnapped the 29-year-old mother and her children from their home in nearby South Charleston Wednesday night.

He said he wanted them as hostages to force the release of his one-time cellmate, Burton Junior Post, 31, from the penitentiary so that he could kill Post.

Payne said he had planned the kidnapping for about two weeks but didn't select the Baldwins as his victims until he went to their home—three doors away from his house—and gained admittance on the pretext of wanting to use the telephone.

"I regret only that I was caught before I got Post," Payne said.

"I was going to get his head and sort of preserve it. He's an enemy of my existence, and I hate him." He described his feeling toward Post as "hatred at first sight."

Payne gave that motive for the kidnapping in a weird note addressed to Gov. Cecil H. Underwood of West Virginia. The note threatened torture and death to the children if Payne's demand for Post's release was not met.

Payne left the note in the Baldwin home when he drove off in the family car with Mrs. Baldwin and Susan, 5; Danny, 7, and Kenneth, 10. The husband and father, John H. Baldwin, 30, was left behind, tied and gagged.

Despite the threats in his macabre note, Payne did not harm his captives. "I couldn't have killed them after I got to know them," he said later.

"It was the most horrible experience I ever had," Mrs. Baldwin said. "I guess it could have been worse though. After all, he was nice to all of us and never tried to hurt us."

Funeral Set Saturday For Crash Victims

Burial Due For 7; Rites For 2 Sunday In Car-Train Wreck

XENIA, Ohio (AP) — Funeral services will be held tomorrow for seven victims of the worst auto-train collision in Ohio's history.

Eight Girl Scouts and two mothers were killed Wednesday when a Pennsylvania Railroad freight train rammed their station wagon at a crossing 3½ miles west of here. The crossing was unprotected by flasher lights.

The Ohio Highway Patrol said the driver, Mrs. Lucille White, 44, was at fault for failing to yield the right-of-way.

Funeral arrangements for Mrs. White and her daughter, Sharon, 12, are incomplete.

Saturday's services will be combined for each of the following pairs of victims:: Mrs. Jeannette Randall, 39, and her daughter, Paulmetta, 11; Patricia Lapinski, 12, and Connie Laprise, 11; Anna Wilvert, 11, and Winda Ward, 12. Services will be held separately for Cindy Moorman, 11.

Sunday services are planned for the other victim, Anne North, 11.

All the victims lived in Beavercreek Twp., a rural, commuter-type suburb between Xenia and Dayton.

The Pennsylvania Railroad said its investigation confirmed the engineer's estimate of the train's 50 m.p.h. speed when the crash occurred. The railroad said 50 m.p.h. is the legal limit for that area.

The Ohio Department of Highway Safety reported the accident exacted the highest death toll in any collision between an auto and train in the state's history.

Manslaughter Charge Faces Crash Driver

Second degree manslaughter charges were filed late Thursday afternoon in Municipal Court against Bernard J. Icenhower, 40 of 305 E. 2nd St., identified as the driver of an auto in which a man was injured fatally March 8 in a collision with a parked tractor trailer rig on E. 3rd St.

Patrolman William A. Devon signed the affidavit naming Icenhower, who was released from City Hospital Saturday, taken to jail to await a hearing on a drunken driving charge in connection with the same mishap, then returned to the hospital Wednesday on the advice of his physician.

Murl Oney, 37, of E. 2nd St. died March 9 in City Hospital of injuries police said were suffered when Icenhower's auto struck the parked rig. Icenhower and another passenger, Homer Rose, 50, of Clark Ave., also were hurt.

Assistant Solicitor Richard J. Clark said the warrant on the manslaughter charge probably will be served on Icenhower in the hospital. The date for his hearing will be set later by the assistant solicitor and Atty. John B. McDonald, counsel for Icenhower. Both the prosecution and the defense expect to summon several witnesses, the solicitor said.

The charge against Icenhower alleges that he "did unlawfully and unintentionally, while engaged in the violation of a law of this state applying to the use or regulation of traffic, kill one Murl Oney . . . ."

The drunk driving charge also is still pending against Icenhower. Police said the fatal mishap occurred only 11 days after Icenhower had his driver's license returned from a previous conviction for drunk driving.

Thieves Take Rectory Cash, Garage Tools

Chester Parish Loses $150; Hobbs Auto Loss Set At $1,200

Thieves took $150 in cash from the Catholic rectory and some $1,200 worth of auto tools and equipment from the Hobbs Lincoln garage in burglaries in Chester Thursday night or this morning.

Latent fingerprints were found by Chester police at the 4th St. rectory of the Sacred Heart Catholic Church from which $125 in currency and $25 in change was stolen from a filing cabinet last night.

Thieves pushed open a rear door at the rectory and pried open two lower drawers of the cabinet while Fr. Alphonsus Domnick, pastor, was out for supper between 5:30 and 8 p. m.

The door of the basement area of the 2nd St. car agency and garage was forced open sometime late last night or early today, and a number of tools and other items taken.

The garage loss included three tool boxes and tools, an electric sander, two electric drills and two new wheels with tires. John Hobbs of the garage estimated the loss at over $1,200. The burglary was discovered at 8 a. m. by Harry Furbee, a mechanic, when he reported for work.

Patrolmen Harold Davis and Hancock County sheriff's deputies were investigating.

At the church rectory, three other drawers in the filing cabinet resisted prying attempts by the intruders, who also ransacked a clothes closet in an apparent search for more money. Fr. Domnick said the rear door has a lock, but the door can be pushed open.

Special Officer A. T. Campbell, along with Patrolman Davis and Deputy Sheriff W. B. King, investigated and checked for fingerprints.

The money taken belonged to the church, and was wrapped for banking.

Steel Firms Rapped By President Of USW

He'll Be Given Facts In Laughlin Dispute

March 27 has been set tentatively for opening of hearings by a federal arbiter into the issues that precipitated a two-week walkout in February at the Homer Laughlin China Co., the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters announced today.

The arbiter, A. J. Houghton of Detroit, was agreed upon late last week by representatives of the dinnerware firm and the IBOP. The selection was made from a list of 12 furnished by the mediation and conciliation service of the U. S. Labor Department.

Laughlin's operations were suspended from Feb. 5 to Feb. 19, except for intermittent breaks, by picket lines established by women employes. The dispute revolves around operation of a new underglaze stamping machine and whether it should be operated by underglaze decorators or gold stampers.

After several meetings failed to produce agreement in the involved dispute, the union and the U.S. Potters Association agreed to submit the issues to federal arbitration, seeking a finding that would be binding on all parties.

Health Board Will Inspect Infant Wards

Maternity Units Of City And Osteopathic Hospitals Due Check

The Board of Health will inspect the maternity departments of City Hospital and the Osteopathic Hospital April 2, it was announced at the board's meeting Thursday night at the City Hall.

The board will meet at 8 p. m. to make the inspections, which are required so the hospitals can receive permission to conduct the maternity departments.

The board must act by June 1 so the permits can be issued prior to July 1.

Varous health problems were discussed at the meeting but no action was taken.

Mrs. Luella Bevan, registrar of vital statistics, reported 105 births and 34 deaths during the four-week period ending yesterday.

The births included 58 boys and 47 girls with 48 to East Liverpool parents, 17 to Wellsville, 8 to Midland, 6 to Chester, 4 to Smiths Ferry and 3 each to Newell, Salineville and Lisbon.

The deaths included 19 adult males, 13 adult females and 2 infants, Mrs. Bevan reported.

Sanitary Inspectors Septimus Cook and John Owen made 108 inspections, investigations and complaints during the month.

The inspections included visits to Steubenville and Martins Ferry to inspect activities there and 12 restaurants, 11 groceries and meat markets, 4 theaters, 5 schools and 4 bakeries.

The inspectors made 30 general calls, answered 33 complaints and collected 5 water samples. Owen also made 19 farm inspections.

Mrs. Jeannette Carpenter, health nurse, reported 8 new patients were admitted to the tuberculosis control program and 9 previous patients were readmitted.

Three admissions were made to the crippled children's program and there were 43 visits in crippled children's service.

Four members of the department — Dr. E. G. Kuhlman, health commissioner, Mrs. Carpenter, Cook and Owen — are attending a meeting of the City Public Health League of Ohio today in Steubenville.

Julius Pizzaferrato, Jefferson County health commissioner and president of the league, was to report on health, retirement and social security bills before the State Legislature. State Rep. Joseph Lola of Jefferson County also was to speak.

Glenmoor Fire Group To Seek Improved Roads

Trustees of the Glenmoor Fire Association will confer with St. Clair Township trustees on road conditions, it was announced at a meeting of the association Thursday night.

Chief Kenneth Mills said winter left township roads in such bad condition the department is unable to guarantee protection for many residents.

The department was en route to a brush fire at the end of Vale St. at 6:15 p. m. yesterday when the rough road jolted a wire loose and halted the truck, the chief said.

If it had been dark and a house was on fire, it might have burned down before the department could have located the engine trouble, he added.

The fire burned over 5 acres with 22 firemen responding to the alarm.

The chief also warned residents with gas stoves or other devices with automatic pilot lights to check them carefully, explaining they might go out if turned too low.

The department has had two calls in the last 30 days on gas-filled homes — one early in the morning and the other at night—Chief Mills said.

Eighteen attended the association meeting at which Frank Rizer, acting president, presided.

The Tri-State Firemen's Association will meet at the Glenmoor station Thursday night at 8.

Warning Issued On Trash, Grass Fires Inside City

City residents were warned today they are liable for prosecution if they burn trash or grass within the city limits.

The warning was issued by Asst. Chief David Anderson after firemen answered 2 calls on grass fires within 45 minutes Thursday afternoon in the East End.

Anderson explained a city ordinance bars anything being burned within the city limits. He pointed out a two - week period generally is set aside in April when residents are allowed to burn the winter's accumulation of trash if they notify the fire department first.

East End firemen were called to the National Drawn Works of the Crucible Steel Co. to extinguish a grass fire at 3:17 p.m. Firemen said an unidentified woman was burning papers, which set fire to the grass.

The department used boosters and brooms for 26 minutes before quelling the blaze.

It took only 5 minutes to extingish the second grass fire, firemen said. Children playing with matches set fire to some grass in Columbian Park at 3:55 p. m.

North Side firemen were called to the home of Cyril Toft, 829 Chester Ave., at 12:30 a. m. today when a transformer in a television set became overheated and filled the home with smoke.

All members and candidates in full regalia will march from the hotel to the cathedral for Mass at 10:30 a. m. Following lunch at noon, the exemplification will be held at 1:30 in the hotel ballroom, with officers of the Cardinal Mercier Assembly in charge.

Health Board Will Inspect Infant Wards

Maternity Units Of City And Osteopathic Hospitals Due Check

The Board of Health will inspect the maternity departments of City Hospital and the Osteopathic Hospital April 2, it was announced at the board's meeting Thursday night at the City Hall.

The board will meet at 8 p. m. to make the inspections, which are required so the hospitals can receive permission to conduct the maternity departments.

The board must act by June 1 so the permits can be issued prior to July 1.

Varous health problems were discussed at the meeting but no action was taken.

Mrs. Luella Bevan, registrar of vital statistics, reported 105 births and 34 deaths during the four-week period ending yesterday.

The births included 58 boys and 47 girls with 48 to East Liverpool parents, 17 to Wellsville, 8 to Midland, 6 to Chester, 4 to Smiths Ferry and 3 each to Newell, Salineville and Lisbon.

The deaths included 19 adult males, 13 adult females and 2 infants, Mrs. Bevan reported.

Sanitary Inspectors Septimus Cook and John Owen made 108 inspections, investigations and complaints during the month.

The inspections included visits to Steubenville and Martins Ferry to inspect activities there and 12 restaurants, 11 groceries and meat markets, 4 theaters, 5 schools and 4 bakeries.

The inspectors made 30 general calls, answered 33 complaints and collected 5 water samples. Owen also made 19 farm inspections.

Mrs. Jeannette Carpenter, health nurse, reported 8 new patients were admitted to the tuberculosis control program and 9 previous patients were readmitted.

Three admissions were made to the crippled children's program and there were 43 visits in crippled children's service.

Four members of the department — Dr. E. G. Kuhlman, health commissioner, Mrs. Carpenter, Cook and Owen — are attending a meeting of the City Public Health League of Ohio today in Steubenville.

Julius Pizzaferrato, Jefferson County health commissioner and president of the league, was to report on health, retirement and social security bills before the State Legislature. State Rep. Joseph Lola of Jefferson County also was to speak.

Glenmoor Fire Group To Seek Improved Roads

Trustees of the Glenmoor Fire Association will confer with St. Clair Township trustees on road conditions, it was announced at a meeting of the association Thursday night.

Chief Kenneth Mills said winter left township roads in such bad condition the department is unable to guarantee protection for many residents.

The department was en route to a brush fire at the end of Vale St. at 6:15 p. m. yesterday when the rough road jolted a wire loose and halted the truck, the chief said.

If it had been dark and a house was on fire, it might have burned down before the department could have located the engine trouble, he added.

The fire burned over 5 acres with 22 firemen responding to the alarm.

The chief also warned residents with gas stoves or other devices with automatic pilot lights to check them carefully, explaining they might go out if turned too low.

The department has had two calls in the last 30 days on gas-filled homes — one early in the morning and the other at night—Chief Mills said.

Eighteen attended the association meeting at which Frank Rizer, acting president, presided.

176 Voters Registered From Midland District

Some 176 voters of Midland, Glasgow and Industry Boroughs and Ohio Township were signed in a special field registration Thursday at the Midland Borough Building, James B. Keifer, registrar of the Registration Commission at Beaver, said today.

Listed were 118 Democrats, 55 Republicans, 2 independents, and one with no party. There were 42 changes of Republicans to Democrats and 9 changes of Democrats to Republicans.

Beaver County residents who need to change their registration,, or register, to vote in the May 19 primary have until March 30 to register at the Beaver office, or can register at any field office prior to that date in certain areas.

Warning Issued On Trash, Grass Fires Inside City

City residents were warned today they are liable for prosecution if they burn trash or grass within the city limits.

The warning was issued by Asst. Chief David Anderson after firemen answered 2 calls on grass fires within 45 minutes Thursday afternoon in the East End.

Anderson explained a city ordinance bars anything being burned within the city limits. He pointed out a two - week period generally is set aside in April when residents are allowed to burn the winter's accumulation of trash if they notify the fire department first.

East End firemen were called to the National Drawn Works of the Crucible Steel Co. to extinguish a grass fire at 3:17 p.m. Firemen said an unidentified woman was burning papers, which set fire to the grass.

The department used boosters and brooms for 26 minutes before quelling the blaze.

It took only 5 minutes to extingish the second grass fire, firemen said. Children playing with matches set fire to some grass in Columbian Park at 3:55 p. m.

North Side firemen were called to the home of Cyril Toft, 829 Chester Ave., at 12:30 a. m. today when a transformer in a television set became overheated and filled the home with smoke.

Trial For Contractor Reset For March 30

LISBON — The forgery trial of Emerson Braun, 27, Salem contractor, set for Monday, has been continued to March 30 by Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp, who also appointed Atty. George Bowman of Salem as defense counsel.

Atty. Ray Roach of Cleveland failed to contact Braun, the prosecutor or the assistant commissioner, as instructed by Judge Sharp, so Bowman was chosen by the court. Braun had reported Roach would represent him.

Braun is charged with forgery in that he altered a $10,000 performance bond for a Youngstown project to $170,000 for a Washingtonville sewer job.

A hearing was held Wednesday afternoon for a Youngstown bonding company which asked to be relieved of Braun's bond, but Judge Sharp made no recommendations.

China Concerns, Union To Resume Wage Talks

The International Brotherhood of Operative Potters said today it expects to resume contract negotiations with three chinaware concerns that were broken off at Cleveland when the union rejected a wage proposal submitted by the manufacturers.

The IBOP and representatives of the three local unions involved negotiated late last week with the Mayer China Co. of Beaver Falls, Buffalo China, Inc., of Buffalo, N. Y., and the Walker China Co. of Bedford.

E. L. Wheatley, international president, headed the IBOP delegation, which included Charles F. Jordan, secretary - treasurer, and Leonard Greco of Beaver Falls and Clyde Jones of Alliance, vice presidents. Spokesmen also attended from Local 33 at Beaver Falls, Local 76 at Buffalo and Local 108 at Bedford.

The U. S. Bureau of Engraving and Printing, which turns out all American paper currency, began operation in 1862 with an initial force of just two men and four women.

Kaycee Group Hears Pastor

Fr. Nist Addresses 4th Degree Council

Fr. Arthur Nist, pastor of St. Ann Catholic Church and faithful friar of the assembly, was guest speaker Thursday night at a meeting of Cardinal Mercier General Assembly, Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus.

Speaking at the Kaycee Home on Lincoln Ave., Fr. Nist discussed Pope John XXIII's recent call for an ecumenical council on Christian unity — a general assemblage of the hierarchy of the church. A question - and - answer period followed in which Fr. Nist answered queries on the purpose of the meeting.

The assembly completed plans for a district delegation to be included in a 160-member honor guard for church dignitaries April 12 at the dedication of St. Columba Cathedral in Youngstown. Two pontifical Masses will be held in the new Diocesan cathedral — at 10:30 a. m. and 3:30 p. m.

The entire Eastern Ohio district of the Fourth Degree Knights will send members in full regalia to form the honor guard. The Eastern Ohio district embraces all the area between Lake Erie and the Ohio River. Before the Mass, the group will march from the Pick-Ohio Hotel to the cathedral, headed by the Cardinal Mooney High School band of Youngstown. J. E. Johnston of East Liverpool, Eastern Ohio master of the Fourth Degree Knights, will be in charge.

The assembly also completed arrangements for an Eastern Ohio degree exemplification April 26, also at the Pick Ohio Hotel. About 100 candidates will be in the class, which will be named in honor of Bishop Emmet M. Walsh of the Youngstown Diocese.

All members and candidates in full regalia will march from the hotel to the cathedral for Mass at 10:30 a. m. Following lunch at noon, the exemplification will be held at 1:30 in the hotel ballroom, with officers of the Cardinal Mercier Assembly in charge.

Later, a formal banquet and dance will be held for members and their wives, also at the hotel. A crowd of 500 to 600 is expected at the degree exemplification, with an even larger crowd at the banquet and dance.

A guest at last night's meeting was Fr. William Hohman, pastor of St. George's Catholic Church at Lisbon.

It Was A Time Of Needed Pressure

The departure of a coach after a losing season is one of the more unpleasant phases of the American sporting scene.

A resignation or a firing under such circumstances can't help but stir mixed emotions. Too many factors are involved for it merely to be shrugged off as just "one of those things."

John Karaffa succumbed to the pressure of a "bad year" when he submitted his resignation Thursday as head basketball coach at East Liverpool High School. In his column today, Review Sports Editor Bob Duffy included this comment on Karaffa: "In our opinion, he was one of the nicest guys who ever set foot on the Memorial Auditorium floor."

We agree one hundred per cent. And should John decide to leave the city, we will miss him as will many of his other friends. But, frankly, there seemed no alternative in view of things but for John either to resign or be fired.

Whether we like it or not, the sports program in the average high school is tied in closely with the support it receives at the gate from the fans—students and adults alike. And there were too many empty seats at Memorial Auditorium during the last basketball season — an unusual situation for an auditorium which in the past generally has been well filled.

Along with the decreased attendance, there was an undertone of general dissatisfaction which pointed to even more empty seats if some remedy wasn't sought for the bad case of "losing - itis". East Liverpool fans are of a type easily susceptible to such a disease because of "healthier" days in the past.

Karaffa himself understands the need for drastic action when the occasion demands. With the Potters in the darkest days of their slump, he demonstrated this by kicking three seniors off the squad and moving up some underclassmen with the hope the move would provide a much - needed spark.

The results were nothing to write home about. But at least he had made the effort.

So it was in the coaching situation — there was little choice but to bring pressure to bear.

We feel sure that part of the motivating force behind John's resignation was his knowledge that something had to be done to rejuvenate the basketball picture at East Liverpool High School. If we're wrong, only John will know.

We prefer to think of it that way, however, as a "nice guy" leaves the coaching scene.

Mr. Truman Makes His Point

In turning down the Boston Globe's invitation to prove for a day that he knows more about editing a newspaper than the people who do it professionally, Harry Truman made the point that editors "know all about how another man's business ought to be run, while I do not pretend to know the mechanics of yours."

Ouch! It's a sharp point.

The invitation grew out of the former president's harsh criticism of newspaper editors at the University of Missouri School of Journalism recently. He accused them, as he had accused them before, of being unfair to public officials and said he wishes he could be a newspaper editor for a while.

This is a fairly common reaction among public officials who have been piqued by newspapers, and it produced a fairly common reaction among newspaper editors. They, too, wishes Harry Truman could be an editor for a while so he could learn what it feels like to decide minute by minute the relative importance of what public officials are doing and saying.

The officials always want full reports of their triumphs and the statements they are proud of, or from which they expect to gain advantage. But they never want full coverage of their bloopers and muffs.

They are fond of praise and they despise criticism. They love to be held up for public acclaim, but they loathe being lost in the shuffle of news that they consider to be unworthy of their association with it.

They are quick to claim they were misquoted if something they have said backfires. They are quick to claim they were ignored when they were not on Page One, if that is where they wanted to be. They are just as quick to claim they were persecuted if they made Page One when they did not want to be there.

This is the way it is and must always be between the men who conduct the public business and the newspapers that report what they are doing. But because it is the public business, the job must be done, along with all the other things that newspapers report. They do not expect politicians to love them, though some politicians do not spend quite so much time badmouthing them as Harry Truman makes a practice of doing.

But what is this? An article by Harry S. Truman written for North American Newspaper Alliance and syndicated from one end of the country to the other.

Perhaps the former president doesn't hold the press in such utter contempt after all. He has no objection to writing for it.

The question is whether parents and youngsters alike are of a mind to accept these lessons and assume the responsibility which goes with them.

'Rumblings'

The rumblings probably will persist for several days over the near "rumble" at Wellsville Wednesday night.

When 25 teen-age boys are taken into custody by police, the reverberations are certain to be many. It's one of those cases where the innocent can't help but suffer along with the guilty.

Wellsville police undoubtedly are still experiencing tongue-lashings from some angry parents. And The Review probably has been criticized more than once for mentioning this group and that group, which the police reported as being involved in the near fight.

The police were doing their duty to the best of their ability in a situation which could have become a much more nasty one had quick action not been taken.

As undesirable as such episodes may be, there are valuable lessons to be learned.

The Once Over

The more you think of Hawaii's admission to the Union, the more you wonder it took so long. Half a century is a long time to wait for Congress to be "swayed" by hula hula dancers. We now get one of the beauty spots of the world and Hawaii gets U.S. cowboy telecasts, an enlarged intercontinental tourist program and new income tax problems. If hula hula gals run into a recession in the torso-twisting industry they get unemployment insurance.

HAWAIIAN STATEHOOD cheers us all. In a world of hatreds, war, riots, atomic bombs and guided missiles it is a land that had given nothing more harmful to civilization than the ukelele, straw skirt, papaya juice, loyalty and soft music sweeping across the beaches of a Pacific paradise on a moonlit night. America responds with a loud "Hips, hips, hooray."

Congress has stalled for 58 years in taking Hawaii into the Union, which proves it is a poor judge of bathing beauties, eye-filling scenery and "Aloha" played on the ukelele.

Every couple of years its answer to a statehood plea has been met by the House and Senate Travelogue recital of "And so we leave beautiful Hawaii and set sail for our usual Potomac River icefields."

Capt. James Cook discovered Hawaii in 1778. He liked it then, even before he had ever heard any travel lecturer describe it. But little did he think that one day a Vermont man could take a swim at Waikiki Beach and still be in his own country. Hawaii is 2,000 miles from the U.S. as the strawskirt flies. This is a record trip from one state to the border of its sister state.

The admission has made the biggest hit with the home public since "South Pacific." While Rodgers and Hammerstein wrote of different islands, the words and music of "Bali Ha'i" helped and a lot of congressmen still think "Across A Crowded Room" was a Hawaiian hotel theme song.

The Cold Facts

We've all been moaning about the long, cold winter. And now we have the figures to prove we were justified in complaining through numbed lips.

Edwin Copeland, U. S. weather observer at Millport, made it official Thursday. In case you missed the facts, we'll review a few below:

There were 20 nights of below - zero temperature.

There were 47 inches of snow, almost 18 inches over normal.

There were 10.87 inches of rain, compared with the customary 9.44.

Baby, it was both miserable and cold outside!

KEITH McHUGH quit $158,000 a year telephone job to become Gov. Rockefeller's Commerce Commission chief at $18,500. That's what we call paying the highest telephone bill on record. The guvnor may have picked McHugh because (1) he wanted to get his message through fast; (2) he wanted to find a way to cut off calls beginning with "I voted for you, but am I having gas and cigarette troubles."

Ringling Brothers circus will play 47 day and night runs in New York, longest ever. This makes it harder for lions and tigers to sneer "New York is all right for a short visit but I wouldn't want to live there all the time." John Ringling North, like all boys, once dreamed of owning a circus. But he is first one to own one and have additional kick of writing the music for it.

Odd Facts

The first salary of the President of the U. S. was $25,000. In Grant's second term it was increased to $50,000. In 1907, $25,000 traveling expenses were added. Taft was the first president to receive $75,000 a year and $25,000 traveling expenses. Truman was the first to receive a salary of $100,000 under the law of 1949.

The purchase price which the United States paid Russia for Alaska was $7.2 million, and a check for this amount was made out to Edward de Stoeckl, envoy extraordinary of Russia, in Aug. 10, 1868. The United States flag had been formally raised at Sitka on Oct. 18 of the preceding year.

No Doubt! No Doubt!

Influence Men Hunted In Labor

By Victor Riesel

Now the search is on for the influence peddlers inside labor. And they don't operate for a meager 5 per cent either. You can call them commission merchants. They're not "con" men. They are contact men. They're not fronting for the crime combine. They are those labor officials who have been bird-dogging for those firms which want to sell something to a union or to another company dealing with some union.

Victor Riesel

Contacting unions and corporations who just don't want trouble with certain unions is big money —and there is a list of some 200 unions officials to prove this.

The list — one of many such around the country — belongs to a swank efficiency firm operating out of a modern Manhattan tower in the Madison-Park Ave. sector of the gray flannel front.

There is nothing in naming this agency now. It will be in the news soon enough. Premature pinpointing would only affect the investigation, prosecution and blood pressure of witnesses. It is a major outfit operating under the bedside euphemism of "management-engineering."

THIS MEANS that it provides corporations with advice not only on cutting costs but on time and motion techniques which go into establishing the cost and, therefore, the price of an article or service. It helps set up new plants. It finds sites for new installations. Its services are valuable — but they cost plenty, too.

This firm has been advising corporations in the automobile, steel and textile industries. Some months ago the crusading office of Manhattan District Attorney Frank Hogan ran across it in one of Mr. Hogan's probes.

Just exactly how his rackets bureau chief, Al Scotti, a fellow who hits problems with pneumatic drill persistency and impact, came upon this, we outsiders don't yet know. However, the New York DA's office found a trail of hundreds of checks. Some of them were made out to labor leaders.

These checks, in turn, led to cities across the United States. Some were traced to an auto company in Toledo. Records of Auto Workers Union and Textile Workers Union officials were examined —but Mr. Hogan's office has made it amply clear that these were checked in routine course and did not by any means insinuate that these men were involved.

No one has yet been told specifically just where all this leads. Mr. Hogan and Mr. Scotti are known to be probing the alleged bribe of a Manhattan union official. But this would be only the tiniest bit of thread in a fabric, still gossamer, lying across the land.

THE PATTERN will eventually show that there are scores of second and third echelon union officials who are, in effect, salesmen for service and supply companies.

The union officials sometimes are on the company payrolls. Other times they receive straight commissions for placing multi-million dollar insurance policies or printing contracts in behalf of the union.

Or sometimes they receive commissions for using their union prestige to make a contact in behalf of one company, such as an efficiency outfit, with another firm— usually a successful contact because many a company purchasing executive believes he would run into trouble with the union official unless the firm bought the service.

District Attorney Hogan's probe has run into big money payments in many cities. This is a more subtle racket than that pulled by the bumbling muscle men who dump trucks or smash plate glass store windows.

What is important here is that there really are no laws to cover this legal looting. Those who now see it unraveled argue that the only cure is a federal law setting up a "fiduciary" relationship between a union official and his union and its treasury—just as a bank president is related to his depositors' money. The bank official is responsible for every penny. And he cannot under the law invest funds in some project in return for a bribe.

Frank Hogan appears to be ripping the cover off the most respectable of rackets.

Restraint Pays Off

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

History may show President Eisenhower's greatest contribution to the presidency was his restraint in time of danger and critical stress. Apparently, it has just paid off again.

In a week's time there has been a definite relaxing of tension over Berlin.

Eisenhower has shown restraint a number of times when, through emotionalism or aggressiveness, he could have precipitated unpredictable events, including war.

When the British, French and Israelis invaded Egypt in 1956— and the Soviet Union threatened retaliation that would have meant world war — Eisenhower cracked down on the Allies to stop and get out. They did.

The Red Chinese—bent on destroying Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist Chinese on Formosa—at various times have bombarded the offshore islands of Quemoy and Matsu.

Eisenhower could have resorted to extreme steps.

He could have ordered American planes to bombard the Chinese mainland.

This would have been a good bet to bring on a war with Red China's ally, the U.S.S.R. Instead, Eisenhower used less drastic means to bolster the defense of the islands and sweat out the Red attacks until the Communists quieted down.

The same was true in Indochina when North Viet Nam was falling to rebel forces of Communist Ho Chi-minh and the French colonial masters of Indochina were disintegrating.

Eisenhower could have sent in American planes to bail out the French and smash the Communists. This could have meant war with Red China. Eisenhower didn't.

True, half of Viet Nam was lost to the Reds. But the rest of the country, freed of the French, began for the first time to have a democratic government of its own.

It can be argued that Eisenhower's restraints were a series of negative actions. But Eisenhower, responsible for the leadership not only of this country but of the Western world, used restraint to avoid catastrophes.

There have been other instances, most recently the Berlin crisis created by Premier Nikita Khrushchev who demanded last Nov. 27 that the Allies get their troops out of West Berlin. He appeared to be setting a six-months' deadline for it.

The West assumed he meant by May 27. The West stood firm in refusing to get out, although the Allies eyed each other carefully, wondering if any of them might weaken.

Since November Khrushchev has made puzzling statements, some belligerent, such as warning the West it faced war with the Soviet Union if the Allies, refusing to pull out their troops, attempted to force supplies through Communist East Germany to their Berlin garrisons.

At a couple of news conferences Eisenhower sounded a little heated when talking of Khrushchev and his Berlin demands. He even indicated that any Soviet attempt to throw out the Allies might mean nuclear war.

And he poked hard at Khrushchev, who kept insisting on a summit conference to settle things, that such a conference was useless until the Soviet leader began showing more signs of willingness to negotiate.

Whether or not Khrushchev took this as a real nudge, only he knows. But at least in recent weeks he has talked less belligerently, put more stress on the value of negotiations, and repeatedly said he wasn't setting a deadline or laying down an ultimatum.

Then last Monday night, as if responding to increasing reasonableness from Khrushchev, Eisenhower in his nationwide broadcast carefully avoided any sign of belligerency or irritation.

He went further than he ever had before, although laying down some conditions, in suggesting not only that a summit conference was possible but that it could be held this summer.

Thursday Khrushchev called a giant news conference. He too sounded reasonable and praised Eisenhower for his reasonableness.

'Equal Time' Ruling Limits Free Press

President Eisenhower says it is "ridiculous" for the Federal Communications Commission to require that equal time be given to political candidates on "newscasts" over radio and television. He has asked Attorney General Rogers to study the legal problems involved. But it is also incredible that the Congress by law actually specifies that all must be given "equal time" for their speeches during a campaign.

The idea that a governmental agency can instruct a medium of public expression how it may judge news values or edit a program or a publication of any kind would appear on its face to be contrary to the First Amendment to the Constitution, which supposedly guarantees a free press.

But, strange as it may seem, the Supreme Court of the United States as far back as 1921 has held that the government can withdraw second-class-mail privileges if a newspaper does not conform to a governmental order or law.

Similarly, the Supreme Court has ruled that the Federal Communications Commission has a right to withdraw radio or television licenses on the basis of "public interest, convenience and necessity." This clause was written into the law when Congress prescribed how radio and television licenses should be allocated.

Chief Justice Hughes in 1933, speaking for a unanimous Supreme Court, held that the power to allocate radio licenses was confined solely to mechanical factors, so as to avoid collision of wave lengths and to provide an orderly method of awarding licenses, which are limited in number.

JUSTICE FRANKFURTER, however, writing for the majority in a 5- to- 2 opinion of the Supreme Court in 1943, proclaimed that the powers of Congress are much broader. In allocating licenses, he said, the Federal Communications Commission can consider all sorts of social and economic factors. He implied, moreover, that the commission could exercise — through the power to renew licenses periodically — a certain supervision over the policies of broadcasting and television stations.

Back in 1935, when the Federal Communications Commission interpreted the law passed by Congress the previous year as giving the commission the right to specify how program time shall be used in relation to political campaigns, this correspondent wrote that such regulation was an interference with freedom of the press.

The broadcasting industry at the time, however, was reluctant to wage a fight for its rights. Today the broadcasting and television stations, through their own trade organizations, have shown that they now perceive the dangers arising from the violation of this principle 25 years ago. They are at last ready to do battle on the issue.

Newspapers are by no means protected against similar interferences by the government. Their acceptance of the second-class-mail privilege is analogous to the licenses granted television and radio stations.

CONGRESS IN 1912, acting under the postal power, passed a law requiring publishers to disclose the names of stockholders or bondholders owning more than 1 per cent of the total of each publication. This law was upheld in 1913 by the Supreme Court, which said that the application for second - class - mail rates by a publisher was in fact acceptance of a "privilege" from the government itself and hence renders publishers subject to federal regulation, nothwithstanding the First Amendment.

It's a short step now to the passage of a law that says sources of information must be disclosed. Experience has proved that, by protecting sources of news, information can be published which challenges public authority to ferret out scandals and wrongdoing in the community.

The press has risked contempt cases and jail sentences to protect its news sources. But Congress overnight can pass a law that compels the disclosure of news sources under penalty of the loss of second-class postage rates.

Governmental regulation of the press is today legally permissible because of the existence of a government-granted privilege. In fact, Chief Justice Taft — speaking in behalf of the Supreme Court in 1926 in the famous Booth Fisheries Case — ruled that, by accepting the benefits of a government privilege granted through any law of Congress, an individual or company is actually disqualified from raising the question of constitutionality in court.

IN A PAPER presented to the American Society of Newspaper Editors in April 1944 — after extensive research on the question— this writer suggested the following as a possible addition to the First Amendment to the Constitution:

"The grant, sale or lease of any facilities, licenses or privileges by the United States to the press, to radio broadcasting, to television or to any other medium of public expression shall not vest in the Congress or in any executive agency or in the several states the power to limit, restrict or regulate the contents of any printed publication, radio program, or creative work emanating from any medium of public expression except as any of these media may offend against the common law governing fraud, obscenity or libel or except as acts of treason are committed and punishable under Article III, Sec. 3."

Dear Nephew: You are not going to get an argument out of me by saying the idea of going to war over Berlin is ridiculous.

But of course I'd have to give you some lip if you think war is out of the question.

About three months before Pearl Harbor, I wrote a letter to an old friend who had been pestering me with forebodings about the Japanese. He had lived for many years in the Hawaiian Islands and had intended to go back there after an unsuccessful experiment with life back here on the mainland. But he was so sure the Japanese were going to attack the United States, starting with the Hawaiian Islands and the Philippines, that he was hanging on here.

I told him it was ridiculous to think that the Japanese would go to war. They were in a position to get everything they wanted without firing a shot. They were in the front-running position economically. All they had to do was keep right on running and no one could keep up with them.

They would be able to infiltrate and take over peaceably just about anything they had their eye on in their sphere of influence. They had the know-how, the energy and the imagination to do it. They would have to be crazy to start a war, no matter how provoked they might be.

Well, the Japanese were crazy. They started a war.

Crazy people start wars and sane people try to stop them after they get started. It has been only in the later years of my own lifetime that sane people have tried to stop wars before they got started.

Where, for the luvva Mike, is that United Nations outfit that is supposed to pit the sane people against the crazy people before the loonies pull the trigger? Why isn't it making headlines, instead of letting an assortment of individual politicians and sword - rattlers scare the stuffings out of us thermonuclear bomb boobies.

Or am I the only upstart citizen around these parts who realizes there is no such thing as cannon fodder any more—that the Big H puts even politicians in line for Never-Never Land? Never have so many depended so much on so few for survival.

Sure, I keep reading in the papers that this is supposed to be a sort of international Western, like television, in which the boys are flinging bullets around in the big chase after the stagecoach without intending to hit anybody. The trouble is the people who tell me this are not gun-handlers. Maybe they know the handlers are only fooling, and maybe I should know it too. But how can I be sure the handlers know it?

That is why I am upset because the United Nations, which is supposed to keep law and order, seems to be out to lunch. Now is the time for all sane men to come to the aid of sanity.

I personally do not give two hoots what happens to Berlin as such. I managed to bear up bravely while our airplanes were trying to wipe it off the face of the earth, with the help of Russian airplanes, and my only regret at the moment is that they didn't quite succeed.

I do care most solemnly and sincerely about what happens to old Uncle Me and my indispensable helpmeet, though, so I have as much right to talk about the matter as Macmillan, Khrushchev or even Eisenhower.

It is preposterous that the possibility of war is even being talked about, and if it were not for the fact the Russian people are told nothing and kept barefoot they would be getting ready to throw out the crazy politicians and sword-rattlers scaring sane people half out of their wits.

But remember me? I'm the fellow who thought the Japanese weren't crazy.

Regards to the family.

It Was A Time Of Needed Pressure

The departure of a coach after a losing season is one of the more unpleasant phases of the American sporting scene.

A resignation or a firing under such circumstances can't help but stir mixed emotions. Too many factors are involved for it merely to be shrugged off as just "one of those things."

John Karaffa succumbed to the pressure of a "bad year" when he submitted his resignation Thursday as head basketball coach at East Liverpool High School. In his column today, Review Sports Editor Bob Duffy included this comment on Karaffa: "In our opinion, he was one of the nicest guys who ever set foot on the Memorial Auditorium floor."

We agree one hundred per cent. And should John decide to leave the city, we will miss him as will many of his other friends. But, frankly, there seemed no alternative in view of things but for John either to resign or be fired.

Whether we like it or not, the sports program in the average high school is tied in closely with the support it receives at the gate from the fans—students and adults alike. And there were too many empty seats at Memorial Auditorium during the last basketball season — an unusual situation for an auditorium which in the past generally has been well filled.

Along with the decreased attendance, there was an undertone of general dissatisfaction which pointed to even more empty seats if some remedy wasn't sought for the bad case of "losing - itis". East Liverpool fans are of a type easily susceptible to such a disease because of "healthier" days in the past.

Karaffa himself understands the need for drastic action when the occasion demands. With the Potters in the darkest days of their slump, he demonstrated this by kicking three seniors off the squad and moving up some underclassmen with the hope the move would provide a much - needed spark.

The results were nothing to write home about. But at least he had made the effort.

So it was in the coaching situation — there was little choice but to bring pressure to bear.

We feel sure that part of the motivating force behind John's resignation was his knowledge that something had to be done to rejuvenate the basketball picture at East Liverpool High School. If we're wrong, only John will know.

We prefer to think of it that way, however, as a "nice guy" leaves the coaching scene.

Mr. Truman Makes His Point

In turning down the Boston Globe's invitation to prove for a day that he knows more about editing a newspaper than the people who do it professionally, Harry Truman made the point that editors "know all about how another man's business ought to be run, while I do not pretend to know the mechanics of yours."

Ouch! It's a sharp point.

The invitation grew out of the former president's harsh criticism of newspaper editors at the University of Missouri School of Journalism recently. He accused them, as he had accused them before, of being unfair to public officials and said he wishes he could be a newspaper editor for a while.

This is a fairly common reaction among public officials who have been piqued by newspapers, and it produced a fairly common reaction among newspaper editors. They, too, wishes Harry Truman could be an editor for a while so he could learn what it feels like to decide minute by minute the relative importance of what public officials are doing and saying.

The officials always want full reports of their triumphs and the statements they are proud of, or from which they expect to gain advantage. But they never want full coverage of their bloopers and muffs.

They are fond of praise and they despise criticism. They love to be held up for public acclaim, but they loathe being lost in the shuffle of news that they consider to be unworthy of their association with it.

They are quick to claim they were misquoted if something they have said backfires. They are quick to claim they were ignored when they were not on Page One, if that is where they wanted to be. They are just as quick to claim they were persecuted if they made Page One when they did not want to be there.

This is the way it is and must always be between the men who conduct the public business and the newspapers that report what they are doing. But because it is the public business, the job must be done, along with all the other things that newspapers report. They do not expect politicians to love them, though some politicians do not spend quite so much time badmouthing them as Harry Truman makes a practice of doing.

But what is this? An article by Harry S. Truman written for North American Newspaper Alliance and syndicated from one end of the country to the other.

Perhaps the former president doesn't hold the press in such utter contempt after all. He has no objection to writing for it.

The question is whether parents and youngsters alike are of a mind to accept these lessons and assume the responsibility which goes with them.

'Rumblings'

The rumblings probably will persist for several days over the near "rumble" at Wellsville Wednesday night.

When 25 teen-age boys are taken into custody by police, the reverberations are certain to be many. It's one of those cases where the innocent can't help but suffer along with the guilty.

Wellsville police undoubtedly are still experiencing tongue-lashings from some angry parents. And The Review probably has been criticized more than once for mentioning this group and that group, which the police reported as being involved in the near fight.

The police were doing their duty to the best of their ability in a situation which could have become a much more nasty one had quick action not been taken.

As undesirable as such episodes may be, there are valuable lessons to be learned.

The Once Over

The more you think of Hawaii's admission to the Union, the more you wonder it took so long. Half a century is a long time to wait for Congress to be "swayed" by hula hula dancers. We now get one of the beauty spots of the world and Hawaii gets U.S. cowboy telecasts, an enlarged intercontinental tourist program and new income tax problems. If hula hula gals run into a recession in the torso-twisting industry they get unemployment insurance.

HAWAIIAN STATEHOOD cheers us all. In a world of hatreds, war, riots, atomic bombs and guided missiles it is a land that had given nothing more harmful to civilization than the ukelele, straw skirt, papaya juice, loyalty and soft music sweeping across the beaches of a Pacific paradise on a moonlit night. America responds with a loud "Hips, hips, hooray."

Congress has stalled for 58 years in taking Hawaii into the Union, which proves it is a poor judge of bathing beauties, eye-filling scenery and "Aloha" played on the ukelele.

Every couple of years its answer to a statehood plea has been met by the House and Senate Travelogue recital of "And so we leave beautiful Hawaii and set sail for our usual Potomac River icefields."

Capt. James Cook discovered Hawaii in 1778. He liked it then, even before he had ever heard any travel lecturer describe it. But little did he think that one day a Vermont man could take a swim at Waikiki Beach and still be in his own country. Hawaii is 2,000 miles from the U.S. as the strawskirt flies. This is a record trip from one state to the border of its sister state.

The admission has made the biggest hit with the home public since "South Pacific." While Rodgers and Hammerstein wrote of different islands, the words and music of "Bali Ha'i" helped and a lot of congressmen still think "Across A Crowded Room" was a Hawaiian hotel theme song.

The Cold Facts

We've all been moaning about the long, cold winter. And now we have the figures to prove we were justified in complaining through numbed lips.

Edwin Copeland, U. S. weather observer at Millport, made it official Thursday. In case you missed the facts, we'll review a few below:

There were 20 nights of below - zero temperature.

There were 47 inches of snow, almost 18 inches over normal.

There were 10.87 inches of rain, compared with the customary 9.44.

Baby, it was both miserable and cold outside!

KEITH McHUGH quit $158,000 a year telephone job to become Gov. Rockefeller's Commerce Commission chief at $18,500. That's what we call paying the highest telephone bill on record. The guvnor may have picked McHugh because (1) he wanted to get his message through fast; (2) he wanted to find a way to cut off calls beginning with "I voted for you, but am I having gas and cigarette troubles."

Ringling Brothers circus will play 47 day and night runs in New York, longest ever. This makes it harder for lions and tigers to sneer "New York is all right for a short visit but I wouldn't want to live there all the time." John Ringling North, like all boys, once dreamed of owning a circus. But he is first one to own one and have additional kick of writing the music for it.

Odd Facts

The first salary of the President of the U. S. was $25,000. In Grant's second term it was increased to $50,000. In 1907, $25,000 traveling expenses were added. Taft was the first president to receive $75,000 a year and $25,000 traveling expenses. Truman was the first to receive a salary of $100,000 under the law of 1949.

The purchase price which the United States paid Russia for Alaska was $7.2 million, and a check for this amount was made out to Edward de Stoeckl, envoy extraordinary of Russia, in Aug. 10, 1868. The United States flag had been formally raised at Sitka on Oct. 18 of the preceding year.

Influence Men Hunted In Labor

By Victor Riesel

Now the search is on for the influence peddlers inside labor. And they don't operate for a meager 5 per cent either. You can call them commission merchants. They're not "con" men. They are contact men. They're not fronting for the crime combine. They are those labor officials who have been bird-dogging for those firms which want to sell something to a union or to another company dealing with some union.

Victor Riesel

Contacting unions and corporations who just don't want trouble with certain unions is big money —and there is a list of some 200 unions officials to prove this.

The list — one of many such around the country — belongs to a swank efficiency firm operating out of a modern Manhattan tower in the Madison-Park Ave. sector of the gray flannel front.

There is nothing in naming this agency now. It will be in the news soon enough. Premature pinpointing would only affect the investigation, prosecution and blood pressure of witnesses. It is a major outfit operating under the bedside euphemism of "management-engineering."

THIS MEANS that it provides corporations with advice not only on cutting costs but on time and motion techniques which go into establishing the cost and, therefore, the price of an article or service. It helps set up new plants. It finds sites for new installations. Its services are valuable — but they cost plenty, too.

This firm has been advising corporations in the automobile, steel and textile industries. Some months ago the crusading office of Manhattan District Attorney Frank Hogan ran across it in one of Mr. Hogan's probes.

Just exactly how his rackets bureau chief, Al Scotti, a fellow who hits problems with pneumatic drill persistency and impact, came upon this, we outsiders don't yet know. However, the New York DA's office found a trail of hundreds of checks. Some of them were made out to labor leaders.

These checks, in turn, led to cities across the United States. Some were traced to an auto company in Toledo. Records of Auto Workers Union and Textile Workers Union officials were examined —but Mr. Hogan's office has made it amply clear that these were checked in routine course and did not by any means insinuate that these men were involved.

No one has yet been told specifically just where all this leads. Mr. Hogan and Mr. Scotti are known to be probing the alleged bribe of a Manhattan union official. But this would be only the tiniest bit of thread in a fabric, still gossamer, lying across the land.

THE PATTERN will eventually show that there are scores of second and third echelon union officials who are, in effect, salesmen for service and supply companies.

The union officials sometimes are on the company payrolls. Other times they receive straight commissions for placing multimillion dollar insurance policies or printing contracts in behalf of the union.

Or sometimes they receive commissions for using their union prestige to make a contact in behalf of one company, such as an efficiency outfit, with another firm— usually a successful contact because many a company purchasing executive believes he would run into trouble with the union official unless the firm bought the service.

District Attorney Hogan's probe has run into big money payments in many cities. This is a more subtle racket than that pulled by the bumbling muscle men who dump trucks or smash plate glass store windows.

What is important here is that there really are no laws to cover this legal looting. Those who now see it unraveled argue that the only cure is a federal law setting up a "fiduciary" relationship between a union official and his union and its treasury—just as a bank president is related to his depositors' money. The bank official is responsible for every penny. And he cannot under the law invest funds in some project in return for a bribe.

Frank Hogan appears to be ripping the cover off the most respectable of rackets.

Restraint Pays Off

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

History may show President Eisenhower's greatest contribution to the presidency was his restraint in time of danger and critical stress. Apparently, it has just paid off again.

In a week's time there has been a definite relaxing of tension over Berlin.

Eisenhower has shown restraint a number of times when, through emotionalism or aggressiveness, he could have precipitated unpredictable events, including war.

When the British, French and Israelis invaded Egypt in 1956—and the Soviet Union threatened retaliation that would have meant world war — Eisenhower cracked down on the Allies to stop and get out. They did.

The Red Chinese—bent on destroying Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist Chinese on Formosa—at various times have bombarded the offshore islands of Quemoy and Matsu.

Eisenhower could have resorted to extreme steps.

He could have ordered American planes to bombard the Chinese mainland.

This would have been a good bet to bring on a war with Red China's ally, the U.S.S.R. Instead, Eisenhower used less drastic means to bolster the defense of the islands and sweat out the Red attacks until the Communists quieted down.

Dear Nephew: You are not going to get an argument out of me by saying the idea of going to war over Berlin is ridiculous.

But of course I'd have to give you some lip if you think war is out of the question.

About three months before Pearl Harbor, I wrote a letter to an old friend who had been pestering me with forebodings about the Japanese. He had lived for many years in the Hawaiian Islands and had intended to go back there after an unsuccessful experiment with life back here on the mainland. But he was so sure the Japanese were going to attack the United States, starting with the Hawaiian Islands and the Philippines, that he was hanging on here.

I told him it was ridiculous to think that the Japanese would go to war. They were in a position to get everything they wanted without firing a shot. They were in the front-running position economically. All they had to do was keep right on running and no one could keep up with them.

They would be able to infiltrate and take over peaceably just about anything they had their eye on in their sphere of influence. They had the know-how, the energy and the imagination to do it. They would have to be crazy to start a war, no matter how provoked they might be.

Well, the Japanese were crazy. They started a war.

Crazy people start wars and sane people try to stop them after they get started. It has been only in the later years of my own lifetime that sane people have tried to stop wars before they got started.

Where, for the luvva Mike, is that United Nations outfit that is supposed to pit the sane people against the crazy people before the loonies pull the trigger? Why isn't it making headlines, instead of letting an assortment of individual politicians and sword - rattlers scare the stuffings out of us thermonuclear bomb boobies.

Or am I the only upstart citizen around these parts who realizes there is no such thing as cannon fodder any more—that the Big H puts even politicians in line for Never-Never Land? Never have so many depended so much on so few for survival.

Sure, I keep reading in the papers that this is supposed to be a sort of international Western, like television, in which the boys are flinging bullets around in the big chase after the stagecoach without intending to hit anybody. The trouble is the people who tell me this are not gun-handlers. Maybe they know the handlers are only fooling, and maybe I should know it too. But how can I be sure the handlers know it?

That is why I am upset because the United Nations, which is supposed to keep law and order, seems to be out to lunch. Now is the time for all sane men to come to the aid of sanity.

I personally do not give two hoots what happens to Berlin as such. I managed to bear up bravely while our airplanes were trying to wipe it off the face of the earth, with the help of Russian airplanes, and my only regret at the moment is that they didn't quite succeed.

I do care most solemnly and sincerely about what happens to old Uncle Me and my indispensable helpmeet, though, so I have as much right to talk about the matter as Macmillan, Khrushchev or even Eisenhower.

It is preposterous that the possibility of war is even being talked about, and if it were not for the fact the Russian people are told nothing and kept barefoot they would be getting ready to throw out the crazy politicians and sword-rattlers scaring sane people half out of their wits.

But remember me? I'm the fellow who thought the Japanese weren't crazy.

Regards to the family.

Death Among Test Tubes

Report May Determine If Boy Hypnotic Drug Victim

REDLANDS, Calif. (AP) — A toxicologist's report today may determine whether a University of Redlands biochemistry student died from the effects of a hypnotic drug last Tuesday.

Michael Hawks, 18, died shortly after he was found in a coma amid test tubes and vials in his dormitory room. Chemicals discovered in the room were identified tentatively as mushroom crystals, mescaline and lysergic acid, all of which produce hallucinations.

Young Hawks was described by relatives as "very curious about the effect of mushrooms on people, and interested in dreaming in color." Although he was a freshman, he was so advanced in chemistry he was enrolled in third year classes.

Deputy Coroner Edward Doyle has confiscated a tape recording on which Hawks appeared to describe eerie dreams. Chief of Police Stanley Bowen said it has been established that the young man conducted experiments with drugs on at least five university students.

Bowen said investigators found a notebook with entries by Hawks which, coupled with conversation on the tape recording, indicated one of his subjects had experienced hallucinations for a period of more than six hours.

Police said other tape recordings contained a philosophical dissertation on colors, believed to have been recorded by Hawks, and a recital of reactions to hypnotic mushroom potions.

A university spokesman said Hawks was warned in January to discontinue his experiments.

Mushrooms which cause visions have been known to man since the dawn of history. Mexican Indians use six varieties to heighten the ecstacy of religious ceremonies.

The ensemble groups will include the soloists along with Norma Hoyt, baritone; Kathy West and Bill Stivason, clarinet, and Keith Hubbard, Steven McHenry, James Merriman and Richard Reber, drums.

Mount Union Increases Tuition And Fees $50

ALLIANCE, Ohio — Tuition and fees will cost a Mount Union College student $750 for the school year starting this fall.

This represents a $50 increase over the present figure. The Board of Trustees termed it necessary "to provide for an increase in faculty salaries and enrichment of the college program."

It also was announced that next year's dormitory living will be slightly higher. The room increase will be used for new furnishings and other improvements in some of the older campus dorms.

There will be no increase in board.

Psychiatrist Says Woman Not Insane

VENTURA, Calif. (AP)—Elizabeth Duncan's personality is like that of most alcoholics, drug addicts and sex deviates, a psychiatrist says.

But Dr. Louis R. Nash adds, she is not insane. His testimony came, in the penalty phase of Mrs. Duncan's murder trial.

Nash, a court-appointed psychiatrist, said Mrs. Duncan is sane, in reply to questions by the prosecution Thursday. He had been called by the defense, which hopes to establish that Mrs. Duncan is mentally so unstable she should not be put to death.

A jury of eight women and four men last Monday convicted Mrs. Duncan, 54, of hiring two men to kill her son's bride, Olga Duncan. The jury now must decide her penalty: Life imprisonment or the gas chamber. Afterward, it will consider her secondary plea of insanity.

Nash gave this description of the defendant:

"Mrs. Duncan is a maladjusted individual, impulsive, egocentric, immature emotionally, unable to stand frustrations, unable to maintain her emotional equilibrium and independence during major or minor stresses.

"She has been a severe problem to herself and to society for many years. This all adds up to a psycopathic personality."

Report Hits A-Plant Cost

Shippingport Job Far Over Estimates

Increased construction costs of the Shippingport atomic power plant — almost $29 million over the $90.7 million estimate — were due to weaknesses of certain administrative controls, according to the General Accounting Office at Washington.

The biggest difference in the projected cost of the Duquesne Light Co. plant, a joint project of the Atomic Energy Commission and the Pittsburgh area utility, was in the installation expense, estimated at $3¼ million but ending up $17 million, the GAO said in a fiscal report on the plant.

The Atomic Energy Commission said the installation cost was due to the inexperience of the Dravo Corp. in "anticipating the magnitude of the difficulties and uncertainties" of the project.

The GAO criticized the arrangements between the AEC and Duquesne, stating the agreement was so loosely drawn that under some conditions government property at the plant would become the utility's without reimbursement to the government.

The report from the GAO, a congressional "watchdog" in fiscal matters, recommended the AEC not enter into any more joint endeavors. The agency conceded the plant was experimental and a developmental effort made difficult by underestimates of the work and urgency of meeting a completion date, but said administrative controls were loose and should not be repeated.

The lack of a timely audit increased the costs the GAO said in criticizing Westinghouse Electric Corp., the prime contractor, and Dravo. Also the productivity of the construction labor force was "unusually low," the GAO said, citing three work stoppages and four other labor disputes.

Ideas Suggested For A Better City

A shoppers' mall in the Diamond, greatly expanded parking facilities, incorporation of suburban areas and unmasking of the city's natural beauties were among ideas for community improvement aired by an architect during a meeting of the Kiwanis Club Thursday at the Travelers Hotel.

James Nessly Porter of Cain Heights, speaking on city planning, termed East Liverpool a "sick town," with symptoms common to many other cities of similar size, but with a few which are unique.

PORTER explained he was not presenting any positive plan of action for East Liverpool, but was pointing out some of the local problems and drawing some conclusions which "might stimulate some thought and enthusiasm for getting us out of the mess into which we have been drifting for too many years."

The architect's talk was based on the theme that (1) our town is not now "livable" and (2) that we can change it and make it livable. "True, there are an awful lot of people doing what they call 'living' in our 'unlivable' city, but a phrase in a song from Gershwin's Porgy And Bess sums it up best: 'Who calls that living?'"

"What I am proposing, of course, is that East Liverpool needs a plan for orderly development of future growth as well as renewal of its existing physical layout." He emphasized planning is not impractical dreaming or entanglement in red tape, but is a necessity if a community is to meet the demands of the modern world.

PORTER said, "Traffic congestion is getting almost unbearable. True, a relief route is being planned around the city, but it seems to go slowly. And, although the proposed highway is continually being referred to as "progressive", there is no evidence that anyone has given real consideration to what this bypass may actually do to us. If we are simply making it easier for potential shoppers to reach other more attractive shopping areas, we may be giving a death blow to an already struggling downtown area.

"Parking seems to get worse every time you try it, in spite of a substantial increase in off - street parking areas over the past few years. Stores and shopping areas are springing up in outlying areas —many exempt from city taxes.

"The worried downtown merchant points out that the welfare of the city, and a good share of the taxes that support the city, are based on the central business district. He is of the opinion, quite correctly, that we can't afford to let it go to the dogs. We must provide more parking for our downtown shopping area, either in the form of lots or garages.

"AND WHAT can we do to make the shopping district more attractive? Would we have the courage to completely divert traffic from the Diamond, transform it into a sort of shoppers' mall with shrubbery, trees, benches and tables — in short, take it away from the trailer trucks and give it back to human beings?

"The pedestrian mall is an essential part of the large new shopping centers, and a number of towns have experimented with closing main streets to automobile traffic for the benefit of shoppers. This invariably has resulted in an increase in sales for those stores located on the closed street. The problems have stemmed from inadequate parking, restricted traffic flow and the objections from merchants whose stores are not in the affected area. I think this is the sort of thing that will attract shoppers from neighboring communities and keep our own shoppers at home.

"An increase in our shopping population would mean a corresponding increase in the business of service and professional people: Doctors, lawyers, dentists — and architects. There are many empty office spaces in East Liverpool, but not many that are truly desirable, and no real incentive for remodeling or building. There have been no new office buildings, except for individual occupancy, built in this town since before the first world war.

"WHAT ABOUT housing? In recent years there have been a great many new housing starts — practically all of them outside the city limits. Most of the housing is single family, custom built. There is an acute shortage of new rental housing — a shortage of any kind of rental housing, new or old.

"Most of the older section of our city in which there were large houses has gone into rooming houses, light housekeeping quarters, and tiny substandard apartments. I am not really sure that we have in East Liverpool whole areas that can truly be called slums, but there can certainly be no doubt that the entire town is dotted with dangerous and undesirable buildings.

Porter said a key to the livability of a city is the migration trend to the suburbs. He said for every house built within the city limits last year, there must have been 50 constructed in neighboring townships.

"Primarily, this is due to the shortage of good building land left in the city, but it represents a real loss of tax money to the city. I believe the city is eventually going to have to expand its corporation limits in order to survive."

"I can hear screams of anguish from the residents of Calcutta and Glenmoor, but this is a two-way proposition: the services offered by the city must be of such quality and quantity to make the move desirable to those in the suburbs."

THE ARCHITECT pointed out the city's population growth in 1940-50 was less than 3 per cent, compared with the state increase of over 15 per cent.

He said East Liverpool is called, in planning jargon, a "bedroom town." This means that most of the people who live and sleep here work elsewhere. "Thus, we must provide services for many people who contribute little or nothing to the city treasury, while we receive nothing in the way of taxes from the industries which employ them."

"Of course we all think taxes are high enough now. But to the city fathers there isn't nearly enough to do the things desperately needed, to say nothing of what the citizens want done."

"Who's to blame when things aren't going right in a city, and there is a general feeling of going downhill? Why, that's simple —go fight City Hall! Throw the rascals out.'"

—:—

PORTER SAID, "So we vote out one administration, and install a new one. Then we sit back and say, 'All right now, fix things up. We won't give you any more money or support, but you know why we threw the last ones out. So you'd better do better or we'll throw you out too.'"

"Then, four years later when we see that the new group hasn't been able to accomplish anything, we up and throw that bunch of rascals out and offer up another on the sacrificial altar. In the meantime, things get worse and the jobs we hand our officials become more impossible than ever."

"Whether we admit it or not, East Liverpool is not as pleasant to live in as it was 10 years ago, and it was less then than the decade previous. This is not just sentimental longing. Livability is decreasing, largely because, in the name of progress, we have been putting economic considerations ahead of human needs."

"I said before the city is sick —and this illness is really a reflection of the attitude of its citizens. Some people would call it apathy—but I believe this is too mild a term."

"Apathy indicates indifference to the problems of the city. I think this is not only a case of indifference, it is a case of actual avoidance of the responsibilities."

"And when we are all ready to face up to the responsibilities with the entailed sacrifices in terms of money and time, then we will have taken the first step toward making living in East Liverpool what it could be—a pleasure and a delight."

City May Get Center For Food Distribution

Although distribution of surplus foods for Columbiana County residents — slated within a few months — is currently assigned from a Columbiana location, it is hoped an East Liverpool distribution site may be secured, Robert Bycroft, county welfare director, has said.

Plans and preparations for the distribution were discussed at a meeting of area representatives at the Courthouse Wednesday when supplies and registration cards were handed out.

Attending were representatives from East Liverpool, Wellsville, and East Palestine and from the Division of Aid for the Aged and the Welfare Department.

Distribution at Columbiana is scheduled as soon as state officials approved a walk-in cooler for purchase by the county and other final arrangements are made, Bycroft said.

Weirton Slayer Held For April Grand Jury

WEIRTON — Carl O. Cunningham, 42, was charged with first degree murder in the death of his wife at a hearing Thursday in Municipal Court. He was ordered held for the Hancock County Grand Jury, which will convene April 14.

Cunningham had admitted the slaying but entered a plea of innocent. He was represented by Atty. Morton Rosenshine. He was taken to Hancock County Jail at New Cumberland to await the grand jury action on the charge that he shot and killed his wife, Viola, 31, at their home March 5.

Cunningham was released Wednesday from Weirton General Hospital, where he was recuperating from self-inflicted gunshot wounds of the face and head. He tried suicide after the murder, authorities said.

The world's record rainfall for a 24-hour period is 46 inches which fell at Baguio, Luzon Phillippine Islands, on July 14 1911.

Field Narrowed To 3 As Potential Space Explorers

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — The field of 110 airmen selected as potential U.S. space explorers has been narrowed to three dozen.

From the 36, a dozen are being chosen through further physical and psychological examinations.

From the 12 will come the nation's first space pilot, for Project Mercury. He will ride a rocket nose cone into space and back again.

Who the men are is to remain a secret. In Washington, Dr. T. Keith Glennan, the nation's civilian space chief, has explained, "The final selections are a private privileged matter between the examining aero-medical specialists and the volunteers."

The 110 were selected, in the first place, several weeks ago according to requirements established by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's special advisory committee on life sciences.

That group is headed by Dr. W. Randolph Lovelace II, and part of the screening of the 36 has been undertaken at the Lovelace Foundation in Albuquerque.

Judge Reduces Penalty For Man In Store Theft

Municipal Judge George L. Brokaw Thursday ordered a reduction in the penalty for Carl I. Leak, 532 Virginia Ave., Midland, for whom he had decreed a $100 fine and a 30-day jail term on a charge of stealing two men's suits from the D. M. Ogilvie & Co. store.

Judge Brokaw suspended Leak's jail term and cut the fine back to $50 on condition the defendant makes restitution to the store for the cost of one of the suits. Testimony had shown one of the suits was damaged when manufacturer's labels were ripped off.

Leak was accused of stealing the two suits Tuesday from Ogilvie's, then taking them to a Midland tailor for alternations. He was arrested by East Liverpool police when he returned to the tailor shop to pick up the suits.

Hancock County residents have been warned by Chief John Grimes of the Lawrenceville volunteer fire department on starting brush and grass fires between 5 p. m. and 5 a. m. daily.

Grimes said several persons have been cited by Raymond Sayres, deputy fire marshal, for kindling outdoor fires during the restricted hours.

Grimes issued the reminder after Lawrenceville volunteer firemen were called to the home of Carl Evelsizer of Johnsonville by a grass and brush fire Thursday afternoon about 1:30.

Grimes said brush was being burned and the fire whipped out of control and spread along a fence row, burning over several acres before firemen gained control. Fifteen firemen responded to the alarm.

West Virginia law limits outdoor burning between 5 p. m. and 5 a. m. during the spring fire season.

Pennsylvania Supreme Court issued a rule last April, ordering the Beaver County Courts to outline these duties. Improper showing of photographs of the murdered girl and conflict of duties during the investigation are points being debated.

Grade-Crossing Protection

Dispute Over Car-Train Crash Hits Legislature

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A political dispute has arisen in the Ohio legislature stemming from the car-train crash that killed 10 persons in Greene County.

Rep. Richard B. Metcalf (R-Franklin), on the heels of the grade crossing accident—but without referring directly to it—complained Thursday that his bill to require grade-crossing protection is being held up by the Democratic administration.

There were no flasher warning lights at the crossing where eight Girl Scouts and two mothers met death near Xenia Wednesday.

Following Metcalf's statement, Rep. R. Martin Galvin (D-Lucas) indicated hotly that Metcalf was trying to make a political football out of the accident.

Galvin said: "Even had the (Metcalf) bill been referred (to a House committee for study), it would not have been passed in time to prevent this tragedy. I deeply regret the political motives which prompted the Franklin County Republican to misrepresent the Democratic Party's position on legislation of this nature."

Metcalf was quoted as saying the reason behind the delay in getting his bill to committee is that it would increase the price of auto licenses from $10 to $11 a year to finance the grade-crossing program.

Galvin, chairman of the House Reference Committee where Metcalf's bill still lies, said the administration of Gov. Michael V. DiSalle began pushing for a grade-crossing survey within three weeks after coming into office.

DiSalle got a full report Thursday on the car-train accident from Highway Safety Director Grant Keys. The governor was told that the crossing involved, being on a county road, is outside the state's authority. As a result, it doesn't fall into present state planning for a priority program to protect grade crossings.

There are 11,487 grade crossings in Ohio, DiSalle told newsmen, and of these, 8,597 are without protection of any kind except cross-arm signposts.

The remainder, 2,890, have flashers, gates or guards, but a Highway Department survey shows that more than half of all railroad crossing fatalities last year occurred at those protected spots.

Ironically, the crossing where Wednesday's multiple fatality happened was recently filmed by the High Safety Department to show on television as typical of the state's grade - crossing hazards, Keys said.

SPRING ALMOST HERE? It will take more than an official declaration Saturday for residents of Wequetonsing, Mich., to believe that Spring has finally arrived. They're still "wintered in" and with 12-foot drifts to worry about, it may be summer before they celebrate. Here a plow tries to clear a clogged road. In Grand Marais, Mich., temperatures varied 52 degrees in less than 24 hours—from 20 below zero to 32 above. (UPI Telephoto)

40 Children Hurt Slightly As Truck Rams School Bus

MOULTRIE, Ga. (AP)—Nearly 40 children escaped with minor injuries when a trailer truck smacked into the rear of a school bus Thursday and cascaded its load of cast iron pipe into the rear of the homeward bound bus.

The truck driver, Johnny A. Spears of Anniston, Ala., leaped from his vehicle just before the collision plunged the heavy sections of pipe through the cab.

The bus was carrying 75 white school pupils ranging from 6 to 16 years of age.

Thirty-seven youngsters were treated for injuries. None was hurt critically. The accident occurred at Doerun, 12 miles northwest of here.

Spears was treated for shock and several broken ribs. He said he saw the school bus but did not know it was going to stop until too late.

Pieces of cast iron pipe ripped up some of the seats in the rear of the bus and narrowly missed some of the children.

Veteran Of Civil War Buried In Virginia

SLANT, Va. (AP) — A bugler blew taps. Tears flowed freely. The casket of John Salling was lowered slowly into the ground.

Thus did the 112-year-old Civil War veteran reach his final resting place Thursday on a windswept hillside of southwest Virginia. A second funeral service—the first was held earlier at the Gate City Armory—ended the rites for "General John," next-to-the-last survivor of the Civil War.

Only Walter W. Williams, 116, of Houston, Tex., another Confederate, is left.

"Ours is a finer, stronger and greater nation because of the suffering men like Salling were forced to face," said Army Chaplain William T. Mansen of Abingdon at the morning service.

Electric Range Short Causes Minor Blaze

Eyes Record Budget

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Board of Cuyahoga County Commissioners is considering a record 62-million-dollar budget. The budget was presented to commissioners Thursday by County Administrator Lawrence E. Murtaugh. Largest item is $38,468,358 or 62 per cent for welfare and relief. That's 2.8 per cent more than last year.

SPRING ALMOST HERE? It will take more than an official declaration Saturday for residents of Wequetonsing, Mich., to believe that Spring has finally arrived. They're still "wintered in" and with 12-foot drifts to worry about, it may be summer before they celebrate. Here a plow tries to clear a clogged road. In Grand Marais, Mich., temperatures varied 52 degrees in less than 24 hours—from 20 below zero to 32 above. (UPI Telephoto)

40 Children Hurt Slightly As Truck Rams School Bus

MOULTRIE, Ga. (AP)—Nearly 40 children escaped with minor injuries when a trailer truck smacked into the rear of a school bus Thursday and cascaded its load of cast iron pipe into the rear of the homeward bound bus.

The truck driver, Johnny A. Spears of Anniston, Ala., leaped from his vehicle just before the collision plunged the heavy sections of pipe through the cab.

The bus was carrying 75 white school pupils ranging from 6 to 16 years of age.

Thirty-seven youngsters were treated for injuries. None was hurt critically. The accident occurred at Doerun, 12 miles northwest of here.

Spears was treated for shock and several broken ribs. He said he saw the school bus but did not know it was going to stop until too late.

Pieces of cast iron pipe ripped up some of the seats in the rear of the bus and narrowly missed some of the children.

Veteran Of Civil War Buried In Virginia

SLANT, Va. (AP) — A bugler blew taps. Tears flowed freely. The casket of John Salling was lowered slowly into the ground.

Thus did the 112-year-old Civil War veteran reach his final resting place Thursday on a windswept hillside of southwest Virginia. A second funeral service—the first was held earlier at the Gate City Armory—ended the rites for "General John," next-to-the-last survivor of the Civil War.

Only Walter W. Williams, 116, of Houston, Tex., another Confederate, is left.

"Ours is a finer, stronger and greater nation because of the suffering men like Salling were forced to face," said Army Chaplain William T. Mansen of Abingdon at the morning service.

Electric Range Short Causes Minor Blaze

A short circuit in an electric range in a LaCroft home caused a small fire Thursday, Liverpool Township, West, volunteer firemen reported.

Damage was limited to the stove in the home of Lillian Howell of 5th Ave.

Firemen said the stove was being used to heat a room, when a burner shorted and caused insulation to flame. Fifteen men responded to the alarm, including Ed Emmerling, chief,, and Homer Cronin, assistant chief.

Red Cross Drive At Halfway Mark

Contributions totaling $7,272 toward a quota of $15,902 were reported today by Richard Emmerling, campaign chairman for the local Red Cross fund drive. Officials hope the halfway mark will be reached today.

Of this amount, the largest sum —$3,351 — has been collected by the Advance Gifts Division, a group of 17 women volunteers, headed by Mrs. J. Donald Thompson. The work of this division is nearly complete. Their canvass of about 175 large donors was the first step in the local campaign.

THE BUSINESS Division, comprised of 56 workers, opened its drive for funds March 2, contacting executives and employes of some 400 local business establishments. Charles Shriver, division chairman, reports approximately $1,485 collected, with reports from nearly 80 per cent of the team captains yet to be received.

Virtually all of the house-to-house canvassers' reports have been turned in at headquarters. This Residential Division, headed by Mrs. Paul A. Davis, was comprised of 293 women volunteers who conducted their canvass last Sunday at some 9,000 homes, collecting $1,577.

The Red Cross solicitation of "special groups", being handled by eight other volunteer units, continues by means of letters and personal calls.

Gifts totaling $859 have been reported to date. These special units are contacting clubs and organizations, professional groups, manufacturers and in-plant personnel, schools, banks, post office, city and public utility employes.

EMMERLING today urged all volunteer workers to turn in their reports and contributions as quickly as possible at Red Cross headquarters on E. 4th St. He quoted from a report received here today from Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, president of the American Red Cross, that the organization had spent nearly $2.5 million for disaster relief in the five states affected by major floods earlier this year.

The report said that "10,066 families in Ohio, Pennsylvania, New York, Indiana and West Virginia had received outright gifts totaling $2,424,485 from the organization." "At the height of the catastrophe," Gen. Gruenther said, "the Red Cross was caring for 26,213 people and operating 82 emergency shelters throughout the five affected states."

Emmerling pointed out that "far too few of us are aware of how much our Red Cross does to alleviate suffering following disasters like this — for we in this area have been fortunate. Even so, our local chapter expended nearly $1,500 since June 1958 for "disaster service". Our local funds must be replenished and we must help our neighbors who are less fortunate by meeting our campaign goal of $15,902."

Emmerling has scheduled meetings next week with Assistant Fund Chairmen James Locke and W. Edward Adkins, along with various division heads, in an effort to spur the final solicitation and reports of all workers.

Ceramic Society Expects 2,500 For Annual Meeting

East Liverpool district ceramic executives and technicians will be among 2,500 from all parts of the nation and many foreign countries scheduled to attend the 61st annual meeting of the American Ceramic Society May 17-21 at Chicago.

The sessions will be conducted by Richard S. Bradley of Mexico, Mo., president. He is vice president and director of research for the A. P. Green Fire Brick Co.

Bradley will conduct the general session and business meeting of the society on the opening day, the semi - annual meeting of the Board of Trustees and the program for the annual banquet. He also will induct new officers and three division trustees.

Scheduled to take office as president is Oscar G. Burch of the Owens - Illinois Glass Co. at Toledo, a leading glass engineer, scientist and administrator. New vice presidents are: J. J. Canfield of the Armco Steel Corp., John H. Koenig of Rutgers University and James I. Mueller of the University of Washington.

The new trustees are: A. C. Siefert of Owens - Corning Fiberglass Co. at Toledo, glass division; Koenig, white wares; Albert H. Couch of the Libbey - Owens-Ford Glass Co., for the National Institute of Ceramic Engineers, and Joseph A. Pask of the University of California, for the Ceramic Educational Council.

More than 220 papers on the science and technology of ceramics are on the program of the 9 divisions that make up the society. It is the largest number of papers ever offered at the annual meeting.

Highest honors of the American Ceramic world will be awarded as part of the session. Setting a new precedent, two men will be named honorary members. Twenty-four will be elevated to fellows of the society. In addition, the society will present the Ross Coffin Purdy Award, the John Jeppson Medal and the Charles Fergus Binns Medal.

The annual Orton Memorial Lecture will be given by David Swan, vice president of research of the Linde Co. Division of Union Carbide Corp. He is the author of numerous papers in the fields of metallurgy and welding.

Students in ceramic schools will receive prizes in two contests. The 10th annual Ferro Corp. student contest prizes — checks and certificates — will be presented as part of the enamel division program. Ben F. Sweo, technical director of Ferro, will make the presentation.

Ferro is the parent concern of both the Louthan Manufacturing Co. and the Patterson Foundry & Machine Co.

Four finalists will compete in the annual student speaking contest. William J. Knapp of the University of California will be in charge.

Departing from tradition, a woman will be the speaker at the annual banquet. Ann Landers, whose advice column runs in the Review and 300 other newspapers, will tell something of what she has learned from her daily stacks of mail.

Plant trips will conclude the program. Ceramic plants in the Chicago area will open their doors to show the visitors their factory operations, laboratories and examples of their products.

Operators And Miners Await Court's Action

PIKEVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Holdout coal mine operators and the United Mine Workers of America took a wait-and-see position today with a petition for a strike injunction under court consideration.

Three members of the Pike County Coal Operators Assn. Thursday asked Pike Circuit Court for an injunction against the UMW. Judge James B. Stephenson promised a decision next week.

The operators charged the UMW was "trying to intimidate miners willing to work without a contract."

More than 7,000 men have been idled since March 9, when the UMW fight for a $2 raise to a $24.25 a day wage began in Harlan County. The strike spread to Bell, Perry, Pike, Letcher and Knott counties as contracts expired.

The office of Chief Justice of the Supreme Court is the highest appointive post in the United States.

Stabbed To Death

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A man tentatively identified as James N. Faulkner was stabbed to death in a knife fight Thursday night at an apartment here into which he had moved only an hour earlier. Police said James R. Johnson, 44, called them to the scene and admitted the stabbing. Police did not indicate what prompted the fight. Johnson, slashed on the cheek, was held for investigation.

Constable Chases Man Resembling Flying Robber

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—A Pennsylvania constable gave chase late Thursday to a man resembling fugitive Frank L. Sprenz.

Constable Lawrence Rich of Mahoningtown, Pa., said the man was driving a 1959 Oldsmobile. When last seen, he was on Western Reserve Road about 10 miles south of here. Rich did not get the auto's license number.

Sprenz, 29, is one of the FBI's 10 most wanted criminals. He is accused of a $25,955 bank holdup on March 2 at Hamilton, Ohio, where he used a stolen plane to aid his flight.

He left a trail of stolen autos into Pennsylvania and back into Ohio. An Oldsmobile which disappeared the night of March 4 at Ashtabula has been found in Covington, Va. FBI agents said that on March 5 a man resembling Sprenz purchased an auto 20 miles away at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., and that is the last tangible clue on the trail.

The death of Joseph is related at the end of the last chapter of Gensis Genesis in the Bible.

Bills Would Improve Use Of Ohio Strip Mine Land

BY DUANE E. CROFT
Review Staff Correspondent

COLUMBUS, Ohio — Ohio will be able to save more and make better use of coal strip-mine lands if companion bills now in the hopper are approved by the 103rd General Assembly.

Both are expected to be assigned to committees soon to start their travels along the legislative route according to Rep. Joseph Loha (D-Jefferson), spokesman for the sponsors.

One of the measures, co-authored by Rep. Paul B. Siple (D-Lawrence) and Rep. Vernon G. Hisrich (D-Tuscarawas), would tighten control over reclamation procedures and spell out in greater detail the responsibility of mine operators to return strip land to usable form.

The other, co-sponsored with Loha by Hisrich, Rep. Rhoderic G. Mills (D-Perry) and Rep. Robert L. Roderer (D-Montgomery), would shift administration of the program to the Division of Forestry and give the state authority to buy, restore and sell strip or eroded land not covered by recent reclamation laws.

Under the first bill land to be strip mined would be classified in eight categories, defined by the Conservation Service of the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture.

A mine operator working land in one of the first five classes would be required to remove and set aside 10 inches of top soil. After completing his mining he would have to refill the last cut to conform as nearly as possible to the original contour and replace the top soil so that the land could be tilled by farm machinery.

Lands in the remaining categories, which would apply to steeper slopes, would have to be graded to permit farm machinery.

Sufficient soil would have to be placed in the last cut to reduce the height of the high wall 50 per cent.

The bill would increase the operator's original bond deposit from $220 to $500 an acre, of which $440 would be returned to him if he met the requirements of the program.

The measure would also tighten up the program by requiring that professional engineers prepare the mining map and by removing the present six-man limit on the enforcement staff.

"The program this bill is designed to accomplish has two purposes," Loha said, "It seeks to save good tillable land from ruin and to permit the recovery of valuable coal deposits.

"We know the program will work because it is already being followed by some mining firms in Jefferson and Harrison counties."

The companion bill would transfer the functions of the Division of Reclamation of the Agriculture Dept. to the Division of Forestry in the Dept. of Natural Resources. This would also give the Natural Resources director control over the reclamation program.

The state would be authorized to buy lands long idled by strip mining or erosion. It would study the land and its surrounding territory to determine the best way to reclaim it and its best potential use.

After restoring it, the state could use it itself or sell it. Receipts would go into the general fund.

Gov. Michael V. DiSalle requested in his state of the state message a program to reclaim old strip mine lands. He also encouraged the study of the possibility of developing such areas for recreational use as state, lakes and parks.

For Military Men, Scientists

High-Altitude A-Blasts Produced Valuable Data

WASHINGTON (AP) — America's spectacular high altitude nuclear blasts produced valuable information for both military men and scientists, officials say.

But they are talking only in general terms about knowledge gained from the three space explosions late last summer which sent a man-made electronic sheet around the world.

After the hugh-hush tests became known, Deputy Secretary of Defense Donald Quarles told a news conference Thursday:

1. The world's first known nuclear blasts in space helped the national security.

2. The tests advanced the basis of knowledge required to develop antimissile missiles; they produced results that will be used in perfecting radar systems needed to put an antimissile missile on course; they gave information to back up the Nike-Zeus antimissile now under development.

3. The explosions 300 miles above the South Atlantic will help U.S. offensive weapons.

Questions about the "how" of these statements got no answers.

Pentagon officials, however, indicated knowledge that certain radio frequencies and electromagnetic impulses would be interrupted by high altitude radiation.

The tests indicated a sort of electronic veil can be thrown around the earth to cut radar and radio reception. This might make it possible to knock out a nation's early warning system by nuclear blasts on the edges of space. Even if the invisible veil lasted only hours, it would be long enough to hide the rapid advance of attacking missiles or bombers.

On the other hand, some sources had suggested a high nuclear blast could release enough radiation to make a dud of an enemy nuclear bomb. But many physicists doubt this is even a possibility.

Nonmilitary results of the tests eventually will be made public.

Nine ships of a special Navy task force took part in the secret project known as Argus. They included the aircraft carrier Tarawa and four destroyers. The 57-foot-long rockets that jabbed into space with their atomic payload were launched from the converted seaplane tender Norton Sound last Aug. 27, Aug. 30 and Sept. 6.

7-Stage Rocket Aimed To Take Man To Moon

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — A space scientist says a seven-stage rocket to take man to the moon within the next four years is in the planning stages.

The rocket, called Nova, was described at a conference here Thursday by Dr. Abe Silverstein, director of space flight development for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Silverstein said the first three stages will be 260 feet tall—about equal to a 26-story building. He gave no details of the final four stages.

The first three stages will power the rocket to the moon. It may carry two or three men. A fourth stage will slow the rocket down for landing on the moon, and the other three will return it to earth.

President And Dean Picked For Seminary

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Dr. John W. Dickhaut of Columbus and Dr. Van Bogard Dunn of Jackson, Tenn., have been selected as president and dean, respectively, of the new Methodist Theological Seminary in Ohio.

They were named Thursday by the board of trustees. The school, under construction three miles south of Delaware, opens in September 1960.

Dickhaut, former superintendent of the Dayton and Columbus districts of the Methodist Church, began directing the organization for the school's establishment for the last four years.

Dunn has been pastor of Forest Heights Methodist Church in Jackson, Tenn., since 1954.

Antenna Beamed Signal To Venus, Caught Its Echo

WESTFORD, Mass. (AP) — An 84-foot dish antenna here has beamed a radar signal 28 million miles to the planet Venus and caught its echo five minutes later.

The 56-million-mile round trip transmission, in February 1958, consumed 10 cents worth of electricity for a 300-kilowatt signal but analyzing the data that came back took nearly half a billion calculations on an electronic brain at Massachusetts Institute of Technology. It cost thousands of dollars and months of time.

Scientists at the Lincoln Laboratory project operated by MIT for the Air Force called the feat a notable step in space exploration. They said it permitted the first measurement with great accuracy of inter-planetary distances — an essential to future navigation in space.

The signal, bouncing off Venus, man's nearest neighbor beyond the moon, was disclosed Thursday night with a telegram from President Eisenhower offering congratulations upon a "notable achievement in our peaceful ventures into outer space."

Radar signals were bounced off the moon 13 years ago. The moon is less than a quarter million miles from the earth.

Out Of The Air

By JOHN CROSBY

Conversation, Anyone!

This has been quite a year for conversation, if conversation is quite the word for it. From California, Jack Paar issues a howl of rage to the effect that the movie stars don't know how to ad lib, that they are lost without their writers. Mr. Paar wonders mournfully what he's doing out there with an ad lib show. Yet Hollywood is the place that spawned Oscar Levant than whom you can't get ad libber.

John Crosby

From the same community comes word that Pamela Mason on her ad lib show stirred up a small hornet's nest by declaring that Rod Steiger is the kind of actor who scratches his behind and calls it Method acting.

It doesn't seem to me that either Levant or Mrs. Mason need writers, exactly. Just editors.

IN NEW YORK, where conversation might be said to have its headquarters, the conversational show reached a pinnacle of somo sort on the Ben Hecht show when Salvador Dali described the three kinds of love as sadism, masochism and platonic love of a rather unusual nature.

Shortly thereafter, Mr. Hecht's show departed the air, not necessarily because of that show. It's been a strange year. With the entertainment shows getting blander and blander, the talk shows have bordered more and more on the sensational.

And the most sensational — in point of pure shock value — was Sam Levenson pleading for a revival of the old-fashioned moral values of his youth. It's been some time since anyone has had the courage to put those sentiments into words.

Still, the conversation flows, especially on WNTA in New York where Ted Cott knows a good thing when he sees it.

ON WNTA, the air pulsates with talk — Fannie Hurst, Mike Wallace, David Susskind, Martin Gabel, Alexander King — and a couple more upcoming. To say nothing of their guests who sometimes, though by no means always, get in a word edgewise.

One place where no guest has got so much as a single word, in edge or any other wise, is on Alexander King's program. This "painter, playwright, and raconteur," hitherto curbed to 20 minutes or so on Jack Paar's show, has been untethered altogether on his own show called "Alex in Wonderland" on WNTA.

On opening night, King announced he had no guests that night.

"I didn't invite anyone because I didn't want to be interrupted," he explained.

FORTHWITH he plunged into anecdote. This continued for an hour, interrupted only by a marvelously naive drum solo by his young wife.

Is this conversation? Conversation generally is understood to be a colloquy among several people. King's forte is monologue and it is conversation only in the sense that he needs listeners as mammals need air.

They are marvelous stories, full of a distinctive flavor of their own, brimful of celebrated names, scatological references, thorny opinions, and wit.

"I deplore the beat generation so much," King said, "I can't read their books. I find them dull and full of self-pity. When I was in my 20s, I belonged to the lost generation, but we were lost with taste."

One hour of this was quite a stunt and help me limp with admiration. But I'm not at all sure I'm going to be equally spellbound every week. It's a little exhausting.

Grass Fire Threatens Chester Area Buildings

A small grass fire at the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Crawford of Fairview Rd., about three miles south of Chester, was extinguished without damage Thursday about 12:40 p. m.

Chester firemen were called when flames threatened three outbuildings, but Miss Barbara Gerhart, a niece of the family, and neighbors quelled the flames before the firemen arrived.

Rail And River Freight Show Big Increases

Chamber's Summary Lists February Gain In 8 Area Indices

Approach of spring brought a strong surge in river and rail movement of raw materials and finished products, judging from a big upswing in barge and freight car traffic in February, the Chamber of Commerce said today in its monthly summary of conditions.

Eight area business and industrial indices showed gains last month, compared with February, while six declined. A comparison of the first 2 months of 1959 with the same period in 1958 showed 8 gains and 6 declines.

Inbound railroad carloadings last month hit 371, a gain of 29.3 per cent from the 287 shown in January. They total 658 for the first 2 months of 1959, a gain of 67 per cent over the 394 shown at the same time in 1958.

Outbound carloadings totaled 342 last month, an increase of 25.3 per cent over the 273 shown in January. They total 615 for the first 2 months of the year, up 43.7 per cent from the 428 shown at the same time in 1958.

Dam 8 at Newell locked through 418 tows in February, a gain of 81.7 per cent from the 230 recorded in January. It handled 648 river craft in the first 2 months of 1959, an increase of 19.1 per cent over the 544 shown at the same time in 1958.

February's river traffic represented 1,484,900 tons of freight, up 27.7 per cent from the 1,162,500 shown in January. The total handled in the first 2 months of 1959 was 2,647,400 tons, an increase of 30 per cent over the 2,036,600 tons shown at the same time in 1958.

Employment at 11 area factories climbed from 4,190 in January to 4,214 in February, an increase of 0.06 per cent. It averaged 4,202 in the first 2 months of 1959, down 5.5 per cent from the 4,447 monthly average shown at the same time in 1958.

Payrolls at the same plants hit $990,269 in February, down 8.8 per cent from the $1,085,790 in January. A two-week work stoppage at the Homer Laughlin China Co. probably helped account for part of the February decline.

Payrolls at the same plants total $2,076,059 so far in 1959, down 18.1 per cent from the $2,533,420 shown at the same time in 1958.

February also brought a mild upturn in sales of new and used cars, another harbinger of the approach of spring. New car sales in Columbiana County totaled 239 last month, up 2.1 per cent from the 234 shown in January. They total 473 for the first 2 months of 1959, an increase of 24.1 per cent over the 381 recorded at the same time in 1958.

Used car sales hit 695 in February, a gain of 3 per cent over the 675 shown in January. There was no comparison listed for cumulative totals for the sales in the first 2 months of 1959 against the same time in 1958.

The city's relief case load fell from 106 in January to 96 in February, a drop of 9.4 per cent. It averaged 101 monthly for the first 2 months of 1959, up 8.6 per cent from the 93 average shown at the same time in 1958.

The city's parking meter receipts hit $3,771 in February, down 13.9 per cent from the $4,382 shown in January. They stand at $8,153 for the first 2 months of 1959, off 9.1 per cent from the $8,973 shown at the same time in 1958.

Sales tax receipts in February hit $42,208, down 7 per cent from January's $45,386. They stand at $87,594 for the first 2 months of 1959, an increase of 12.5 per cent over the $77,833 shown in the comparable period of 1958.

Postal receipts fell from $25,545 in January to $20,247 in February, a drop of 20.6 per cent. They total $45,819 for the first 2 months of 1959, up 27.6 per cent from the $35,921 shown at the same time in 1958.

Bank debits hit $19,272,447 in February, a drop of 13.7 per cent from the $22,327,531 shown in January. They averaged $20,799,989 monthly for the first 2 months of 1959, an increase of 3.9 per cent from the $20,018,130 average shown at the same time in 1958.

Bank clearings totaled $2,974,874 in February, down 13.2 per cent from the $3,427,283 recorded in January. They stand at $6,402,156 for the first two months of 1959, down 3.8 per cent from the $6,654,817 shown at the same time in 1958.

West Virginia, Pennsylvania

2 States Given Assurance Of Interstate Road Study

WASHINGTON (AP) — A high ranking highway official for the federal government has assured there will be careful consideration of extending a proposed Interstate route to the Pennsylvania southern border and through West Virginia.

E. L. Armstrong, commissioner of public roads, offered that assurance to Gov. Cecil H. Underwood of West Virginia and a gathering that included about 50 persons from his state and neighboring Pennsylvania.

But Armstrong emphasized that 41,000 miles in the Interstate Highway System have been allocated except for a small reserve held against contingencies.

He said some mileage may be left over after detailed studies are made in the next several years. Armstrong remarked:

"If we do have mileage left over, we can assure you we will give very objective and thorough consideration of the points you've brought up . . ."

Rep. Arch A. Moore (R-WVa) arranged the conference here yesterday.

West Virginia and Pennsylvania governmental and road officials agreed that extension of proposed Interstate 79 from Washington, Pa., to Beckley, W. Va., would product a much desired impact on the two states.

Underwood, in presenting his state's case for such an extended route, said the road could provide a missing link in the Interstate system and open a valuable economic opportunity for north central West Virginia, which is staggering from the decline of the coal Industry.

It also was stressed that outdated roads currently harass motorists in the mountainous area.

The proposed Interstate highway approved by the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads and Pennsylvania will connect Erie, Pa., on the Great Lakes with the Pittsburgh area.

Court of Common Pleas Judge J. I. Hook of Waynesburg, Pa., said his Green County community needs the north - south highway.

"I'm here to sell you a bill of goods — the life or death of a community," he said.

West Virginia road officials said if the Interstate route would be extended, it would roughly parallel U. S. 19, which runs from the Pennsylvania border near Morgantown, W. Va., to Beckley.

When Huntley turned, holding what appeared to be a revolver, police fired. Huntley was holding a plastic toy resembling a police revolver, police said. He was reported in fair condition at City Hospital with a chest wound.

The Midland Municipal Authority will advertise for bids to clean the Midland Heights reservoir, Dr. Zanvel Sigal, chairman, announced following a meeting Wednesday evening in the water offices.

Granville Kester, representative of Michael Baker Jr., Inc., of Rochester, consulting engineers, discussed the condition of the reservoir. Bids will be asked Thursday.

Man Who Was Fearing For His Life Killed

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—One month before he died in a blazing gun battle, Barney Silva wrote a letter saying he feared for his life.

"I, Barney Silva, consider this man, John Sorin, a direct threat to my life," were his words.

Silva and Sorin shot each other to death early Wednesday in the home of Sorin's cousin, Dorothy Chester, 38, of Hollywood.

Sorin, 47, had gone to the house to urge his cousin to return to her husband. An argument started when he found Silva there.

Silva's letter, intended as a will, was written Feb. 16. Silva's widow, Leola, 37, submitted it to Superior Court Thursday.

Lisbon Firemen Called On Rural Grass Fires

LISBON — Volunteer firemen were called on two grass fires Thursday afternoon within 2½ hours, but there was no damage, according to acting Fire Chief Thirl Flugan.

One was at 2:40 p. m. on Hunters Camp Rd. off Route 45 about 2 miles north on the Howard Myers and Robert Bowers farms and the other at 5 p. m. near the ABC Mining Co. just north of Elkton. The Center Township fire truck was used on both calls.

'45-'46 Children Seen Not Immune To Virus

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—State Health Director Ralph E. Dwork says children born since 1945-46 probably would not be immune to an epidemic of the B-strain influenza virus.

Dwork said Thursday the last identifiable B-strain influenza epidemic hit the nation about 13 years ago and children born since then have not had a chance to build an immunity to it.

Influenza cases reported in Ohio through the end of last week totaled 525, he said, compared with 238 for the same period last year, with the 1959 cumulative total at 1,757.

WHAT DOCTORS SAY ABOUT:
Better Health Through Knowledge

Q. "Is there a medicine that can be taken by mouth for protection against poison ivy?" —R.A.

A. There are several preparations that are taken by mouth in drop dosage to protect against poison ivy. As an example of dosage, one drop may be given daily the first week, two drops daily the second week, and so on, building the daily dose up gradually. Acquiring resistance to poison ivy isn't so easy as it sounds and the good effects, if secured, wear off in about 6 months. Some people react sharply to just one drop of these poison ivy preparations. Doctors know how to avoid this so it is best not to try dosing yourself without medical advice. American Indians were the first to do something about preventing poison ivy and even today some tribes "protect" themselves each spring by chewing poison ivy leaves. Whether leaf-chewing helps is another question. In any case, this method isn't recommended.

Q. A Washington reader sends this letter (paraphrased): "After taking penicillin I broke out all over and my face became very swollen. This went away but I now have a red rash that breaks out in my mouth quite often. I have never had anything wrong with my mouth before. Could it be the penicillin?"

A. A direct yes or no answer can't be given but delayed-action flare-ups to penicillin do occur. Out of any large group of people a certain number will be sensitive or allergic to something. It may be penicillin, ragweed, household detergents, nail polish or what have you. Penicillin has a good record but about one person out of a hundred act up when they take it. For example, of almost 13,000 Navy recruits given a penicillin shot, a little over 1 per cent had trouble. In most cases symptoms went away promptly and didn't return but some men had repeats. Several recruits had flare-ups every so often for two or three months. Very often the recurrences involved parts of the body where slight injury occurred. Rifle drill caused the hands to swell—marching produced swollen feet. Fortunately, the relapses or late flare-ups gradually tapered off.

Answers do not necessarily reflect the opinion of all doctors. The diagnosis and treatment of disease is the function of the patient's personal physician. Questions directed to Science Editors, P.O. Box 396, Madison Sq. Sta., N. Y. 10, N. Y. will be incorporated in these columns when possible.

Out Of The Air

By JOHN CROSBY

Conversation, Anyone!

John Crosby

This has been quite a year for conversation, if conversation is quite the word for it. From California, Jack Paar issues a howl of rage to the effect that the movie stars don't know how to ad lib, that they are lost without their writers. Mr. Paar wonders mournfully what he's doing out there with an ad lib show. Yet Hollywood is the place that spawned Oscar Levant than whom you can't get ad libber.

From the same community comes word that Pamela Mason on her ad lib show stirred up a small hornet's nest by declaring that Rod Steiger is the kind of actor who scratches his behind and calls it Method acting.

It doesn't seem to me that either Levant or Mrs. Mason need writers, exactly. Just editors.

IN NEW YORK, where conversation might be said to have its headquarters, the conversational show reached a pinnacle of some sort on the Ben Hecht show when Salvador Dali described the three kinds of love as sadism, masochism and platonic love of a rather unusual nature.

Shortly thereafter, Mr. Hecht's show departed the air, not necessarily because of that show. It's been a strange year. With the entertainment shows getting blander and blander, the talk shows have bordered more and more on the sensational.

And the most sensational — in point of pure shock value — was Sam Levenson pleading for a revival of the old-fashioned moral values of his youth. It's been some time since anyone has had the courage to put those sentiments into words.

Still, the conversation flows, especially on WNTA in New York where Ted Cott knows a good thing when he sees it.

ON WNTA, the air pulsates with talk — Fannie Hurst, Mike Wallace, David Susskind, Martin Gabel, Alexander King — and a couple more upcoming. To say nothing of their guests who sometimes, though by no means always, get in a word edgewise.

One place where no guest has got so much as a single word, in edge or any other wise, is on Alexander King's program. This "painter, playwright, and raconteur," hitherto curbed to 20 minutes or so on Jack Paar's show, has been untethered altogether on his own show called "Alex in Wonderland" on WNTA.

On opening night, King announced he had no guests that night.

"I didn't invite anyone because I didn't want to be interrupted," he explained.

FORTHWITH he plunged into anecdote. This continued for an hour, interrupted only by a marvelously naive drum solo by his young wife.

Is this conversation? Conversation generally is understood to be a colloquy among several people. King's forte is monologue and it is conversation only in the sense that he needs listeners as mammals need air.

They are marvelous stories, full of a distinctive flavor of their own, brimful of celebrated names, scatological references, thorny opinions, and wit.

"I deplore the beat generation so much," King said, "I can't read their books. I find them dull and full of self-pity. When I was in my 20s, I belonged to the lost generation, but we were lost with taste."

One hour of this was quite a stunt and help me limp with admiration. But I'm not at all sure I'm going to be equally spellbound every week. It's a little exhausting.

Grass Fire Threatens Chester Area Buildings

A small grass fire at the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Crawford of Fairview Rd., about three miles south of Chester, was extinguished without damage Thursday about 12:40 p. m.

Chester firemen were called when flames threatened three outbuildings, but Miss Barbara Gerhart, a niece of the family, and neighbors quelled the flames before the firemen arrived.

Rail And River Freight Show Big Increases

Chamber's Summary Lists February Gain In 8 Area Indices

Approach of spring brought a strong surge in river and rail movement of raw materials and finished products, judging from a big upswing in barge and freight car traffic in February, the Chamber of Commerce said today in its monthly summary of conditions.

Eight area business and industrial indices showed gains last month, compared with February, while six declined. A comparison of the first 2 months of 1959 with the same period in 1958 showed 8 gains and 6 declines.

Inbound railroad carloadings last month hit 371, a gain of 29.3 per cent from the 287 shown in January. They total 658 for the first 2 months of 1959, a gain of 67 per cent over the 394 shown at the same time in 1958.

Outbound carloadings totaled 342 last month, an increase of 25.3 per cent over the 273 shown in January. They total 615 for the first 2 months of the year, up 43.7 per cent from the 428 shown at the same time in 1958.

Dam 8 at Newell locked through 418 tows in February, a gain of 81.7 per cent from the 230 recorded in January. It handled 648 river craft in the first 2 months of 1959, an increase of 19.1 per cent over the 544 shown at the same time in 1958.

February's river traffic represented 1,484,900 tons of freight, up 27.7 per cent from the 1,162,500 shown in January. The total handled in the first 2 months of 1959 was 2,647,400 tons, an increase of 30 per cent over the 2,036,600 tons shown at the same time in 1958.

Employment at 11 area factories climbed from 4,190 in January to 4,214 in February, an increase of 0.06 per cent. It averaged 4,202 in the first 2 months of 1959, down 5.5 per cent from the 4,447 monthly average shown at the same time in 1958.

Payrolls at the same plants hit $990,269 in February, down 8.8 per cent from the $1,085,790 in January. A two-week work stoppage at the Homer Laughlin China Co. probably helped account for part of the February decline.

Payrolls at the same plants total $2,076,059 so far in 1959, down 18.1 per cent from the $2,533,420 shown at the same time in 1958.

February also brought a mild upturn in sales of new and used cars, another harbinger of the approach of spring. New car sales in Columbiana County totaled 239 last month, up 2.1 per cent from the 234 shown in January. They total 473 for the first 2 months of 1959, an increase of 24.1 per cent over the 381 recorded at the same time in 1958.

Used car sales hit 695 in February, a gain of 3 per cent over the 675 shown in January. There was no comparison listed for cumulative totals for the sales in the first 2 months of 1959 against the same time in 1958.

The city's relief case load fell from 106 in January to 96 in February, a drop of 9.4 per cent. It averaged 101 monthly for the first 2 months of 1959, up 8.6 per cent from the 93 average shown at the same time in 1958.

The city's parking meter receipts hit $3,771 in February, down 13.9 per cent from the $4,382 shown in January. They stand at $8,153 for the first 2 months of 1959, off 9.1 per cent from the $8,973 shown at the same time in 1958.

Sales tax receipts in February hit $42,208, down 7 per cent from January's $45,386. They stand at $87,594 for the first 2 months of 1959, an increase of 12.5 per cent over the $77,833 shown in the comparable period of 1958.

Postal receipts fell from $25,545 in January to $20,247 in February, a drop of 20.6 per cent. They total $45,819 for the first 2 months of 1959, up 27.6 per cent from the $35,921 shown at the same time in 1958.

Bank debits hit $19,272,447 in February, a drop of 13.7 per cent from the $22,327,531 shown in January. They averaged $20,799,989 monthly for the first 2 months of 1959, an increase of 3.9 per cent from the $20,018,130 average shown at the same time in 1958.

Bank clearings totaled $2,974,874 in February, down 13.2 per cent from the $3,427,283 recorded in January. They stand at $6,402,156 for the first two months of 1959, down 3.8 per cent from the $6,654,817 shown at the same time in 1958.

Annual 'Doctor's Day' Held At City Hospital

The third annual "Doctor's Day", honoring area physicians and dentists, was held today at City Hospital under the sponsorship of the women's auxiliary of the Columbiana County Medical Society.

A breakfast was held at 9:30 in a downstairs classroom at the hospital, and guests were presented red carnations. Mrs. John Fraser was chairman of the event. Mrs. William Banfield is auxiliary president.

West Virginia, Pennsylvania

2 States Given Assurance Of Interstate Road Study

WASHINGTON (AP) — A high ranking highway official for the federal government has assured there will be careful consideration of extending a proposed Interstate route to the Pennsylvania southern border and through West Virginia.

E. L. Armstrong, commissioner of public roads, offered that assurance to Gov. Cecil H. Underwood of West Virginia and a gathering that included about 50 persons from his state and neighboring Pennsylvania.

But Armstrong emphasized that 41,000 miles in the Interstate Highway System have been allocated except for a small reserve held against contingencies.

He said some mileage may be left over after detailed studies are made in the next several years. Armstrong remarked:

"If we do have mileage left over, we can assure you we will give very objective and thorough consideration of the points you've brought up . . ."

Rep. Arch A. Moore (R-WVa) arranged the conference here yesterday.

West Virginia and Pennsylvania governmental and road officials agreed that extension of proposed Interstate 79 from Washington, Pa., to Beckley, W. Va., would product a much desired impact on the two states.

Underwood, in presenting his state's case for such an extended route, said the road could provide a missing link in the Interstate system and open a valuable economic opportunity for north central West Virginia, which is staggering from the decline of the coal Industry.

It also was stressed that outdated roads currently harass motorists in the mountainous area.

The proposed Interstate highway approved by the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads and Pennsylvania will connect Erie, Pa., on the Great Lakes with the Pittsburgh area.

Court of Common Pleas Judge J. I. Hook of Waynesburg, Pa., said his Green County community needs the north - south highway.

"I'm here to sell you a bill of goods — the life or death of a community," he said.

West Virginia road officials said if the Interstate route would be extended, it would roughly parallel U. S. 19, which runs from the Pennsylvania border near Morgantown, W. Va., to Beckley.

Wounded In Holdup

ALLIANCE, Ohio (AP)—Police shot and wounded 18-year - old Douglas Huntley during a $542 robbery at the Crescent Ice and Coal Co. Thursday. Police arrived as Huntley, with a stocking over his face, was piling tires against a washroom, where he had locked S. C. Stone, 75, owner of the firm, and Thomas Funk, 16, a customer. When Huntley turned, holding what appeared to be a revolver, police fired. Huntley was holding a plastic toy resembling a police revolver, police said. He was reported in fair condition at City Hospital with a chest wound.

Bids Will Be Sought For Reservoir Cleaning

The Midland Municipal Authority will advertise for bids to clean the Midland Heights reservoir, Dr. Zanvel Sigal, chairman, announced following a meeting Wednesday evening in the water offices.

Granville Kester, representative of Michael Baker Jr., Inc., of Rochester, consulting engineers, discussed the condition of the reservoir. Bids will be asked Thursday.

Sigal said that after the cleaning, the reservoir will be inspected for any repairs and then will be painted. Kester reported that the Hammond Iron Works of Warren, Pa., had been contacted about painting the new 8th St. reservoir.

Next meeting will be April 15.

Man Who Was Fearing For His Life Killed

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—One month before he died in a blazing gun battle, Barney Silva wrote a letter saying he feared for his life.

"I, Barney Silva, consider this man, John Sorin, a direct threat to my life," were his words.

Silva and Sorin shot each other to death early Wednesday in the home of Sorin's cousin, Dorothy Chester, 38, of Hollywood.

Sorin, 47, had gone to the house to urge his cousin to return to her husband. An argument started when he found Silva there.

Silva's letter, intended as a will, was written Feb. 16. Silva's widow, Leola, 37, submitted it to Superior Court Thursday.

Lisbon Firemen Called On Rural Grass Fires

LISBON — Volunteer firemen were called on two grass fires Thursday afternoon within 2½ hours, but there was no damage, according to acting Fire Chief Thirl Flugan.

One was at 2:40 p. m. on Hunters Camp Rd. off Route 45 about 2 miles north on the Howard Myers and Robert Bowers farms and the other at 5 p. m. near the ABC Mining Co. just north of Elkton. The Center Township fire truck was used on both calls.

'45-'46 Children Seen Not Immune To Virus

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—State Health Director Ralph E. Dwork says children born since 1945-46 probably would not be immune to an epidemic of the B-strain influenza virus.

Dwork said Thursday the last identifiable B-strain influenza epidemic hit the nation about 13 years ago and children born since then have not had a chance to build an immunity to it.

Influenza cases reported in Ohio through the end of last week totaled 525, he said, compared with 238 for the same period last year, with the 1959 cumulative total at 1,757.

WHAT DOCTORS SAY ABOUT:

Better Health Through Knowledge

Q. "Is there a medicine that can be taken by mouth for protection against poison ivy?" —R.A.

A. There are several preparations that are taken by mouth in drop dosage to protect against poison ivy. As an example of dosage, one drop may be given daily the first week, two drops daily the second week, and so on, building the daily dose up gradually. Acquiring resistance to poison ivy isn't so easy as it sounds and the good effects, if secured, wear off in about 6 months. Some people react sharply to just one drop of these poison ivy preparations. Doctors know how to avoid this so it is best not to try dosing yourself without medical advice. American Indians were the first to do something about preventing poison ivy and even today some tribes "protect" themselves each spring by chewing poison ivy leaves. Whether leaf-chewing helps is another question. In any case, this method isn't recommended.

Q. A Washington reader sends this letter (paraphrased): "After taking penicillin I broke out all over and my face became very swollen. This went away but I now have a red rash that breaks out in my mouth quite often. I have never had anything wrong with my mouth before. Could it be the penicillin?"

A. A direct yes or no answer can't be given but delayed-action flare-ups to penicillin do occur. Out of any large group of people a certain number will be sensitive or allergic to something. It may be penicillin, ragweed, household detergents, nail polish or what have you. Penicillin has a good record but about one person out of a hundred act up when they take it. For example, of almost 13,000 Navy recruits given a penicillin shot, a little over 1 per cent had trouble. In most cases symptoms went away promptly and didn't return but some men had repeats. Several recruits had flare-ups every so often for two or three months. Very often the recurrences involved parts of the body where slight injury occurred. Rifle drill caused the hands to swell—marching produced swollen feet. Fortunately, the relapses or late flare-ups gradually tapered off.

Answers do not necessarily reflect the opinion of all doctors. The diagnosis and treatment of disease is the function of the patient's personal physician. Questions directed to Science Editors, P.O. Box 396, Madison Sq. Sta., N. Y. 10, N. Y. will be incorporated in these columns when possible.

Salem Five Shoots For Crack At East Tech

The Sports Bench

By BOB DUFFY
Sports Editor

There Seems Cause For Concern . . .

We're sorry to see East Liverpool lose John Karaffa. In our opinion, he was one of the nicest guys who ever set foot on the Memorial Auditorium floor.

But in coaching, unfortunately, nice guys don't always win. After two winning seasons, John came up with a bad one. When you lose 17 and win only 3, the pressure is there.

We feel the blame for the dismal record can be shared equally by the coach and the players.

John wasn't overblessed with material and we question whether another coach would have done much better last season. But there were times when possibly he was too easy with the boys and a more forceful approach might have produced better results.

The schedule itself was a rugged one. There were no "breathers". The Potters can claim the distinction of having played three teams which have reached the finals in three different states — Farrell in Pennsylvania, Weirton in West Virginia and Salem in Ohio.

KARAFFA'S resignation comes at a time when East Liverpool athletic fortunes are at what could be called a new low.

The feeling here is that the cooperation could be better all the way around — players, coaches, administration and fans alike.

Concern has been expressed over the sports situation by many. And we believe there is cause for concern.

For example, the Blue and White Nonpareil Club has given of its time and money consistently over the years to the high school athletic program. The club thrived in 1952 and 1955 when the football squad had undefeated seasons. Club attendance was good and membership hit an all-time high.

But let the Potters suffer a losing season in football or basketball — as during 1958-59 — and too many boosters turn into fair-weather fans and run for cover. When a team is winning every game it doesn't need support nearly as much as when things are going bad. It's human nature to back a winner, but a losing team needs boosters more than ever.

Time after time Karaffa attended Nonpareil meetings during basketball season and only the officers and two or three members were present. Regardless of all the good it has done in the past and will do in the future, this isn't a true boosters' club.

Public meetings too often produce little, but perhaps if the school officials, Nonpareil members and other interested fans could get together, some of the differences might be ironed out. We think it at least is worth a try.

East Liverpool will have a new basketball coach next season. A big job awaits whoever it may be. If he and his staff receive wholehearted cooperation from the beginning, there will be more of a chance for basketball to pull out of its nosedive.

Off To The State Cage Tournament . .

THE STATE tournament is here again and yours truly, along with Chuck Cronin, a member of the sports staff, will sit in on the action today and Saturday at spacious St. John's arena.

Cleveland East Tech is the new schoolboy power which has taken over. Like the Middletown teams of old with Jerry Lucas running wild, the sports writers are asking themselves: "How are you going to beat East Tech?"

However, this same question was asked last year about Middletown. And Columbus North showed how to beat the Middies. North, in turn, lost to East Tech in the state championship game.

Our sentiments will be riding with Salem, but East Tech looks like the pick in the Class "AA" field.

We like Northwestern in the Class "A" ranks. Dean Chance and Co. looks a little too tough for the rest of the field.

Fit And Ready, London Says Of Patterson Bout

LONDON (AP) — If Brian London is scared — or even awed — at the thought of meeting world heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson, he doesn't show it.

"I am ready to meet Patterson tomorrow," he proclaimed today. "I am fit and ready."

The former British heavyweight champion meets Patterson in a world title fight in Las Vegas, Nev., April 21. This one has been billed as a tuneup for Patterson for Ingmar Johansson of Sweden in New York probably June 23.

London said he planned to leave for the United States next week to get "acclimatized."

"I never have seen Patterson except on films," he admitted. "But I am looking forward to the fight. I'll go in fighting and throwing punches. I've always given the crowd its money's worth and I'll do it against Patterson."

The local folks aren't too enthused over London's chances and one of the top bookmakers in England wasted no time in making Patterson a 10-1 favorite.

Sime And Morrow To Resume Sprint 'Feud' Saturday

ODESSA, Tex. (AP) — Another duel between Dave Sime and Bobby Morrow, a couple of those "world's fastest humans," furnished all the talk today as the West Texas Relays opened with 700 schoolboys in action.

Saturday Sime, the Duke Redhead, and Morrow, the Olympic sprint champion from Abilene Christian College, have at it for the fourth time.

Sime, holder of the world's record in the 200-yard dash at 20.0 and co-holder along with Morrow and five others of the world's 100-yard record at 9:3, is one up on the Abilene Christian star.

Twice Sime beat Morrow in the 100 and once Morrow beat Sime in the 100 meters.

With Glenn Davis, the Ohio state hurdles and quarter - mile king, as competition plus four other Texas sprint stars. Sime and Morrow clash Saturday afternoon in the 100.

Faces Middies In Semi-Final Game Tonight

Salem has more than one reason for wanting a crack at Cleveland East Tech, the defending state champ.

East Tech is the only team to defeat the Quakers this season. But before they can think about revenge, they first must pass tonight's big test with a dangerous Middletown squad.

Cleveland is a heavy favorite to wrap up its second straight Ohio crown. East Tech will face Toledo Scott in tonight's semi-final opener at 7:30. The Salem - Middletown game will get under way at 9. The final is set for Saturday at 8 p. m.

This marks the first time since 1937 that a Salem team has been in the state finals.

Coach John Cabas' squad is expected to have its hands full with a tall Middletown five under coach Paul Walker.

Of course, Jerry Lucas won't be around.

But the Middies have size, with a starting five all over the six-foot mark. The lineup will include Dale Woods at 6-foot-6, Benny Roberts, 6-foot-5, Fran Martin 6-foot-3, A. C. Mitchell, 6-foot-2, and Jim Downing 6 feet.

Middletown has allowed its opponents an average of 51.5 points in seven tournament games, which attests to the defense.

Middletown has won seven state championships in nine appearances in the finals.

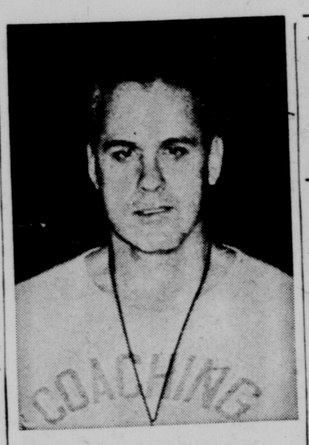

Cabas will counter with his second team All-Ohio choice, Woody Deitch, at 5-foot-10, Dave Hunter, 5-foot-10, big Lou Slaby 6-foot-4, Dan Krichbaum, 5-foot-9, and Clyde Marks, 6-foot-4.

While Deitch and Hunter should do most of the scoring, Slaby is being counted on heavily to control the boards.

This is the second trip to a state tournament for Cabas, who led Columbiana to the Class "B" championship in 1947.

Pro Golfers To Try Again

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Touring pro golfers were ready to take another stab at getting the $15,000 St. Petersburg Open under way today after being thwarted Thursday by a steady downpour which left the Lakeside course virtually one big unplayable lie.

If play can be started today the 71-hole tournament will run through Monday instead of Sunday.

Probably the most thankful for the day's delay is Gary Player, the South African who performed so sensationally over here last year. He won one event, tied for first in two others, losing the playoffs; was second in the National Open, and crossed nearly $22,000 in this country in 1958.

Player made a flying trip from Johannesburg by way of London to arrive in time to open his 1959 competition in the United States here, and he just can't get adjusted to the time change.

He kept dropping off to sleep while holding a daytime conversation with a friend, who finally asked what was wrong.

"It's 5 o'clock in the morning in South Africa," Player said apologetically. "I just don't feel right. I don't expect to be right for about three weeks. I don't believe I'll do well here at all."

Leafs Spring Surprise To Rip Montreal

By The Associated Press

Everybody said, as Toronto wallowed around in the National Hockey League cellar, that the Maple Leafs looked like the makings of a fine team next year.

But the Leafs apparently have decided not to wait. Thursday night, they battered the league-leading Montreal Canadians 6-3 on Montreal's home ice and frightened the wits out of New York Rangers.

The Leafs have 61 points and are in fifth place. New York, holding the fourth and last playoff spot, has 62 points. Each has two games to play.

Since the top three playoff positions are taken by Montreal, Boston and Chicago respectively, the only question is whether Toronto, New York or Detroit will get the fourth.

Dick Duff, who was the first of the Leafs to score 20 goals, added his 27th and 28th Thursday night.

George Armstrong became the sixth Leaf to reach the mark when he scored one goal.

The Toronto power was turned on against a rookie goaler. Regular Jacques Plante sat this one out because of a bad case of boils. Claude (Suitcase) Pronovost took his place. The Leafs blasted five of their goals past him before the Canadiens replaced him with Claude Cyr, who let in the last goal.

Weatherman Hits Exhibition Games

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Cincinnati Reds and Los Angeles Dodgers finally will get together tonight for their hastily scheduled exhibition game after spending Friday playing hide-and-go-seek, thanks to the weatherman.

The two teams will meet in Havana's Gran Stadium. They will play again in Gran Stadium, Saturday instead of Tampa, as originally scheduled.

The fifth straight day of rain on Florida's Gulf Coast caused the sudden shift. The Reds originally were slated to meet St. Louis at St. Petersburg Thursday and the Dodgers to entertain Baltimore at Sarasota. Rain washed out these games.

The Phillies-Detroit, Yankees-Milwaukee, Pittsburgh - Kansas City and Washington - Chicago White Sox also were rained out of Florida games Thursday.

In Arizona Tom Brewer and Murray Wall combined for a 2-1 Boston Red Sox victory over the Chicago Cubs. The pair allowed the Cubs six hits, one Bobby Thomson's home run.

Dave Hillman just missed being the first pitcher to go nine innings this spring. He allowed Boston only four hits and two walks in eight innings.

The San Francisco Giants belted five home runs to outslug the Cleveland Indians, 9-6. Giants' shortstop Andre Rodgers hit two as part of a perfect day at the plate.

Four of the Giant homers were off Herb Score, making his third start of the exhibition season. Minnie Minoso and Woody Held homered for the Indians.

Tiger Manager Shoots For 1st Division Finish

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — Detroit Tiger Manager Bill Norman is making sure he's not going to make the same mistake his predecessor, Jack Tighe, made last year.

A year ago at this time, Tighe, breathing optimism, proclaimed the Tigers 50 per cent improved and predicted they would catch the Yankees. Less than three months later, the Tigers were in last place and Tighe was replaced by Norman.

If Norman has caught the flag fever this year, there are no symptoms. On the contrary, he become slightly annoyed whenever the word pennant is mentioned in connection with his club.

"Let's face facts," Norman said. "The Tigers finished fifth last year, only four games out of seventh. You can't talk about being a contender until you've become a solid first division club.

"Sure, we improved," Norman added, "and I am optimistic about finishing in the first division. But we've got our work cut out for us. Don't forget, the other clubs have improved, too."

The trade with Cleveland that brought relief pitchers Ray Narleski and Don Mossi will strengthen the staff, Norman said, "and the trade with Washington that landed third baseman Eddie Yost and shortstop Rocky Bridges will help the club defensively.

Norman's pride and joy is his pitching, led by starters Jim Bunning, Frank Lary, Paul Foytack and Billy Hoeft. Herm Wehmeier and George Susce will be spot starters and Tom Morgan will be the early reliever. Left-hander Pete Burnside, acquired from San Francisco, has made a good impression, as has right-hander Gerry Davie, a 26-year-old rookie who won 17 and lost five at Charleston last year.

"I've got good pitching," said Norman, "but I lack power and don't have the fastest team in the world. I'd also like to improve my bench. Ossie Alvarez can play second and Coot Veal can play short. I'm experimenting with Larry Osborne, at first baseman, in the outfield and at third."

Long Layoffs No Hindrance To 2 Bowlers

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Practice may make perfect for some people, but a couple of bowlers who competed in the American Bowling Congress Tournament Thursday found the reverse to hold more truth.

Two middle-aged men, both of whom had long layoffs, tied for the high single game of the tournament with 289.

Alan Post, a 47-year-old gas station operator from Las Vegas, Nev., had not bowled for 12 years before he started again six months ago. After games of 148 and 204 in his singles, he hit 10 strikes in a row. The 11th ball didn't come up to the pocket, and the No. 2 pin failed to fall.

Elmore Broadhage's 289 came in the middle game of his team event. The 44-year-old St. Louis dentist is not bowling in a league this season. A three-game session two weeks ago was his only warmup for the tournament. Broadhage opened with a 172 before he began his strike binge. After 10 strikes, his eleventh ball appeared to enter the pocket perfectly, but the No. 10 pin didn't tumble. Broadhage finished with a 173 for a 634 series, helping to bolster the Valley Shoe Co. of St. Louis to a 2898 total.

'Campaign' Against Rock 'n Roll 'Flops'

RIPLEY, Tenn. (AP)—A business man who doesn't like rock 'n roll music bought 15 minutes of radio time Thursday and devoted almost all of it to silence.

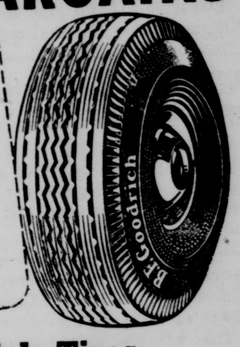

James W. Porter began his quarter-hour on Station WTRB by shattering several records and then proposing a "National Can the Racket League." Announced Porter:

"Friends, are you tense, nervous, jittery? Chances are you are overturned. You may have tried other stations without success, but now we offer you an amazing new discovery—instant silence."

Thirteen minutes of silence followed except for two breaks to reassure listeners their radios didn't need repair.

There Seems Cause For Concern . . .

We're sorry to see East Liverpool lose John Karaffa. In our opinion, he was one of the nicest guys who ever set foot on the Memorial Auditorium floor.

But in coaching, unfortunately, nice guys don't always win. After two winning seasons, John came up with a bad one. When you lose 17 and win only 3, the pressure is there.

We feel the blame for the dismal record can be shared equally by the coach and the players.

John wasn't overblessed with material and we question whether another coach would have done much better last season. But there were times when possibly he was too easy with the boys and a more forceful approach might have produced better results.

The schedule itself was a rugged one. There were no "breathers". The Potters can claim the distinction of having played three teams which have reached the finals in three different states — Farrell in Pennsylvania, Weirton in West Virginia and Salem in Ohio.

KARAFFA'S resignation comes at a time when East Liverpool athletic fortunes are at what could be called a new low.

The feeling here is that the cooperation could be better all the way around — players, coaches, administration and fans alike.

Concern has been expressed over the sports situation by many. And we believe there is cause for concern.

For example, the Blue and White Nonpareil Club has given of its time and money consistently over the years to the high school athletic program. The club thrived in 1952 and 1955 when the football squad had undefeated seasons. Club attendance was good and membership hit an all-time high.

But let the Potters suffer a losing season in football or basketball — as during 1958-59 — and too many boosters turn into fair-weather fans and run for cover. When a team is winning every game it doesn't need support nearly as much as when things are going bad. It's human nature to back a winner, but a losing team needs boosters more than ever.

Time after time Karaffa attended Nonpareil meetings during basketball season and only the officers and two or three members were present. Regardless of all the good it has done in the past and will do in the future, this isn't a true boosters' club.

Public meetings too often produce little, but perhaps if the school officials, Nonpareil members and other interested fans could get together, some of the differences might be ironed out. We think it at least is worth a try.

East Liverpool will have a new basketball coach next season. A big job awaits whoever it may be. If he and his staff receive wholehearted cooperation from the beginning, there will be more of a chance for basketball to pull out of its nosedive.

Off To The State Cage Tournament . .

THE STATE tournament is here again and yours truly, along with Chuck Cronin, a member of the sports staff, will sit in on the action today and Saturday at spacious St. John's arena.

Cleveland East Tech is the new schoolboy power which has taken over. Like the Middletown teams of old with Jerry Lucas running wild, the sports writers are asking themselves: "How are you going to beat East Tech?"

However, this same question was asked last year about Middletown. And Columbus North showed how to beat the Middies. North, in turn, lost to East Tech in the state championship game.

Our sentiments will be riding with Salem, but East Tech looks like the pick in the Class "AA" field.

We like Northwestern in the Class "A" ranks. Dean Chance and Co. looks a little too tough for the rest of the field.

Leafs Spring Surprise To Rip Montreal

By The Associated Press

Everybody said, as Toronto wallowed around in the National Hockey League cellar, that the Maple Leafs looked like the makings of a fine team next year.

But the Leafs apparently have decided not to wait. Thursday night, they battered the league-leading Montreal Canadians 6-3 on Montreal's home ice and frightened the wits out of New York Rangers.

The Leafs have 61 points and are in fifth place. New York, holding the fourth and last playoff spot, has 62 points. Each has two games to play.

Since the top three playoff positions are taken by Montreal, Boston and Chicago respectively, the only question is whether Toronto, New York or Detroit will get the fourth.

Dick Duff, who was the first of the Leafs to score 20 goals, added his 27th and 28th Thursday night.

George Armstrong became the sixth Leaf to reach the mark when he scored one goal.

The Toronto power was turned on against a rookie goaler. Regular Jacques Plante sat this one out because of a bad case of boils. Claude (Suitcase) Pronovost took his place. The Leafs blasted five of their goals past him before the Canadiens replaced him with Claude Cyr, who let in the last goal.

Weatherman Hits Exhibition Games

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Cincinnati Reds and Los Angeles Dodgers finally will get together tonight for their hastily scheduled exhibition game after spending Friday playing hide-and-go-seek, thanks to the weatherman.

The two teams will meet in Havana's Gran Stadium. They will play again in Gran Stadium, Saturday instead of Tampa, as originally scheduled.

The fifth straight day of rain on Florida's Gulf Coast caused the sudden shift. The Reds originally were slated to meet St. Louis at St. Petersburg Thursday and the Dodgers to entertain Baltimore at Sarasota. Rain washed out these games.

The Phillies-Detroit, Yankees-Milwaukee, Pittsburgh - Kansas City and Washington - Chicago White Sox also were rained out of Florida games Thursday.

In Arizona Tom Brewer and Murray Wall combined for a 2-1 Boston Red Sox victory over the Chicago Cubs. The pair allowed the Cubs six hits, one Bobby Thomson's home run.

Dave Hillman just missed being the first pitcher to go nine innings this spring. He allowed Boston only four hits and two walks in eight innings.

The San Francisco Giants belted five home runs to outslug the Cleveland Indians, 9-6. Giants' shortstop Andre Rodgers hit two as part of a perfect day at the plate.

Four of the Giant homers were off Herb Score, making his third start of the exhibition season. Minnie Minoso and Woody Held homered for the Indians.

Tiger Manager Shoots For 1st Division Finish

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — Detroit Tiger Manager Bill Norman is making sure he's not going to make the same mistake his predecessor, Jack Tighe, made last year.

A year ago at this time, Tighe, breathing optimism, proclaimed the Tigers 50 per cent improved and predicted they would catch the Yankees. Less than three months later, the Tigers were in last place and Tighe was replaced by Norman.

If Norman has caught the flag fever this year, there are no symptoms. On the contrary, he become slightly annoyed whenever the word pennant is mentioned in connection with his club.

"Let's face facts," Norman said. "The Tigers finished fifth last year, only four games out of seventh. You can't talk about being a contender until you've become a solid first division club.

"Sure, we improved," Norman added, "and I am optimistic about finishing in the first division. But we've got our work cut out for us. Don't forget, the other clubs have improved, too."

The trade with Cleveland that brought relief pitchers Ray Narleski and Don Mossi will strengthen the staff, Norman said, "and the trade with Washington that landed third baseman Eddie Yost and shortstop Rocky Bridges will help the club defensively.

Norman's pride and joy is his pitching, led by starters Jim Bunning, Frank Lary, Paul Foytack and Billy Hoeft. Herm Wehmeier and George Susce will be spot starters and Tom Morgan will be the early reliever. Left-hander Pete Burnside, acquired from San Francisco, has made a good impression, as has right-hander Gerry Davie, a 26-year-old rookie who won 17 and lost five at Charleston last year.

"I've got good pitching," said Norman, "but I lack power and don't have the fastest team in the world. I'd also like to improve my bench. Ossie Alvarez can play second and Coot Veal can play short. I'm experimenting with Larry Osborne, at first baseman, in the outfield and at third."

Long Layoffs No Hindrance To 2 Bowlers

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Practice may make perfect for some people, but a couple of bowlers who competed in the American Bowling Congress Tournament Thursday found the reverse to hold more truth.

Two middle-aged men, both of whom had long layoffs, tied for the high single game of the tournament with 289.

Alan Post, a 47-year-old gas station operator from Las Vegas, Nev., had not bowled for 12 years before he started again six months ago. After games of 148 and 204 in his singles, he hit 10 strikes in a row. The 11th ball didn't come up to the pocket, and the No. 2 pin failed to fall.

Elmore Broadhage's 289 came in the middle game of his team event. The 44-year-old St. Louis dentist is not bowling in a league this season. A three-game session two weeks ago was his only warmup for the tournament. Broadhage opened with a 172 before he began his strike binge. After 10 strikes, his eleventh ball appeared to enter the pocket perfectly, but the No. 10 pin didn't tumble. Broadhage finished with a 173 for a 634 series, helping to bolster the Valley Shoe Co. of St. Louis to a 2898 total.

'Campaign' Against Rock 'n Roll 'Flops'

RIPLEY, Tenn. (AP)—A business man who doesn't like rock 'n roll music bought 15 minutes of radio time Thursday and devoted almost all of it to silence.

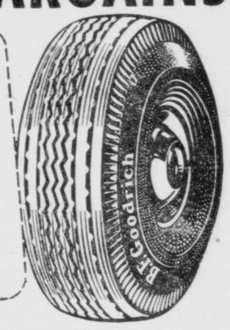

James W. Porter began his quarter-hour on Station WTRB by shattering several records and then proposing a "National Can the Racket League." Announced Porter:

"Friends, are you tense, nervous, jittery? Chances are you are overturned. You may have tried other stations without success, but now we offer you an amazing new discovery—instant silence."

Thirteen minutes of silence followed except for two breaks to reassure listeners their radios didn't need repair.

Louisville Takes Home Floor Advantage Against Mounties

Cincy Meets California In NCAA Semi-Finals

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The home court advantage is expected to do more for Louisville than Oscar Robertson for Cincinnati, Jerry West for West Virginia, or a bear-hug defense for California in the NCAA basketball showdown opening at massive Freedom Hall tonight.

Louisville (19-10) meets West Virginia (28-4) in the semifinal opener at 8:30 p.m. followed by Cincinnati (25-3) vs. California (23-4) at 10:30.

The winners play for college basketball's tastiest plumb Saturday at 10 p.m., following a consolation game between tonight's losers. Capacity crowds of about 18,500 will attend each session.

Despite the general feeling among the coaching fraternity that the home court assist will be minimized by tournament pressure, the odds-makers have made the homestanding Cardinals the favorite.

This although Louisville has the poorest record of the semifinalists, has no one to match All-Americas Robertson and West, and has a defense that's hit-and-miss compared to California's "make-'em-for-everything" style.

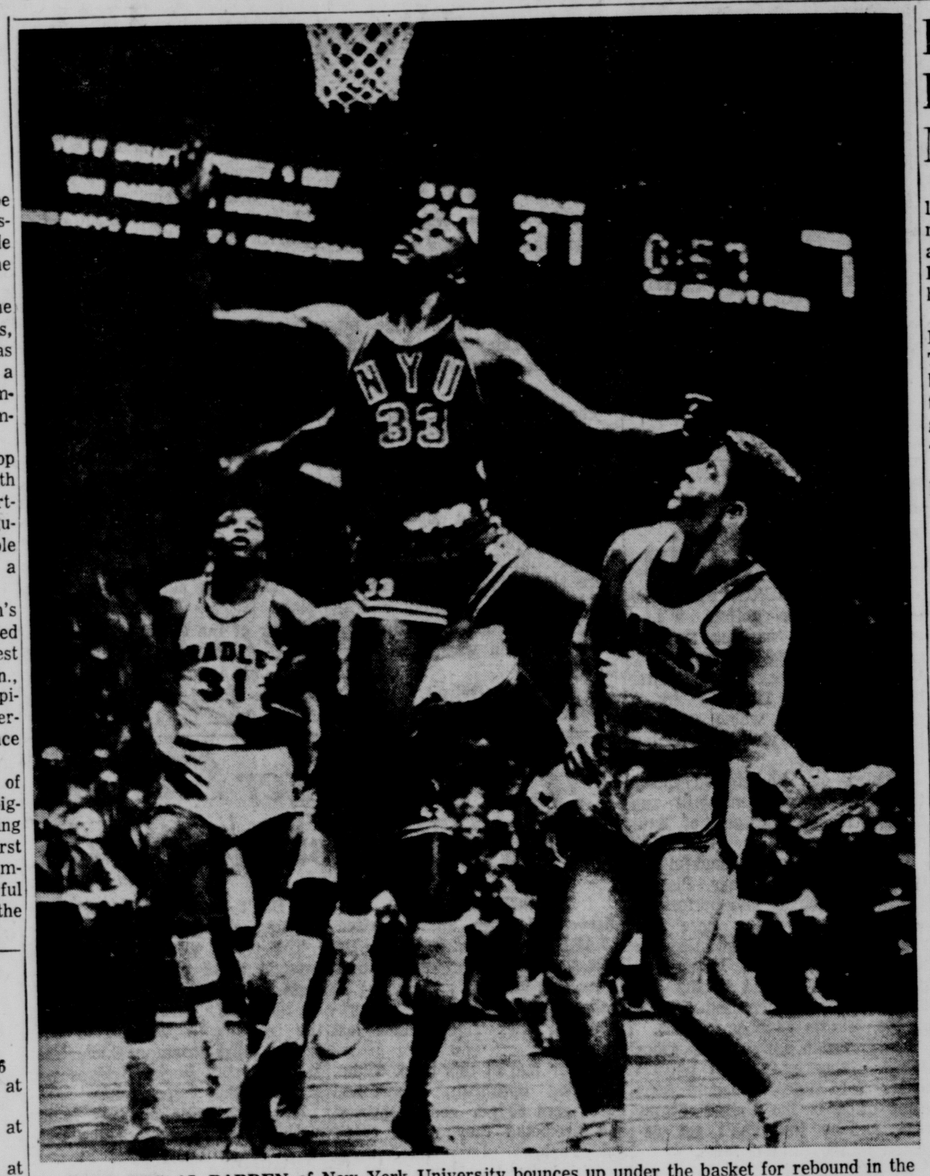

All four teams were in top shape after final workouts with only Cincinnati due to play shorthanded. Mike Mendenhall, regular backcourt man, is ineligible for the NCAA competition as a four-year player.

This didn't stop George Smith's Bearcats from spilling top-ranked Kansas State 85-75 in the Midwest regional final at Lawrence, Kan., last weekend. Cincinnati, champion of the Missouri Valley Conference, scored its other Lawrence victory over TCU 77-73.

Louisville, which lost seven of its first 12 games, created the biggest stir when, after bouncing Eastern Kentucky in the first round, it blasted defending champion Kentucky 76-61 and powerful Michigan State 88-81 to win the Mideast regional.

WTRF Will Televise West Virginia's Game

Channel 7, WTRF in Wheeling, will televise the NCAA game between West Virginia and Louisville University tonight at 8:30 in Louisville, Ky.

Bradley Picked To Beat St. Johns In NIT Event

NEW YORK (AP) — Bradley was made the early favorite today to beat St. Johns of New York in their Saturday afternoon championship game of the National Invitational Basketball Tournament.

The top-seeded Braves, fourth ranked nationally, and the New York Redmen reached the final by whipping NYU and Providence, respectively, in Thursday night's semifinals before a sellout 18,496 at Madison Square Garden.

Bradley blew a 10-point lead in the second half, but pulled out a 59-57 squeaker over NYU. St. Johns routed Providence, the cinderella team of the tourney, 76-55.

Bradley holds a regular season 71-66 victory over St. Johns and it is primarily on this basis that the Braves are favored to repeat their 1957 victory in the NIT final.

As Chuck Orsborn, Bradley coach, put it "We know what St. Johns is all about."

Joe Lapchick, St. Johns coach, declared "Bradley looks like a giant." Bobby Joe Mason and Joe Billy McDade helped the Braves win the 1957 net title and this is another factor in making Bradley the choice.

NYU fought from behind all the way after Bradley got off to a quick 9-0 lead. Mike Owens was high for Bradley with 16 points, but it was McDade's good defensive job on NYU's Tom Sanders that drew praise from Orsborn. "That hook shot of his that broke the tie was a thing of beauty." Altogether McDade finished with 10 points, nine rebounds and two assists. Russ Cunningham wound up with 18 points, 15 in the last half.

Providence made a gallant stand in the first half, rallying to take the lead twice at 16-15 and 18-17 and to tie twice at 20-20 and 22-22, but then the witching hour struck. A free throw and basket by Dick Engert broke the tie. Providence never threatened again.

Big Lou Roethel, with 22 points sparked St. Johns. Lennie Wilkens starred for Providence with 17 points.

The Bradley-St. Johns game will be nationally televised (NBC). NYU and Providence will play for third place.

Delany Runs In Cleveland Meet Tonight

CLEVELAND (AP) — Ron Delany, the world's fastest indoor miler, has changed his mind again. He will compete in the Knights of Columbus track meet here tonight.

And he will be running against Istvan Rozsavolgyi of Hungary. The Irish flash had to come from behind in the final lap in New York two weeks ago to defeat the Hungarian in the record time of 4:01.4.

Delany had entered the meet here and was being billed as the feature attraction. Wednesday he announced he would not compete because of the pressure of his studies at Villanova. Meet officials stormed and talked of asking for Delany's suspension.

However, he telephoned from Miami, Fla., Thursday night and told J. L. (Jake) Leicht, meet director:

"I just want to come in quietly and run my race. Yes, I have my plane ticket."

Peter Close of St. John's, who paced Delany and Rozsavolgyi in the record-breaking mile, will also run in tonight's mile.

Another event, the two mile run, will get feature treatment with a trio of swift distance runners in the spotlight.

They are Al Lawrence of the University of Houston, little Max Truex of Southern California and Hungary's Laszlo Tabori.

Lawrence set the world indoor record of 8:46.8 two weeks ago. Two nights later in Milwaukee, Truex whipped Lawrence and to do it, he ran the second fastest two-mile on record (8:47.2). Tabori won the event here in 1957, and, without any competition, turned in a good 8:54.6 clocking.

The three will be taking aim at Greg Rice's 16-year-old meet mark of 8:51.

Arizona Star Impresses Tribe Brass

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Gene Leek, the 21-year-old University of Arizona infielder who was signed by the Cleveland Indians for a $35,000 bonus Monday, is making a hit with the Tribe brass.

Manager Joe Gordon and General Manager Frank Lane have been so impressed with his work at third base that they are going to keep him with the Indians indefinitely.

Leed handled five fielding chances without a flaw in the Indians' 9-6 loss to the San Francisco Giants here Thursday. He also hit a double down the third base line in four times at bat.

The Giants, who bombarded Herb Score in the first exhibition game of the season at Tucson March 7, did it again Thursday. They got seven runs in the first three innings. Score also gave up eight of the Giants' 13 hits in the four innings he pitched.

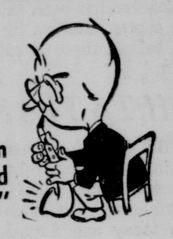

Al Cicotte hurled the last four innings for the Indians and held the San Franciscans to five hits.

Louisville Takes Home Floor Advantage Against Mounties

Cincy Meets California In NCAA Semi-Finals

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The home court advantage is expected to do more for Louisville than Oscar Robertson for Cincinnati, Jerry West for West Virginia, or a bear-hug defense for California in the NCAA basketball showdown opening at massive Freedom Hall tonight.

Louisville (19-10) meets West Virginia (28-4) in the semifinal opener at 8:30 p.m. followed by Cincinnati (25-3) vs. California (23-4) at 10:30.

The winners play for college basketball's tastiest plumb Saturday at 10 p.m., following a consolation game between tonight's losers. Capacity crowds of about 18,500 will attend each session.

Despite the general feeling among the coaching fraternity that the home court assist will be minimized by tournament pressure, the odds-makers have made the homestanding Cardinals the favorite.

This although Louisville has the poorest record of the semifinalists, has no one to match All-Americas Robertson and West, and has a defense that's hit-and-miss compared to California's "make-'em-for-everything" style.

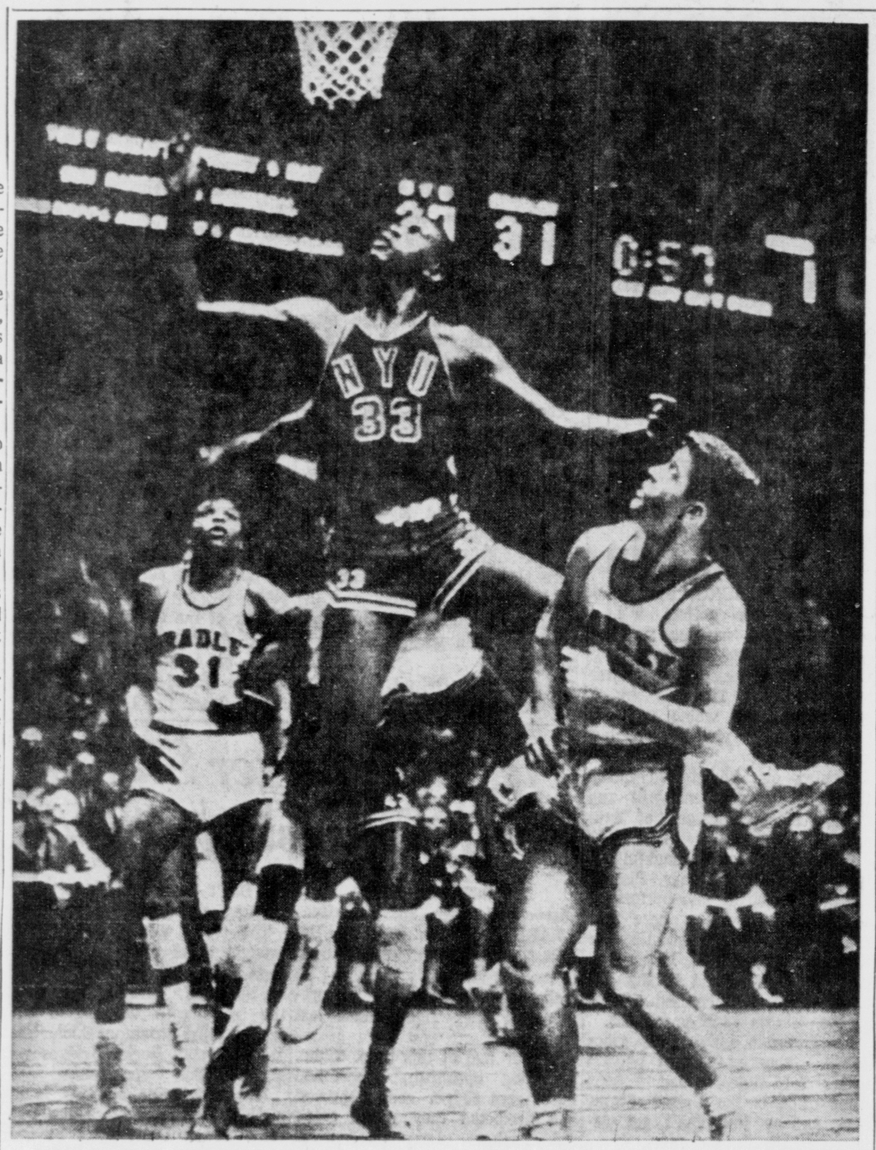

All four teams were in top shape after final workouts with only Cincinnati due to play shorthanded. Mike Mendenhall, regular backcourt man, is ineligible for the NCAA competition as a four-year player.

This didn't stop George Smith's Bearcats from spilling top-ranked Kansas State 85-75 in the Midwest regional final at Lawrence, Kan., last weekend. Cincinnati, champion of the Missouri Valley Conference, scored its other Lawrence victory over TCU 77-73.

Louisville, which lost seven of its first 12 games, created the biggest stir when, after bouncing Eastern Kentucky in the first round, it blasted defending champion Kentucky 76-61 and powerful Michigan State 88-81 to win the Mideast regional.

Bradley Picked To Beat St. Johns In NIT Event

NEW YORK (AP) — Bradley was made the early favorite today to beat St. Johns of New York in their Saturday afternoon championship game of the National Invitational Basketball Tournament.

The top-seeded Braves, fourth ranked nationally, and the New York Redmen reached the final by whipping NYU and Providence, respectively, in Thursday night's semifinals before a sellout 18,496 at Madison Square Garden.

Bradley blew a 10-point lead in the second half, but pulled out a 59-57 squeaker over NYU. St. Johns routed Providence, the cinderella team of the tourney, 76-55.

Bradley holds a regular season 71-66 victory over St. Johns and it is primarily on this basis that the Braves are favored to repeat their 1957 victory in the NIT final.

As Chuck Orsborn, Bradley coach, put it "We know what St. Johns is all about."

Joe Lapchick, St. Johns coach, declared "Bradley looks like a giant." Bobby Joe Mason and Joe Billy McDade helped the Braves win the 1957 net title and this is another factor in making Bradley the choice.

NYU fought from behind all the way after Bradley got off to a quick 9-0 lead. Mike Owens was high for Bradley with 16 points, but it was McDade's good defensive job on NYU's Tom Sanders that drew praise from Orsborn. "That hook shot of his that broke the tie was a thing of beauty." Altogether McDade finished with 10 points, nine rebounds and two assists. Russ Cunningham wound up with 18 points, 15 in the last half.

Providence made a gallant stand in the first half, rallying to take the lead twice at 16-15 and 18-17 and to tie twice at 20-20 and 22-22, but then the witching hour struck. A free throw and basket by Dick Engert broke the tie. Providence never threatened again.

Big Lou Roethel, with 22 points sparked St. Johns. Lennie Wilkens starred for Providence with 17 points.

The Bradley-St. Johns game will be nationally televised (NBC). NYU and Providence will play for third place.

Delany Runs In Cleveland Meet Tonight

CLEVELAND (AP) — Ron Delany, the world's fastest indoor miler, has changed his mind again. He will compete in the Knights of Columbus track meet here tonight.

And he will be running against Istvan Rozsavolgyi of Hungary. The Irish flash had to come from behind in the final lap in New York two weeks ago to defeat the Hungarian in the record time of 4:01.4.

Delany had entered the meet here and was being billed as the feature attraction. Wednesday he announced he would not compete because of the pressure of his studies at Villanova. Meet officials stormed and talked of asking for Delany's suspension.

However, he telephoned from Miami, Fla., Thursday night and told J. L. (Jake) Leicht, meet director:

"I just want to come in quietly and run my race. Yes, I have my plane ticket."

Peter Close of St. John's, who paced Delany and Rozsavolgyi in the record-breaking mile, will also run in tonight's mile.

Another event, the two mile run, will get feature treatment with a trio of swift distance runners in the spotlight.

They are Al Lawrence of the University of Houston, little Max Truex of Southern California and Hungary's Laszlo Tabori.

Lawrence set the world indoor record of 8:46.8 two weeks ago. Two nights later in Milwaukee, Truex whipped Lawrence and to do it, he ran the second fastest two-mile on record (8:47.2). Tabori won the event here in 1957, and, without any competition, turned in a good 8:54.6 clocking.

The three will be taking aim at Greg Rice's 16-year-old meet mark of 8:51.

Contract Ratification Vote Slated By 300

LOGAN, Ohio (AP)—A contract ratification vote will be held by about 300 workers at the Carborundum Co., plant here Tuesday.

The members of Local 11-630 of the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers Union called off their 30-day strike against the firm March 8. The new contract terms were ironed out earlier this week by negotiators.

Arizona Star Impresses Tribe Brass

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Gene Leek, the 21-year-old University of Arizona infielder who was signed by the Cleveland Indians for a $35,000 bonus Monday, is making a hit with the Tribe brass.

Manager Joe Gordon and General Manager Frank Lane have been so impressed with his work at third base that they are going to keep him with the Indians indefinitely.

Leed handled five fielding chances without a flaw in the Indians' 9-6 loss to the San Francisco Giants here Thursday. He also hit a double down the third base line in four times at bat.

The Giants, who bombarded Herb Score in the first exhibition game of the season at Tucson March 7, did it again Thursday. They got seven runs in the first three innings. Score also gave up eight of the Giants' 13 hits in the four innings he pitched.

Al Cicotte hurled the last four innings for the Indians and held the San Franciscans to five hits.

Ohio Cage Coaches Ask Change In Regional Tourney Setup

State Classic Opens Today At Columbus

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's basketball coaches, a bit militant, want to change the regional high school tournament setup.

The directors of the mentors' association, at their annual meeting Thursday night, urged the state association to slash one regional team from northwestern representation, and add one to the combined central, eastern and southeastern sectors.

Since Ohio's eight survivors of 412 Class AA and 601 Class A teams go into state tournament finals today at Ohio State's St. John Arena, the mentors would change the setup for next year.

Under present regional regulations, the central, southeastern and eastern districts name three regional qualifiers, the northeastern sector 6, the northwestern 3 and the southwestern 4.

The coaches want the regional representation to be 4 from the combined central, southeastern and eastern districts, 6 from the northeast, 2 from the northwest and four from the southwest.

The new plan would have the 36 central district teams in Class AA play down to 6, pick up two from the eastern district and play down to two for the regional qualifier. Eastern teams would play from 31 down to six, and send four to the southeastern and two to the central. And the southeastern would play from 26 teams down to four, and picking up four from the eastern division, would play down to two teams to join two teams from the central group in the regionals.

The northeastern district's Cleveland area would play from 76 to 6 teams, and the Akron, Canton, Youngstown area from 85 to 6. The surviving dozen would then play to six, with 4 making up one regional and the other 2 making up a regional with two teams from the northwest sector.

The coaches figure the proposed setup would eliminate some travel such as popped up this year when Ironton journeyed to Cleveland and Columbus East to Toledo for regional tournaments.

In other action, the coaches decided that H. W. Emswiler, retiring commissioner of the Ohio High School Athletic Assn. is entitled to a lifetime membership in the coaches' association; that a plaque should be awarded to the winning Class AA and Class A mentors in the current state tournament; that no coach should be reappointed to the north-south all-star staff within a five-year period, and that only coaches reaching the regional would be eligible for all-star game appointments.

The coaches, in their recommendation that the Class AA regional representation be shifted, stressed that the new setup does not disturb the present Class A plan.

Meanwhile the survivors of 412 Class AA and 601 Class A quintets are ready to battle it out in the 37th state championship tournament starting today at St. John Arena on the Ohio State campus.

In the semi-finals, the schedule for today is:

Class A

Salem Local (27-0) vs Lynnwood-Jacksontown (22-4) at 1:30 p.m.

Northwestern (25-2) (Defending champion) vs Edgerton (24-3) at 3 p.m.

Class AA

Cleveland East Tech (23-0) (defending champion) vs Toledo Scott (20-4) at 7:30 p.m.

Middletown (21-4) vs Salem (24-1) at 9 p.m.

The coaches also selected the players and coaches for the second annual north-south all - star game to be played June 20 at Troy's Hobart Arena, but withheld announcement of the names until next week.

Frank Funk, San Francisco rookie pitcher, turned in 28 straight scoreless innings for Corpus Christi of the Texas League in 1958.

TOO LITTLE, TOO LATE. Cleveland's ace southpaw, Herb Score, pours his hard, fast one past San Francisco's Felipe Alou in an exhibition game Thursday in Phoenix. FIELD AND STREAM

By R. L. LIDE

I saw my first groundhog Saturday. He was killed on the highway. At least they are coming out of their winter hibernation.

According to the Pennsylvania Game News, several bears have been seen out of hibernation. It is believed they are male bears, since the mother bear with young would not likely leave the den so early in the season. But, since the groundhogs and some bears are in circulation again, could it be we are due for an early spring and the worst weather behind us? At least it is a delightful thought.

—:—

YOU CAMERA fans who know how to operate with telephoto lens can get some good shots of the migrating waterfowl at present. At this time of the year you can get within a stone's throw of ducks.

Woodcock and jacksnipes can be seen occasionally probing the soft earth along the ditches and small streams. Also around most any spring-fed spot where the earth is soft.

It is interesting to watch them probe for grubs and worms and the camera fan can get some good still pictures, while the movie fans should get some interesting shots of these birds in action.

SOON THE killdeer will begin nesting operations around the bare spots of a nearby lake. They make no particular effort to conceal their nests, usually laying the eggs in a small depression of earth next to a limb or stone exposed directly to the elements.

No other bird to my knowledge puts on such a fake exhibition of injury than a killdeer when you approach too close to the nest or the young.

These little precocial birds are able to take off in a run about as soon as they kick free of the egg shell.

There are several fox calls on the market now and I have been told that they are very effective in calling foxes within gun range at night.

NOT ONLY do these calls bring in the foxes but I am told dogs, hawks and owls even respond. One fellow told me that one thing he did not like was to have a great horned owl come swooping down to get in on the kill.

These deceptive squeaks that bring in the predators are all ok, but it is a frightening thought to think a great horned owl or a barred owl might sink his talons in your skull. That is something you have to watch our for.

At least, there's something always new under the sun and you might give these fox calls a try.

Doggie With Window Shows Lungs Operating

How much is the doggie with the window? It cost $100 to build, say engineers of Chemetron Corporation's National Cylinder Gas Division.

Anthony Meets Ray Tonight

NEW YORK (AP)—It's goodbye to the heavyweights and hello again to the light heavyweights for picture punching Tony Anthony.

The tall, lean New Yorker takes on Sonny Ray of Chicago in a return battle of light heavyweight contenders tonight at Madison Square Garden.

Anthony, the No. 1 man, is an 11-5 favorite to make it two straight over the fifth-ranking challenger, in the television (NBC) ten rounder.

In their first meeting Nov. 14, the 6-1 Anthony swept the last three rounds to grab a unanimous decision. Tony was a 4-1 favorite that night in scoring his seventh consecutive triumph and ending Ray's victory streak at nine.

Anthony's record now is 37-6-1 including 28 knockouts.

Thomas Looks For More HR's With Redlegs

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Slugger Frank Thomas has an idea he'll be able to blast more home runs this season in Crosley Field for Cincinnati's Reds.

He said Thursday a round-trip hit was tougher when he was with Pittsburgh's Pirates because Forbes Field is more spacious.

"There must have been from 15 to 20 drives that were caught on me in Pittsburgh last year that would have been over the fence at Crosley Field," he said.

He added: "That, of course, doesn't mean that I would have hit that many more at Crosley Field.

"Undoubtedly, they would have pitched me differently there or the game situation might have been different so that it would have changed the strategy."

Forbes Field's biggest dimension are 365 feet to the left field fence and 457 feet to the center field fence.

The top distances of Crosley Field are 366 feet to the right field screen and 390 feet to the center field fence.

Cincinnati officials decided that part of the team will fly to Havana for exhibition games with Los Angeles' Dodgers tonight and Saturday.

Enough players will stay behind to complete the regularly scheduled exhibition with Philadelphia today at Clearwater, if weather clears.

Ohio Golfer Wins

PINEHURST, N. C. (AP)—Mrs. Barbara Fitton, Hamilton, Ohio, defeated Carol Mann, Flossmoor, Ill., 3 and 2 in the first round of the North and South Women's Amateur Golf Tournament here Thursday.

Willie Mays of the Giants led the National League in stolen bases last season for the third straight year. He stole 31 times. He was caught six times.

Eastern teams would play from 31 down to six, and send four to the southeastern and two to the central. And the southeastern would play from 26 teams down to four, and picking up four from the eastern division, would play down to two teams to join two teams from the central group in the regionals.

The northeastern district's Cleveland area would play from 76 to 6 teams, and the Akron, Canton, Youngstown area from 85 to 6. The surviving dozen would then play to six, with 4 making up one regional and the other 2 making up a regional with two teams from the northwest sector.

The coaches figure the proposed setup would eliminate some travel such as popped up this year when Ironton journeyed to Cleveland and Columbus East to Toledo for regional tournaments.

In other action, the coaches decided that H. W. Emswiler, retiring commissioner of the Ohio High School Athletic Assn. is entitled to a lifetime membership in the coaches' association; that a plaque should be awarded to the winning Class AA and Class A mentors in the current state tournament; that no coach should be reappointed to the north-south all-star staff within a five-year period, and that only coaches reaching the regional would be eligible for all-star game appointments.

The coaches, in their recommendation that the Class AA regional representation be shifted, stressed that the new setup does not disturb the present Class A plan.

Meanwhile the survivors of 412 Class AA and 601 Class A quintets are ready to battle it out in the 37th state championship tournament starting today at St. John Arena on the Ohio State campus.

In the semi-finals, the schedule for today is:

Class A

Salem Local (27-0) vs Lynnwood-Jacksontown (22-4) at 1:30 p.m.

Northwestern (25-2) (Defending champion) vs Edgerton (24-3) at 3 p.m.

Class AA

Cleveland East Tech (23-0) (defending champion) vs Toledo Scott (20-4) at 7:30 p.m.

Middletown (21-4) vs Salem (24-1) at 9 p.m.

The coaches also selected the players and coaches for the second annual north-south all - star game to be played June 20 at Troy's Hobart Arena, but withheld announcement of the names until next week.

Frank Funk, San Francisco rookie pitcher, turned in 28 straight scoreless innings for Corpus Christi of the Texas League in 1958.

TOO LITTLE, TOO LATE. Cleveland's ace southpaw, Herb Score, pours his hard, fast one past San Francisco's Felipe Alou in an exhibition game Thursday in Phoenix. The catcher is Hal Naragon and the umpire is Vinnie Smith. But the Giants slammed Score for seven runs in four innings, including four homers and went on to win, 9-6. (UPI Telephoto)

FIELD AND STREAM

By R. L. LIDE

I saw my first groundhog Saturday. He was killed on the highway. At least they are coming out of their winter hibernation.

According to the Pennsylvania Game News, several bears have been seen out of hibernation. It is believed they are male bears, since the mother bear with young would not likely leave the den so early in the season. But, since the groundhogs and some bears are in circulation again, could it be we are due for an early spring and the worst weather behind us? At least it is a delightful thought.

—:—

YOU CAMERA fans who know how to operate with telephoto lens can get some good shots of the migrating waterfowl at present. At this time of the year you can get within a stone's throw of ducks.

Woodcock and jacksnipes can be seen occasionally probing the soft earth along the ditches and small streams. Also around most any spring-fed spot where the earth is soft.

It is interesting to watch them probe for grubs and worms and the camera fan can get some good still pictures, while the movie fans should get some interesting shots of these birds in action.

SOON THE killdeer will begin nesting operations around the bare spots of a nearby lake. They make no particular effort to conceal their nests, usually laying the eggs in a small depression of earth next to a limb or stone exposed directly to the elements.

No other bird to my knowledge puts on such a fake exhibition of injury than a killdeer when you approach too close to the nest or the young.

These little precocial birds are able to take off in a run about as soon as they kick free of the egg shell.

There are several fox calls on the market now and I have been told that they are very effective in calling foxes within gun range at night.

NOT ONLY do these calls bring in the foxes but I am told dogs, hawks and owls even respond. One fellow told me that one thing he did not like was to have a great horned owl come swooping down to get in on the kill.

These deceptive squeaks that bring in the predators are all ok, but it is a frightening thought to think a great horned owl or a barred owl might sink his talons in your skull. That is something you have to watch our for.

At least, there's something always new under the sun and you might give these fox calls a try.

Doggie With Window Shows Lungs Operating

CHICAGO (AP) — Medical equipment engineers have built a model of a dog with a transparent plastic window that enables veterinarians to study the operation of a dog's lungs during artificial respiration with a small-animal resuscitator.

How much is the doggie with the window? It cost $100 to build, say engineers of Chemetron Corporation's National Cylinder Gas Division.

Anthony Meets Ray Tonight

NEW YORK (AP)—It's goodbye to the heavyweights and hello again to the light heavyweights for picture punching Tony Anthony.

The tall, lean New Yorker takes on Sonny Ray of Chicago in a return battle of light heavyweight contenders tonight at Madison Square Garden.

Anthony, the No. 1 man, is an 11-5 favorite to make it two straight over the fifth-ranking challenger, in the television (NBC) ten rounder.

In their first meeting Nov. 14, the 6-1 Anthony swept the last three rounds to grab a unanimous decision. Tony was a 4-1 favorite that night in scoring his seventh consecutive triumph and ending Ray's victory streak at nine.

Anthony's win streak was broken along with his heavyweight hopes in his next outing. Reiben Vargas, a rough, tough, 189-pound California heavyweight, clawed out a decision over the 177-pounder at the Garden, Jan. 30.

Anthony's record now is 37-6-1 including 28 knockouts.

Thomas Looks For More HR's With Redlegs

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Slugger Frank Thomas has an idea he'll be able to blast more home runs this season in Crosley Field for Cincinnati's Reds.

He said Thursday a round-trip hit was tougher when he was with Pittsburgh's Pirates because Forbes Field is more spacious.

"There must have been from 15 to 20 drives that were caught on me in Pittsburgh last year that would have been over the fence at Crosley Field," he said.

He added: "That, of course, doesn't mean that I would have hit that many more at Crosley Field.

"Undoubtedly, they would have pitched me differently there or the game situation might have been different so that it would have changed the strategy."

Forbes Field's biggest dimension are 365 feet to the left field fence and 457 feet to the center field fence.

The top distances of Crosley Field are 366 feet to the right field screen and 390 feet to the center field fence.

Cincinnati officials decided that part of the team will fly to Havana for exhibition games with Los Angeles' Dodgers tonight and Saturday.

Enough players will stay behind to complete the regularly scheduled exhibition with Philadelphia today at Clearwater, if weather clears.

Ohio Golfer Wins

PINEHURST, N. C. (AP)—Mrs. Barbara Fitton, Hamilton, Ohio, defeated Carol Mann, Flossmoor, Ill., 3 and 2 in the first round of the North and South Women's Amateur Golf Tournament here Thursday.

Willie Mays of the Giants led the National League in stolen bases last season for the third straight year. He stole 31 times. He was caught six times.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann: I'm in love with a man who says he loves me. I'm 29, divorced and have two children. He's unmarried and has a steady job with a publishing company.

The main trouble is this: I don't like liquor and can't hold it the way some women can. Two drinks and I want to dance and telephone Walter Reuther and do silly things like that. He insists I drink with him because he says I'm dull company when I don't drink. Besides, he claims it isn't gentlemanly to drink alone.

The last time I drank with him I passed out cold and had to be carried home. I'm so ashamed I can't face his family. (It happened at his sister's house.) The next day he phoned to say he wouldn't be caught dead with me and to find another man. I love him very much and want to know what to do.—CRAZY LOUISE.

If he REALLY cared about you he wouldn't insist on plying you with liquor. This man is interested only in a drinking companion, so get smart and write him off. And buy a beautiful new hat with the money you save on aspirin and bromo seltzer.

Too Quick With 'Ex'

Dear Ann Landers: The letter from the woman who said her husband loves to read your column and laugh—but never recognizes himself as the jerk, had special significance for me.

I'm sure that letter was written by my wife. It sounded exactly like her. Now that you've printed HER letter, will you please print mine? It will be interesting to see if SHE recognizes herself in print.

I'd go into shock if she ever met me at the door with a smile. Her greeting is always the same—a list of complaints about the kids, the neighbors, my mother or whoever she happened to see during the day.

She's never gracious about anything. If I bring a gift from out of town she either says, "It looks cheap," or "Why did you spend money on THAT when I need so many things?" If I don't bring anything she whines, "You never think about me when you're away!"

My wife is far from stupid. Wouldn't you think since she had the sense to get through college she'd be smart enough to know what her attitude is doing to our marriage?

Please print this letter and some advice, if you can suggest something.—FUTURE EX-HUSBAND.

Dear Future Ex: A college diploma is no written guarantee that marriage will be a one-way ticket to paradise. The gal who spent half of her school career in the dunce-corner could make a wonderful wife. Intellectual achievement does not equate with emotional maturity.

It's obvious you two are nursing enormous hostility for each other. Enlist the aid of a third party (marriage counselor or clergyman) and let him hear both sides. Often the airing of the problem is precisely what is needed. And about that signature of yours, Buster, divorce is no cure-all. Too often it merely means exchanging one set of problems for another.

Double Crossed

Dear Ann Landers: What do you think of a 16-year-old boy who would phone a girl and get her to talk about another girl (in a not very nice way) when all the time the girl under discussion was on the extension telephone and listening to every word?

I'm the party who got trapped into this. Isn't it the stinkiest trick you ever heard of in your whole life? Please agree and put the rat in his place.—FRAMED.

Dear Framed: Pretty "stinky," indeed. "The rat" should be ashamed of himself for stooping to this level. However, I hope "the cat" (and I do mean YOU) learned from this experience never to say anything about any girl friend you wouldn't say to her face.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Return To Work Or Face Firing, Strikers Warned

NEW BRUNSWICK, N.J. (AP)—The New Jersey Turnpike Authority says that striking employes who do not show up for today's 3 p.m. shift will be fired.

But the authority adds it is willing to arbitrate with the unionists on what it feels are the two big reasons why the strike took place:

1. The suspension of two employes — who were subsequently reinstated.

2. The authority's refusal to permit men to wear union buttons on their uniforms.

Spokesmen for the striking toll collectors and maintenance men have asserted that the discontent is deeper than the two publicized reasons.

W. W. Wanamaker, executive director of the superhighway, told a striker's delegation no paychecks would be issued "until I learn what each employe is going to do." He said any employe wishing to turn in his $200 worth of uniforms would get his paycheck.

In all the authority has suspended 429 toll collectors and maintenance men.

DiSalle May Speak Out On Capital Punishment

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. Michael V. DiSalle is thinking about making an extraordinary appearance before the Ohio House Judiciary Committee because "as a citizen, believing in a cause, I think I have a right" to speak out against capital punishment.

The committee is considering two bills which would either outlaw the death penalty completely or modify its use depending on the crime.

DiSalle said Thursday he is considering an appearance before the committee next week to testify for the abolishment of capital punishment.

It is rare for a governor to appear before a legislative committee to support a bill. But DiSalle has indicated a strong personal feeling on the death penalty, and urged its abolishment in a special message to the Legislature earlier this year.

War II Hero Dies

HONOLULU (AP)—Col. Farrant L. Turner, 63, who commanded Hawaii's famed 100th Battalion of Niesei volunteers in World War II, died Thursday of a heart attack. He was Hawaii's territorial secretary from 1953 to 1958.

Children Of The Bible

RHODA

"And as Peter knocked at the door of the gate, a damsel came to hearken, named Rhoda."
—Acts 12:13

About ten years after Jesus had been crucified and rose again from the dead, King Herod decided to persecute those of His followers who were still preaching in His name.

First he killed James, the brother of John, with the sword. "And because he saw it pleased the Jews, he proceeded further to take Peter also."

Herod then threw Peter into prison. He intended, after Easter to bring him out and make an example of him before the people.

But the sacred texts tell us that one night an angel came to the prison and smote Peter on the side, telling him:

"Arise, quickly."

The prisoner's chains fell off, and he followed the angel past the first and second ward and through the iron gate that led into the city. They had already entered a street before Peter came to himself.

He decided to go to the house of Mary the mother of Mark, where he knew that a number of Christians were gathered for a prayer meeting.

He had to knock hard at the gate to make himself heard. Then this girl, named Rhoda, came to see who was there.

"Who is it?" she asked.

And when she heard Peter's familiar voice, she was so excited and glad that she forgot all about opening the door to let him in.

Instead, she turned and ran back into the house, crying "It's Peter. He's out of prison! He's outside!"

Those who were present tried to calm her down.

"Thou art mad," they told her. They were certain that, since Herod had stationed two soldiers inside the prison and two outside the doors to guard Peter that he could not be free.

But Rhoda insisted that he was indeed outside.

Meanwhile, Peter continued knocking at the gate, and they went and opened it.

"And when they had opened the door, and saw him, they were astonished."

College President Talks To OSU Seniors

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—New types of educational facilities to augment existing ones would help offset the expected increase in college population, the winter quarter graduating class at Ohio State University was told Thursday.

Dr. Terry Wickham, president of Heidelberg College, told the 591 graduates that educational innovations might include high schools adding a 13th and 14th year to their courses.

The educator stated he did not share the fear of other officials that existing facilities must be doubled in 10 years. He cited the establishment of community colleges and vocational institutes.

Autopsy Scheduled In Death Of Seaman

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—An autopsy will be performed today to determine how Oliver Craig Jr. died. His body was found in the hold of the freighter Ernest R. Johnson at the American Shipbuilding Co. docks.

It's believed he died about two weeks ago from a fall while the ship was being unloaded of winter grain in Detroit. The ship was towed here to be overhauled.

An inspector checking the freighter discovered the body.

More Funds Asked

WASHINGTON (AP)—Brig. Gen. W. W. Lapsley has told the Senate Appropriations Subcommittee that Army engineers could economically use an additional $296,000 to complete planning and initial construction for Ohio's Mahoning River flood control and water supply project. Lapsley, Ohio River division engineer, said the budget recommends $229,000 for the project, on the river's west branch near Warren.

Ohio Psychiatrist Disbelieves Theory About Sex Offenders

CINCINNATI (AP) — A University of Cincinnati psychiatrist says he believes obscene literature does not create sex offenders.

Dr. James L. Titchener said Thursday the comic strip "Little Orphan Annie" might be as much of a threat to society as what is called smut.

Titchener, assistant professor of psychiatry at the UC Medical College, said in a panel discussion at the university:

"In my experience and in the experience of most of us, obscene literature is not much of a problem."

He said that personality problems crop up from a long history of relationships with other people, "not because someone picked up a magazine and read it."

Titchener said that instead of anti-smut drives, it would be wiser to "devote energies to helping young people develop comfortable attitudes toward their sexuality."

He said there are other impulses that are potentially harmful, and that he found "extreme feelings of aggression and violence" in the Little Orphan Annie comic strip.

"It scares me sometimes," he said. "Last week, Orphan Annie was inciting people not to pay income taxes."

Dr. Richard M. Emerson, UC sociologist, and Atty. John A. Lloyd Jr., supported the psychiatrist's view.

Emerson said: "The notion of obscenity does not reside in printed pages, but in codes of evaluation."

Lloyd said of attempts at censorship: "If we expect man's imagination to express itself to the fullest, we must take the good with the bad . . . .

"There was a time when 'Huckleberry Finn' was considered obscene. We're heading back in that direction."

Calcutta Firemen Quell Extensive Grass Fires

Calcutta volunteer firemen extinguished 2 grass fires which burned over a total of 12½ acres Thursday.

The first blaze burned 12 acres on the property of Raymond Rambo of Hoppels Corners at 1:30 p. m. Twenty men responded to the call. The cause of the blaze is not known, firemen said.

About a half an acre near the home of Harley Conley of Oakmont burned last night at 7:05. Fifteen men responded to this call.

Dear Future Ex: A college diploma is no written guarantee that marriage will be a one-way ticket to paradise. The gal who spent half of her school career in the dunce-corner could make a wonderful wife. Intellectual achievement does not equate with emotional maturity.

It's obvious you two are nursing enormous hostility for each other. Enlist the aid of a third party (marriage counselor or clergyman) and let him hear both sides. Often the airing of the problem is precisely what is needed. And about that signature of yours, Buster, divorce is no cure-all. Too often it merely means exchanging one set of problems for another.

Double Crossed

Dear Ann Landers: What do you think of a 16-year-old boy who would phone a girl and get her to talk about another girl (in a not very nice way) when all the time the girl under discussion was on the extension telephone and listening to every word?

I'm the party who got trapped into this. Isn't it the stinkiest trick you ever heard of in your whole life? Please agree and put the rat in his place.—FRAMED.

Dear Framed: Pretty "stinky," indeed. "The rat" should be ashamed of himself for stooping to this level. However, I hope "the cat" (and I do mean YOU) learned from this experience never to say anything about any girl friend you wouldn't say to her face.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Return To Work Or Face Firing, Strikers Warned

NEW BRUNSWICK, N.J. (AP)—The New Jersey Turnpike Authority says that striking employes who do not show up for today's 3 p.m. shift will be fired.

But the authority adds it is willing to arbitrate with the unionists on what it feels are the two big reasons why the strike took place:

1. The suspension of two employes — who were subsequently reinstated.

2. The authority's refusal to permit men to wear union buttons on their uniforms.

Spokesmen for the striking toll collectors and maintenance men have asserted that the discontent is deeper than the two publicized reasons.

W. W. Wanamaker, executive director of the superhighway, told a striker's delegation no paychecks would be issued "until I learn what each employe is going to do." He said any employe wishing to turn in his $200 worth of uniforms would get his paycheck.

In all the authority has suspended 429 toll collectors and maintenance men.

DiSalle May Speak Out On Capital Punishment

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. Michael V. DiSalle is thinking about making an extraordinary appearance before the Ohio House Judiciary Committee because "as a citizen, believing in a cause, I think I have a right" to speak out against capital punishment.

The committee is considering two bills which would either outlaw the death penalty completely or modify its use depending on the crime.

DiSalle said Thursday he is considering an appearance before the committee next week to testify for the abolishment of capital punishment.

It is rare for a governor to appear before a legislative committee to support a bill. But DiSalle has indicated a strong personal feeling on the death penalty, and urged its abolishment in a special message to the Legislature earlier this year.

RHODA

"And as Peter knocked at the door of the gate, a damsel came to hearken, named Rhoda."

—Acts 12:13

About ten years after Jesus had been crucified and rose again from the dead, King Herod decided to persecute those of His followers who were still preaching in His name.

First he killed James, the brother of John, with the sword. "And because he saw it pleased the Jews, he proceeded further to take Peter also."

Herod then threw Peter into prison. He intended, after Easter to bring him out and make an example of him before the people.

But the sacred texts tell us that one night an angel came to the prison and smote Peter on the side, telling him:

"Arise, quickly."

The prisoner's chains fell off, and he followed the angel past the first and second ward and through the iron gate that led into the city. They had already entered a street before Peter came to himself.

He decided to go to the house of Mary the mother of Mark, where he knew that a number of Christians were gathered for a prayer meeting.

He had to knock hard at the gate to make himself heard. Then this girl, named Rhoda, came to see who was there.

"Who is it?" she asked.

And when she heard Peter's familiar voice, she was so excited and glad that she forgot all about opening the door to let him in.

Instead, she turned and ran back into the house, crying "It's Peter. He's out of prison! He's outside!"

Those who were present tried to calm her down.

"Thou art mad," they told her. They were certain that, since Herod had stationed two soldiers inside the prison and two outside the doors to guard Peter that he could not be free.

But Rhoda insisted that he was indeed outside.

Meanwhile, Peter continued knocking at the gate, and they went and opened it.

"And when they had opened the door, and saw him, they were astonished."

College President Talks To OSU Seniors

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—New types of educational facilities to augment existing ones would help offset the expected increase in college population, the winter quarter graduating class at Ohio State University was told Thursday.

Dr. Terry Wickham, president of Heidelberg College, told the 591 graduates that educational innovations might include high schools adding a 13th and 14th year to their courses.

The educator stated he did not share the fear of other officials that existing facilities must be doubled in 10 years. He cited the establishment of community colleges and vocational institutes.

Autopsy Scheduled In Death Of Seaman

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—An autopsy will be performed today to determine how Oliver Craig Jr. died. His body was found in the hold of the freighter Ernest R. Johnson at the American Shipbuilding Co. docks.

It's believed he died about two weeks ago from a fall while the ship was being unloaded of winter grain in Detroit. The ship was towed here to be overhauled.

An inspector checking the freighter discovered the body.

More Funds Asked

WASHINGTON (AP)—Brig. Gen. W. W. Lapsley has told the Senate Appropriations Subcommittee that Army engineers could economically use an additional $296,000 to complete planning and initial construction for Ohio's Mahoning River flood control and water supply project. Lapsley, Ohio River division engineer, said the budget recommends $229,000 for the project, on the river's west branch near Warren.

Ohio Psychiatrist Disbelieves Theory About Sex Offenders

CINCINNATI (AP) — A University of Cincinnati psychiatrist says he believes obscene literature does not create sex offenders.

Dr. James L. Titchener said Thursday the comic strip "Little Orphan Annie" might be as much of a threat to society as what is called smut.

Titchener, assistant professor of psychiatry at the UC Medical College, said in a panel discussion at the university:

"In my experience and in the experience of most of us, obscene literature is not much of a problem."

He said that personality problems crop up from a long history of relationships with other people, "not because someone picked up a magazine and read it."

Titchener said that instead of anti-smut drives, it would be wiser to "devote energies to helping young people develop comfortable attitudes toward their sexuality."

He said there are other impulses that are potentially harmful, and that he found "extreme feelings of aggression and violence" in the Little Orphan Annie comic strip.

"It scares me sometimes," he said. "Last week, Orphan Annie was inciting people not to pay income taxes."

Dr. Richard M. Emerson, UC sociologist, and Atty. John A. Lloyd Jr., supported the psychiatrist's view.

Emerson said: "The notion of obscenity does not reside in printed pages, but in codes of evaluation."

Lloyd said of attempts at censorship: "If we expect man's imagination to express itself to the fullest, we must take the good with the bad . . . .

"There was a time when 'Huckleberry Finn' was considered obscene. We're heading back in that direction."

Calcutta Firemen Quell Extensive Grass Fires

The first blaze burned 12 acres on the property of Raymond Rambo of Hoppels Corners at 1:30 p. m. Twenty men responded to the call. The cause of the blaze is not known, firemen said.

About a half an acre near the home of Harley Conley of Oakmont burned last night at 7:05. Fifteen men responded to this call.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Springtime Offers Slimming Opportunity

Spring is just a day away. If you're young in heart you'll refuse to settle for a dumpy figure Spring, there's a word that won't stay on the ground—everything is fresh and green and alive.

Ida Jean Kain

So come on, no more dilly - dallying, let's stretch and bend and feel younger than springtime.

Put your hands at either side of your waist, thumbs back, fore fingers encircling the waist area Now spread fingers of both hands apart so as to span the abdomen at each side.

Press fingers tightly as you pull up and in. See the difference? When the side - front oblique muscles are flabby, the middle measurement bulks out. When these muscles are toned and tightened a young line is restored.

THE FIRST exercise, all taken from the same starting position, can be a three - in - one routine.

Position: Lie on back on floor, left knee bent, sole of foot on floor, right leg straight down.

Movement: First, stretch. Stretch right arm back on floor and pull from tip to toe along right side. Repeat three times, keeping small of back smack against floor.

Two, raise right leg about half way up, left knee still bent, and lower right leg to floor, slowly counting ten as you lower. This holding is toning. Repeat 4 to 6 times, always keeping back flat against floor. Three, touch left knee point to floor at side of extended right leg.

Make the waist muscles take this action. Repeat three times. Change position of legs and do this 1-2-3-routine with left leg, this time keeping right knee flexed.

Follow through with a standing stretch feet slightly apart, Raise both arms overhead, clasp hands together, palms up and pull, centering the upstretch through the middle measurement.

INCREASE the stretch by adding a side bend. Clasp left wrist with the right hand and slowly bend to the right side, pulling on left arm. Repeat three times, change position of arms and bend to the opposite side.

As you drift off to sleep tonight, make a mental picture of yourself easing into streamliners — stretching, bending and slimming! Go to sleep dreaming of a willow-y waist and lissome figure. Younger than springtime — that's you!

Send a long stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet "For A Slimmer Midriff." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Request, Not Command, Will Get Results

Most parents spend far too much time and effort getting the young child to accept restraint. Consequently they don't try nearly hard enough to win him to do what they wish. Few parents endeavor to prevail on the youngster by patient, persuasive means to cooperate in toilet training, in undressing and dressing himself, taking care of his things, waiting on himself and doing hundreds of things he himself is able to do.

By Garry Meyers

The time you spend in these directions, approving the child and celebrating his successes, is well spent. The secret is in helping to make pleasant the many things you want him to do.

These include not only routine matters—like putting his toys away at bedtime and going to bed happily—but also hundreds of irregular things you request him to do.

OF COURSE, there are also some things he must not do. There are times when you must say "no," or "don't."

How you will win the tot to do what you request him to do—like handing you the comb, opening or closing the door, bringing something from another room—depends chiefly on how patient and persuasive you are. Be ever ready to explain why, however long it takes, and, as a rule, provide allurements.

In these directions you succeed best when you don't consider your request a command. Let the child choose whether to accede to your request or not. Assume he will. Be careful not to request what you feel he will not choose to do. If you have guessed wrong in your request, don't say, "you must," Try never to say "you must," after you have said "will you please?"

AFTER YOUR child has discovered that your request is always a request and not a command, he will almost always honor this request cheerfully.

In some routine instances, like going to bed, you may find it futile to say "please" to the tot two, three or four. You should inform him he is going and carry him there, if necessary.

Nor would you, as a rule, ask him to stay there if he were bent on leaving the bed. You should tell him once to stay and apply the necessary force to keep him there. Also, at most other times, when you say "no" or "don't," you will expect him to honor the command without your saying "please" or explaining why.

My bulletin, "Stubbornness," may be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

How Can I? ? ?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I sponge woolen materials?

A. It is wise to sponge material before it becomes spotted by rain Lay the material first on a table and place over it a wet sheet wrung out so it will not drip. Start at one end and roll material and sheet together and let stand for about twelve hours. Then press on the wrong side of the material with a fairly hot iron, but don't scorch.

Q. How can I relieve a sick headache?

A. The juice of half a lemon in a cup of black coffee without sugar and cream is an excellent remedy for a sick headache.

Q. How can I remove banana stains?

A. Banana stains can be removed by covering the spots with a liberal paste of fuller's earth and water.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Springtime Offers Slimming Opportunity

Spring is just a day away. If you're young in heart you'll refuse to settle for a dumpy figure Spring, there's a word that won't stay on the ground—everything is fresh and green and alive.

Ida Jean Kain

So come on, no more dilly - dallying, let's stretch and bend and feel younger than springtime.

Put your hands at either side of your waist, thumbs back, fore fingers encircling the waist area Now spread fingers of both hands apart so as to span the abdomen at each side.

Press fingers tightly as you pull up and in. See the difference? When the side - front oblique muscles are flabby, the middle measurement bulks out. When these muscles are toned and tightened a young line is restored.

THE FIRST exercise, all taken from the same starting position, can be a three - in - one routine.

Position: Lie on back on floor, left knee bent, sole of foot on floor, right leg straight down.

Movement: First, stretch. Stretch right arm back on floor and pull from tip to toe along right side. Repeat three times, keeping small of back smack against floor.

Two, raise right leg about half way up, left knee still bent, and lower right leg to floor, slowly counting ten as you lower. This holding is toning. Repeat 4 to 6 times, always keeping back flat against floor. Three, touch left knee point to floor at side of extended right leg.

Make the waist muscles take this action. Repeat three times. Change position of legs and do this 1-2-3-routine with left leg, this time keeping right knee flexed.

Follow through with a standing stretch feet slightly apart, Raise both arms overhead, clasp hands together, palms up and pull, centering the upstretch through the middle measurement.

INCREASE the stretch by adding a side bend. Clasp left wrist with the right hand and slowly bend to the right side, pulling on left arm. Repeat three times, change position of arms and bend to the opposite side.

As you drift off to sleep tonight, make a mental picture of yourself easing into streamliners — stretching, bending and slimming! Go to sleep dreaming of a willow-y waist and lissome figure. Younger than springtime — that's you!

Send a long stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet "For A Slimmer Midriff." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Request, Not Command, Will Get Results

Most parents spend far too much time and effort getting the young child to accept restraint. Consequently they don't try nearly hard enough to win him to do what they wish. Few parents endeavor to prevail on the youngster by patient, persuasive means to cooperate in toilet training, in undressing and dressing himself, taking care of his things, waiting on himself and doing hundreds of things he himself is able to do.

By Garry Meyers

The time you spend in these directions, approving the child and celebrating his successes, is well spent. The secret is in helping to make pleasant the many things you want him to do.

These include not only routine matters—like putting his toys away at bedtime and going to bed happily—but also hundreds of irregular things you request him to do.

OF COURSE, there are also some things he must not do. There are times when you must say "no," or "don't."

How you will win the tot to do what you request him to do—like handing you the comb, opening or closing the door, bringing something from another room—depends chiefly on how patient and persuasive you are. Be ever ready to explain why, however long it takes, and, as a rule, provide allurements.

In these directions you succeed best when you don't consider your request a command. Let the child choose whether to accede to your request or not. Assume he will. Be careful not to request what you feel he will not choose to do. If you have guessed wrong in your request, don't say, "you must," Try never to say "you must," after you have said "will you please?"

AFTER YOUR child has discovered that your request is always a request and not a command, he will almost always honor this request cheerfully.

In some routine instances, like going to bed, you may find it futile to say "please" to the tot two, three or four. You should inform him he is going and carry him there, if necessary.

Nor would you, as a rule, ask him to stay there if he were bent on leaving the bed. You should tell him once to stay and apply the necessary force to keep him there. Also, at most other times, when you say "no" or "don't," you will expect him to honor the command without your saying "please" or explaining why.

My bulletin, "Stubbornness," may be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

How Can I? ? ?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I sponge woolen materials?

A. It is wise to sponge material before it becomes spotted by rain Lay the material first on a table and place over it a wet sheet wrung out so it will not drip. Start at one end and roll material and sheet together and let stand for about twelve hours. Then press on the wrong side of the material with a fairly hot iron, but don't scorch.

Q. How can I relieve a sick headache?

A. The juice of half a lemon in a cup of black coffee without sugar and cream is an excellent remedy for a sick headache.

Q. How can I remove banana stains?

A. Banana stains can be removed by covering the spots with a liberal paste of fuller's earth and water.

Reduced Interest

THETFORD MINES, Que. (AP) — The Civic Council adopted a resolution urging the Bank of Canada to lower interest rates on loans, so that municipalities could undertake public works projects at lower cost.

LET'S FACE IT

These are pretty badly run down properties and they need plenty of work done to make them habitibal, but look at the prices.

A 5 room beat up home at 619 MONROE ST. that hasn't seen paint in several years. A few windows and doors are missing, and the plumbing isn't. What can you expect for $5,000.00 or less?

There is no reason that we know of that the home at 313 THOMPSON AVE. hasn't been sold, but everybody knows that its for sale, and has been for 2 years. It's a 4 bedroom home with carpet, new gas furnace, new roof, new open fireplace, and generally in fair condition. We couldn't get the $14,000.00 we originally asked, and we don't know why, but the circumstances, time and the conditions have brought the price to a new low that you will regret the rest of your life if you fail to call and see it now.

This home on IDAHO AVE. is liveable and comfortable, but only half finished. However, any good handy man and a keg of nails, and a little ambition can make it a good home. The location is good and the possibilities are great. The price is $6600.00

903 BANK ST. This home has a good solid foundation, good convenient location, and good possibilities. Price $6000.00

KNOWLES LANE—CHESTER $4800.00 will buy the lot and the frame work for a good home. There are lots of odd jobs to be done, and the song "I've Got a Wife at Home", will fit the number of jobs that this home needs, but don't forget to keep an eye on the $10,000.00 home that you'll have after the work is done.

LET'S FACE IT

These are pretty badly run down properties and they need plenty of work done to make them habitibal, but look at the prices.

A 5 room beat up home at 619 MONROE ST. that hasn't seen paint in several years. A few windows and doors are missing, and the plumbing isn't. What can you expect for $5,000.00 or less?

There is no reason that we know of that the home at 313 THOMPSON AVE. hasn't been sold, but everybody knows that its for sale, and has been for 2 years. It's a 4 bedroom home with carpet, new gas furnace, new roof, new open fireplace, and generally in fair condition. We couldn't get the $14,000.00 we originally asked, and we don't know why, but the circumstances, time and the conditions have brought the price to a new low that you will regret the rest of your life if you fail to call and see it now.

This home on IDAHO AVE. is liveable and comfortable, but only half finished. However, any good handy man and a keg of nails, and a little ambition can make it a good home. The location is good and the possibilities are great. The price is $6600.00

903 BANK ST. This home has a good solid foundation, good convenient location, and good possibilities. Price $8000.00

KNOWLES LANE—CHESTER $4800.00 will buy the lot and the frame work for a good home. There are lots of odd jobs to be done, and the song "I've Got a Wife at Home", will fit the number of jobs that this home needs, but don't forget to keep an eye on the $10,000.00 home that you'll have after the work is done.

Man Gets Jail In Store Theft

Clerks Nab Suspect With Stolen Hosiery

Wilbert (Bill) Fisher, an East Liverpool man with no permanent address, was sent to the County Jail today in lieu of a fine of $50 and costs imposed by Municipal Judge George L. Brokaw when he pleaded guilty to theft of 11 pairs of women's nylon hosiery Thursday night at the Montgomery Ward & Co. store on E. 5th St.

Police said Fisher was nabbed about 7:30 by store employes, who recovered the hosiery and then turned over the suspect to Patrolman Paul Carter. An affidavit signed by R. A. Kerrin, store manager, fixed the value of the hose at $6. The retail price is 99 cents a pair.

"I suppose you were going to sell the hosiery to buy whisky," Judge Brokaw said. Fisher did not answer.

Meanwhile, theft of a woman's white gold Wittnauer wristwatch valued at $65 was reported to police Thursday by Robert Schlang, 6 Manor Ln., operator of Robert's Jewelry in the Little Building. Schlang said the watch disappeared from his counter.

About a pint of air is taken in and expelled during an average breath by a person—but, of course it is possible to take in much more with a deep breath.

Succeeds David Schwerha

Midland Rotary Elects Homer Paul New Head

Homer Paul, superintendent of the Standard Oil Co. terminal, was elected to succeed David Schwerha as president of the Midland Rotary Club at a board meeting Thursday evening.

Paul and other new officers, who will be installed July 2, were elected following the regular meeting at Larry's Restaurant.

Other officers include Victor George, vice president; Donald Green, secretary, and Dr. Frank Benedict, re-elected treasurer.

The new president has worked 25 years for ESSO, 10 of which as superintendent at the terminal just east of the borough limits. He worked 10 years at Belle Vernon, Pa., and 5 at Washington, Pa.

He was secretary of the club during 1957-58 and is vice president. Paul, 45, lives with his wife, Mrs. Delores Paul, in Ohio View. They have a son, David, 11, and a daughter, Shelley, 7. He is a charter member of the Ohio View Lutheran Church and is its treasurer.

Atty. Edwin Wallover, program chairman, introduced Chris Gunderson of Beaver Falls, executive secretary of the Upper Beaver Valley United Fund, who spoke on advantages of a combined charities organization over many separate groups.

Thursday, members will meet only for dinner. There will be no program due to the vigil of Holy Thursday, Schwerha said.

Named President By Board.

Trial Of 2 Set In Kidnaping

Chester Case Will Be Heard April 20

Trial was set for April 20 in U. S. Court at Fairmont for two Pennsylvania men, charged with kidnaping a Chester woman last August, at their arraignment Thursday in federal court at Clarksburg.

Judge Harry E. Watkins set the date for Donald E. Lane and Ronald A. Wilson, both of Aliquippa, who are charged with taking Mrs. Dorothy Amedeo, 32, from Chester to near Hookstown and raping her.

Judge Watkins granted a motion by the defendants' attorney that the government be required to furnish the name of any physician who examined Mrs. Amedeo following the alleged crime although U. S. Atty. Albert M. Morgan said the information had been supplied.

Two other defense motions were overruled. They asked for particulars on the exact spot where the alleged crime occurred and the name and address of every person present at the time.

An accomplice, Wilbur Smith, also of Aliquippa, was indicted for the crime but is serving a term in the Allegheny County Workhouse at Pittsburgh for contributing to the delinquency of a minor. Judge Watkins has issued a writ of habeas corpus to have Smith returned to Clarksburg and court officials said Pennsylvania authorities indicated they will not contest the move.

The song, "Hail To The Chief," which is played at public affairs upon the entrance of the President of the United States, has its origin in an old Scottish boating song.

Visiting Sick Host, 2 Say In Gang Meeting

NEW YORK (AP) — Two Rochester, N.Y. brothers are telling the State Investigation Commission the same story told by others —that they were only visiting a sick host at the time a gangland convention was held at Joseph Barbara's Apalachin, N.Y., mansion.

The testimony may not open jail doors for Frank Valenti, 47, and Costenze Valenti, 32.

Commission Chairman Jacob Grumet said the brothers "were very well rehearsed" for their appearance at a public hearing Thursday.

Grumet called Frank's testimony "inherently incredible" and "unequivocally unworthy of belief."

Costenze repeated much that his brother had said. He said the auto trip to Apalachin, N.Y., was meant as a social call.

The Valentis and five other men have been in jail here since August for refusing to answer questions before the commission. They were jailed indefinitely for contempt on State Supreme Court orders.

The brothers announced Tuesday they were ready to talk.

The commission and other agencies have been trying for a long time to get the real story on the meeting of 60-odd underworld figures and associates held Nov. 14, 1957, at the mansion of the ailing Barbara.

U.S. Seeks Long-Term Loans In Bid To Ease Debt Problems

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Treasury is making a bold effort to ease its mounting debt problems by trying to borrow more money for a longer period of time.

The department announced late Thursday it will offer lenders a 10-year bond as part of a 4-billion-dollar cash borrowing next week. The bond will pay 4 per cent interest and the Treasury hopes to sell 500 million dollars worth.

In addition, officials disclosed they will try to borrow 1½ billion dollars through the sale of 4 per cent notes which will mature in 4 years, 1½ months.

These moves surprised many money market observers. There had been much advance guessing that none of the money the Treasury needs—mostly to replace maturing loans—would be borrowed for more than three years.

Half of the big cash financing will involve loans running more than four years.

The remaining two billions will be borrowed through an auction of 8½ month bills—the first to be issued as part of a new program designed to ease the market impact of the government's massive borrowing operations.

Lenders have been shying away from Treasury bonds since last June because of fear of rising interest rates and possible inflation. However, the Treasury has decided there is demand for a 10-year bond despite the market's behavior.

Palestine Sets Repeat Red Cross Solicitation

EAST PALESTINE — A repeat canvass of city homes for the Red Cross campaign will be held tonight, after a solicitation Thursday was affected by a depletion of Campfire Girl volunteers.

Robert Smith, city chairman said last night's solicitation netted only $175 and reported less than a third of the Campfire Girls slated to canvass actually visited homes.

Smith pointed out many of the girls were students at Captain Taggart School and presented a program at the Parent-Teacher Organization meeting last night.

Man Gets Jail In Store Theft

Clerks Nab Suspect With Stolen Hosiery

Wilbert (Bill) Fisher, an East Liverpool man with no permanent address, was sent to the County Jail today in lieu of a fine of $50 and costs imposed by Municipal Judge George L. Brokaw when he pleaded guilty to theft of 11 pairs of women's nylon hosiery Thursday night at the Montgomery Ward & Co. store on E. 5th St.

Police said Fisher was nabbed about 7:30 by store employes, who recovered the hosiery and then turned over the suspect to Patrolman Paul Carter. An affidavit signed by R. A. Kerrin, store manager, fixed the value of the hose at $6. The retail price is 99 cents a pair.

"I suppose you were going to sell the hosiery to buy whisky," Judge Brokaw said. Fisher did not answer.

Meanwhile, theft of a woman's white gold Wittnauer wristwatch valued at $65 was reported to police Thursday by Robert Schlang, 6 Manor Ln., operator of Robert's Jewelry in the Little Building. Schlang said the watch disappeared from his counter.

About a pint of air is taken in and expelled during an average breath by a person—but, of course it is possible to take in much more with a deep breath.

Succeeds David Schwerha

Midland Rotary Elects Homer Paul New Head

Homer Paul, superintendent of the Standard Oil Co. terminal, was elected to succeed David Schwerha as president of the Midland Rotary Club at a board meeting Thursday evening.

Paul and other new officers, who will be installed July 2, were elected following the regular meeting at Larry's Restaurant.

Other officers include Victor George, vice president; Donald Green, secretary, and Dr. Frank Benedict, re-elected treasurer.

The new president has worked 25 years for ESSO, 10 of which as superintendent at the terminal just east of the borough limits. He worked 10 years at Belle Vernon, Pa., and 5 at Washington, Pa.

He was secretary of the club during 1957-58 and is vice president. Paul, 45, lives with his wife, Mrs. Delores Paul, in Ohio View. They have a son, David, 11, and a daughter, Shelley, 7. He is a charter member of the Ohio View Lutheran Church and is its treasurer.

Atty. Edwin Wallover, program chairman, introduced Chris Gunderson of Beaver Falls, executive secretary of the Upper Beaver Valley United Fund, who spoke on advantages of a combined charities organization over many separate groups.

Thursday, members will meet only for dinner. There will be no program due to the vigil of Holy Thursday, Schwerha said.

Trial Of 2 Set In Kidnaping

Chester Case Will Be Heard April 20

Trial was set for April 20 in U. S. Court at Fairmont for two Pennsylvania men, charged with kidnaping a Chester woman last August, at their arraignment Thursday in federal court at Clarksburg.

Judge Harry E. Watkins set the date for Donald E. Lane and Ronald A. Wilson, both of Aliquippa, who are charged with taking Mrs. Dorothy Amedeo, 32, from Chester to near Hookstown and raping her.

Judge Watkins granted a motion by the defendants' attorney that the government be required to furnish the name of any physician who examined Mrs. Amedeo following the alleged crime although U. S. Atty. Albert M. Morgan said the information had been supplied.

Two other defense motions were overruled. They asked for particulars on the exact spot where the alleged crime occurred and the name and address of every person present at the time.

An accomplice, Wilbur Smith, also of Aliquippa, was indicted for the crime but is serving a term in the Allegheny County Workhouse at Pittsburgh for contributing to the delinquency of a minor. Judge Watkins has issued a writ of habeas corpus to have Smith returned to Clarksburg and court officials said Pennsylvania authorities indicated they will not contest the move.

The song, "Hail To The Chief," which is played at public affairs upon the entrance of the President of the United States, has its origin in an old Scottish boating song.
